HOW PARIS ESCAPED.

German Plot to Snare the French Bankers Foiled.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Among the causes given for the German armies having turned aside from Paris when apparently within striking distance is the following, just become public knowledge, which obtains credence among many well-informed financial people. The German plan included the surprise and capture of Paris. The capital was to be taken before it had been thought necessary to remove the milliards of money and securities from the Bank of France and other banks. The list of all big bankers had been prepared and they were all to be made prisoners and held to ransom. President Poincare and his Ministers were also to be seized. As the Bank of France and other banks left Paris in good time before the Germans could arrive, the scheme miscarried and it was no longer worth while to invest Paris before the French armies had been defeated.

RED CROSS UNIT REACHES BERLIN.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct. 12 (by wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—The American Red Cross unit, which is to serve among German and Austrian wounded, has arrived here. The coming of the Americans has been gratefully acknowledged by the government. Two groups will go to Vienna and two other groups to Breslau when they will proceed to the field hospitals.

A Dutch paper and Sir Sven Anders Hedin, the Swedish geographer, are quoted as stating that the damage caused by the bombardment of Antwerp was insignificent. They say that the museums and churches were not harmed.

THE GREAT WAR.

THE SITUATION TO DATE. Trustworthy advices indicate that the Russians have abandoned the siege of Przemysl and have been forced to retreat by the German allies.

"On the whole, the situation is favorable," according to an official statement from Berlin.

A dense fog is reported to have made impossible the use of artillery yesterday in the battle in Northern France.

Cavalry engagements continue on the left wing, according to the French official statement issued in Paris yesterday afternoon.

The allies claimed to have made no advances yesterday, except at the center, on the right bank of the Aisne, below Soissons.

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

It is not easy to spell the name and more difficult still for an American to pronounce it, but nevertheless the Russians have abandoned the siege of Przemysl. This is the town they have boasted so many times of having surrounded and which equally many times has been reported to have fallen into the hands of the Slavs, as If Rudin, the most loquacious of all Turgenieff's Russians had been writing the Petrograd dispatches.

As for the situation elsewhere in the war zone, the Associated Press says the censor has "twisted the tourniquet" on all sources of information; which is the same as saying the censor has put on the screws.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 12.—An official communication issued today announces that on October 11 the Russian armored cruiser Pallada was torpedoed in the Baltic Sea by a German submarine and sank with all her crew.

The text of the communication, which was made public by the marine department, follows:

"On October 10 German submarines were sighted in the Baltic Sea. The same day, early in the morning, the submarines attacked the cruiser Admiral Makarov, which had stopped to search a suspected bark flying the commercial flag of The Netherlands.

"A submarine of the enemy launched several torpedoes which luckily missed the mark and caused no damage whatsoever to the cruiser.

"On October 11 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the submarines of the enemy again attacked our cruisers Bayan and Pallada, which were patrolling the Baltic.

"Although the cruisers opened a very strong fire, one of the submarines succeeded in launching torpedoes against the Pallada, whereupon an explosion resulted, and the cruiser sank with all her crew."

The armored cruiser Pallada carried a complement of 568 men. She measured 443 feet and had a displacement of 7775 tons. Her speed was 22 knots. With the Admiral Makarov and the Bayan she constituted a group of cruisers known as the "Bayan class."

The Pallada carried two eight-inch guns; eight six-inch guns; twenty-two 12-pounders, and four 3-pounders in addition to torpedo tubes.

RUSS RETREAT FROM PRZEMYSL.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12, 9:25 p.m.—The finger of the censor having twisted the tourniquet on all sources of news from Belgium, just now perhaps the most important scene of the fighting in the great war, the British people were forced to content themselves today with the official communication from Paris and even a close analysis of this showed no marked change in the situation favoring either side.

REVERSAL OF FORM.

From the east came tidings of a decided reversal in form, the dispatches both from Vienna and Petrograd indicating that the Austrian army at Przemsyl, so often reported surrounded, hopelessly outclassed and on the verge of surrender, had turned on the Russians with the aid of reinforcements, and forced them to retreat.

The first news of this claim emanated during the morning from the Austrian capital. It was followed later in the day by what purports to be a Petrograd admission that the Russians had abandoned the siege of Przemysl for strategical reasons, with the object of drawing up a new line against the Austro-German army in other points in Galicia.

Whatever may be the truth of the situation, the Russians have been claiming an unbroken series of victories in their sweep through Galicia, and the coincidence of today's dispatches, supplemented as they were by more circumstantial accounts from Vienna of a vigorous Austro-German offensive, seemed to presage important news.

CAVALRY OF THE ALLIES MEETS THE GERMANS.

Efforts to Cut Through or Get Around the Enemy's Lines Frustrated—Some Clever Work by the French Soldiers—Trench Duty in the Siege Operations is Now Thoroughly Organized.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

FROM THE BATTLE FRONT (via Paris) Oct. 12, 11:46 p.m.—The battlefield northwest of Lille was the point of greatest interest in today's continuation of the great conflict which already has lasted twenty-nine days. The cavalry of both armies has swept about the country for days, seeking to go through or around the opposing lines, and everywhere has encountered the forces of the enemy.

A successful ruse carried out by a detachment of French infantry in the vicinity of Lens is related in the orders of the day. Having been ordered to hold a position, the small squad did so throughout the day, but at dusk the detachment was compelled to retire before an overwhelming force of Germans. Reaching a country estate, the French commander placed a number of men in the last outlying houses with orders to remain until they heard the bugle call. The rest of the party took up a position a quarter of a mile further on in the open country.

The Germans continued their pursuit without noticing the French riflemen in the houses. A buzle sounded and fire was opened both on the front and on the rear of the German force, which, after losing many men, retreated. The French reoccupied their original position and saved the allies' line from being pressed. A French non-commissioned officer who had seventy-two men who had been forgotten at an intrenched post near Roye saw 7000 Germans advancing; but the Frenchmen did not budge until their ammunition was spent. Then the officer ordered his men to retire through a wood and he rejoined his regiment with twenty of his command. He was promoted on the field to be a lieutenant, as his stand had permitted a reinforcement of the allied line at a critical moment.

The weather, except for some chilly nights, is ideal for military operations. Even the men occupying exposed trenches have recovered from the damp spell.

Trench duty in the siege operations is now thoroughly organized. The digging continues all the time and the trenches of the opposing armies approach to within 100 yards of each other at some places. The men in these ditches, especially along the line from Rheims to the Meuse, have been inactive often during the past few days and voices often ring out from the shelters calling upon one another to come out and fight.

Some of the men have become very daring, the life in the burrows with the occasional turn at firing being so monotonous that they go out in search of adventure. One party of three Algerians left their shelter and proceeded to a house which was still standing near the lines. There they found seven Germans. The men fraternized and together searched the cellar. After regaling themselves on wine, the Algerians, who had brought rifles with them, ordered the Germans to fall in and took them prisoners.

Just behind the allies' firing line the grape harvest is proceeding as though nothing unusual were occurring. The crop promises to be good.

A chauffeur belonging to the British ordnance corps was promoted today for saving five motor trucks, forming part of an ammunition convoy. The Germans had cut the convoy off from the supply column. After disposing of the contents of the trucks over the field, all of the men of the convoy with the exception of the chauffeur made off. The chauffeur hid himself in the woods beside the road and when the Germans retired he returned to the trucks. He found the wheels of the machines intact and one motor in good order. Hitching the trucks together, he brought them safely into camp alone.

In Alsace the French continue their advance. Frequent skirmishes are being fought between the German rear guard and the French advance guard. Snow has fallen in high hills in this region, making operations difficult.

GERMANS STRENGTHEN POSITION IN FRANCE.

BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF THE "ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL."

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—The success of the Belgian army in reaching Ostend gives them a temporary respite in which to reform their regiments. By this forced march of sixty miles they escaped from a dangerous situation due to the flank attack of the German forces from Termonde and the river Lys. Indeed, but for the assistance of the British reinforcements sent out from Ostend it is doubtful whether the Belgians would have succeeded in escaping capture.

The internment of 2000 British in Holland is a very minor matter in comparison with the large numbers that form the armies in the field. It is hard to reconcile this fact, though, with the statement that the British were the first troops to leave Antwerp. Either they wandered into Holland through ignorance of the country or else they must have taken up a position to act as rear guard to protect the Belgian retreat and were cut off due to lingering too long behind the main force.

Great Britain is now paying the penalty for putting her trust in the fallacious but seductive idea that numbers mean military strength. She can get the numbers and has enrolled an army of 1,200,000, about one-

Enormous Quantities of Provisions of All Kinds Captured in Antwerp—Berlin Reports that, on the Whole, the Situation is Favorable—Violent Cavalry Charges Characterize the Fighting in France.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 13, 2:40 a.m.—The Belgian town of Ghent is now occupied by the Germans, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company. Uhlans have arrived at Selzaete, a short distance from Ghent, and the commander announced that 6000 soldiers must be quartered in the village.

LONDON, Oct. 13, 4:30 a.m.—The forty-four lists of losses in the Prussian army, which have been published, contain a total of 211,000 killed, wounded and missing, according to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam. The lists do not include losses among Bavarians, Saxons and Wurtemburgians.

LONDON, Oct. 12, 10:20 p.m.—The following official statement has been received from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company:

"Enormous quantities of provisions of all kinds were captured in Antwerp. The garrison of the northern forts and 13,000 English fled to Holland, where they were disarmed. The English themselves are said to have blown up ten of the Antwerp forts. The Belgians estimate that they lost 20,000 men as prisoners. When the fall of Antwerp was made known to the allies, the French cavalry was withdrawn in the direction of Arras.

"The interrupted artillery engagement in the Woevre region was resumed Oct. 11. At the same time the German right wing and center resumed the bombardment of Rheims.

"On the whole the situation for the Germans is favorable.

"Before his departure for the front, Emperor William promoted Prince Joachim (youngest son of the Emperor) to the rank of cavalry captain.

"It is reported that a Russian fleet of eight large vessels and ten small ships was sighted Saturday near Kustendje (a seaport of Rumania on the Black Sea) steaming in a southerly direction."

PETROGRAD, Oct. 12.—The following official statement was issued tonight by the chief of the General Staff:

"On Oct. 11 fighting began on the left bank of the Vistula in the direction of Ivangorod and Warsaw.

"There is no change at other points on our front.

"Detachments of Russian cavalry having passed through the defiles in the Carpathian mountains, have emerged into the plains of Hungary."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Dispatches received today at the French Embassy said that aside from violent cavalry charges there had been comparatively little fighting today, a dense fog having made the use of artillery impossible.

The message added:

"Notwithstanding this the enemy tried four times violent attacks in the wooded region between Apremont and the Meuse. Several trenches having been occupied by the enemy were re-taken several times by us. In the end we held all our positions. In the north the situation remains the same around Arras and in the region of Bassee, Extaires and Hazebrouck."

STRONG GERMAN COLUMNS NORTHWEST OF LILLE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 13, 4:40 a.m.—A Times correspondent in the north of France, under date of Monday, reports strong German columns of all arms are passing through Bailleul (Department of the Nord, near the Belgian frontier) in the direction of Ypres (in West Flanders, Belgium, thirty miles southwest of Bruges.)

"Around the latter town the Germans have concentrated in very large numbers. German cavalry patrols have been seen in many places within twenty miles of Dunkirk on the Strait of Dover, forty miles northwest of Lille.

"These detachments doubtless are part of a screen thrown out to test the strength of the allies and mask the movements of the German main body. There is no doubt that this main body is retreating to the east and northeast. Apparently they have not reoccupied Lille."

Revoke Exemptions.

RUSSIA CLAIMS GERMANY IS SHORT OF EQUIPMENT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 12.—"The German losses have forced the German government to revoke all exemptions to the military service," says a statement given out tonight by the official press agency. "The German army, being short of equipment, an order has been issued to bury the dead soldiers without uniforms and shoes.

"The Novoe Vremya's correspondent at Fukuchima, Japan, says Japan will prove to Russia the sincerity of her policies.

INTERNES HELD BY THE DUTCH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 13, 3:40 a.m.—Altogether 22,000 British and Belgian soldiers are interned at different points in Holland. About 1500 of these men are British. This statement has been made by the Dutch War Office, according to a dispatch from the Rotterdam correspondent of the Times.

CURZON SEES GRAVE DANGER.

Believes Germans will Build Naval Base at Antwerp.

Says Destruction of England Their Main Object.

More Than One Christmas Before War is Ended.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Earl Curzon of Kedleston, formerly Viceroy of India, in a speech at a war meeting at Harrow school tonight, said the taking of Antwerp was a deliberate part of the German plan.

"Germany has taken Antwerp to fortify it, keep it, to make a great naval port of it, to use it as a great jumping off place for her future attempts upon this country. It is no temporary occupation unless we make it so," he said.

The speaker added that, by fortifying Antwerp, Germany would secure a grip on the whole of Belgium, make Holland play her will and then settle down to her main object—the destruction of this country. He said England was in for a long war, and declared he was shocked that some people should think the hostilities would be over by Christmas.

In his opinion more than one Christmas would roll by before the ending of hostilities. In conclusion he advised his hearers not to begin to divide up the German empire "before you have got hold of it."

TAKING CARE OF THEMSELVES.

BELGIAN REFUGEES PLENTIFULLY SUPPLIED WITH MONEY REACH LONDON.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Seven thousand refugees from the war zone, most of them Belgians, arrived at Folkestone today on board four steamers. Among them were twenty-five wounded Belgiar soldiers, but what attracted the most attention was the apparent wealth of many of the refugees.

Hundreds were well dressed, and plentifully supplied with money, indicating that they had carefully made their plans of departure. Londoners, heretofore accustomed to caring for the penniless, are now seeing the hotels crowded with well-to-do persons who seem amply able to take care of themselves.

ENGLAND NEEDS MORE SOLDIERS.

STANDARD FOR INFANTRY IS LOWERED TO INDUCE ENLISTMENTS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—England's need of more fighting men was emphasized by the announcement tonight that the infantry standard, which had been raised to check the great rush of recruits at the outbreak of the war, has again been lowered. The minimum height for recruits, which formerly was five feet six inches, has been reduced to five feet four inches and chest measurement from thirty-five and one-half inches to thirty-four and one-half inches.

An appeal has been issued in Glasgow for 2000 recruits to replace the naval men interned in Holland.

DE WARR REACHES LONDON.

Resident of the Boer Colony in Tennessee Reported to Have Been Held up by the Germans.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Rev. Epka De Warr, a nephew of Paul Kruger, and at one time Secretary of State for the Transvaal and a general in the Boer army, arrived in London today after two months detention in Westphalia.

Mr. De Warr is a resident of the Boer colony at Mohenward, Tenn., and is an American citizen, but he was held by the Germans as a British subject because he did not have his naturalization papers with him. He appealed to the American embassy in Berlin and was released.

HELP FROM AUSTRALIA.

British War Office to Receive Another Light Horse Brigade—Money for Hospital Purposes.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The official press bureau tonight announced that the British War Office had accepted the offer made by Australia to send over another Light Horse Brigade with a Field Ambulance Corps.

It has been decided that the $285,000 which the women of Canada subscribed and transmitted through the Duchess of Connaught for hospital purposes will be devoted as follows:

The War Office will utilize $125,000 in the purchase of motor ambulance cars, half of the machines to be used in France and the other half in this country, and the remainder of the sum subscribed will be used in equipping a naval hospital with 1000 beds to be known as the Canadian Women's Hospital.

ENGLAND FEARS SPIES.

Lord Beresford Says System Still Exists and Is Grave Menace to the Country Calls for Action.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Notwithstanding the reassuring statement issued by the home office last Thursday to the effect that the spy system established by Germany in this country has been completely broken up, Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, retired, is convinced that it still exists and constitutes a grave menace to the safety of the country.

In a letter published today, Lord Charles calls upon his countrymen "to take strong action with regard to the crowd of alien enemies in our midst." He urges that "meetings be held in every town and that resolutions be adopted protesting against the present state of affairs and sent to the Prime Minister."

"Strengthen Position."

fourth as large as that of France. Her numbers, however, are so far merely a military burden to the state as the value of the newly recruited regiments for field operations is practically nil. During these last two weeks when 200,000 men would have saved Antwerp and would have turned the tide of battle for the allies, Great Britain had to look on while her opponents gained an important victory. Though she had 600,000 men in her training camps, they were of less immediate value to her than 100,000 would have been on the continent.

The loss of 1146 British officers during the first seven weeks of fighting is a serious matter for Great Britain. She has no large reserve of trained men like the continental nations. Yet history shows that to send green troops into the field under inexperienced officers can result only in disaster. After her relatively small army of regulars and experienced volunteers is put into the field Great Britain can do little more on land until her new raised troops can have the months of training required to fit them for service in the field.

The successful German advance to the vicinity of Ostend very appreciably strengthens their position in France. Before this reinforcement they were holding their own in the vicinity of Lille and Ypres. If half of their army from Antwerp can be moved to this field, it will more than offset for a time the reinforcements that the allies can bring to their flank. Besides the reinforcement in men, the moving to the front of the army from Antwerp will add largely to the German artillery strength.

The great development of this war has been the deciding factor in victory furnished by artillery fire, especially by the fire of the heavy guns. Since the siege of Antwerp called for a large number of the heavier field guns the release of these for service at the front will be an important gain for the German cause.

The general line of battle in France is held by both sides without important changes. The Germans have advanced their line to a point ten miles west of Lille between Armentieres and Hazebrouck. At Soissons, the British have made a slight advance, while east of Verdun the French have made further progress. In Lorraine the Germans still hold their positions south of the French border.

The victorious advance of the Germans from Silesia to the Vistula River at Ivangorod, sixty miles south of Warsaw, has broken up the Russian campaign against Austria. Being threatened with an attack from their rear, the Russians had no choice but to abandon the lines at Tarnow and to fall back to a position at which they would unite their forces to check the German invasion. There is little question but that this move involved also the evacuation of Rzeszow, in order to shorten the Russian front and strengthen its position.

The abandonment of the siege of Przemysl, reported from Vienna and Berlin, would indicate a serious weakness on the part of the Russians, forcing them to draw in every available detachment in order to muster sufficient strength to stop the German advance.

GERMAN COUNT PLAYS A RUSE.

POSES AS AN ENGLISH OFFICER TO THE FRENCH AND GETS AWAY WITH IT.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct. 10 (by wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—There has been given out here a story relating how Count Schwerin, a German officer, who speaks English fluently, was successful in obtaining information from the enemy which resulted in the winning of a battle by the Germans.

While reconnoitering beyond the French lines Count Schwerin was discovered by a French officer. He met this predicament by posing as an English officer who had lost his way. To the Frenchman he asked directions to reach the English lines. He explained that he had lost his way and became soaked in a heavy rain. He changed his clothes for those of a dead Prussian officer, he said, and was now fearful about returning to the English lines, believing he had a good chance of being shot as a German.

The French officer hesitated. He remembered that the French already had shot several English officers, mistaking them for Germans whom they resembled. Count Schwerin offered to take the Frenchman back and show him his discarded English uniform. This evidently convinced the officer for he took the Count to his mess and the Frenchman entertained him at dinner.

After dinner the Count was given a horse and a French soldier was detailed to escort him back to the English lines. Once mounted Count Schwerin drove spurs into his horse and made a dash for liberty. He was followed by a storm of revolver bullets. Fortunately his horse stumbled and the bullets sped over his head.

He succeeded in regaining the German lines with certain military information of value.

British Steamer Loaded with Meat Successfully Eludes German Cruiser Off Brazilian Coast.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The British steamer Sussex, which arrived today from Australian and New Zealand ports with 2300 tons of frozen meat, narrowly escaped being captured by a German cruiser which followed her into the harbor at Pernambuco, Brazil, on September 7, according to her officers. The Sussex had been at Pernambuco only a short time when the warship appeared. Her name had been painted out. The Sussex upon leaving port followed a course that carried her between the two lanes regularly used by merchant vessels and for several nights afterward ran with all lights screened to avoid being seen.

FOOD IS HIGH IN AUSTRIA.

People Demand Suspension of the Import Duties.

Say Land Owners are Making Most of Situation.

Fixing of Minimum Price the Only Solution.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VENICE (via Paris) Oct. 12, 6:35 p.m.—Advices from Vienna state that, although the import duties on foodstuffs have been suspended by the Austrian government, prices thus far have shown no sign of decreasing. On the contrary, in some instances, prices are still advancing. The cost of food in Austria is much higher than it is in Germany.

The newspapers openly accuse the Austrian landed proprietors of endeavoring to make the utmost of the war situation, regardless of the needs of the public. Much irritation is exhibited toward the authorities because they did not earlier take measures to prevent an utterly unjustifiable increase in the prices for cattle.

It is now declared that the fixing of maximum prices, coupled with measures compelling the farmers to bring their grain to market instead of hoarding it, means only the prevention of a further advance in the already exorbitant food prices. The women of Vienna are protesting against the practice adopted by the bakers of making bread loaves of only two-thirds the ordinary size. It is also charged that the quality of white bread has deteriorated greatly, evidently because of the admixture of barley and meal.

The manufacturers of Austria are beginning to complain of the shortage of raw material, and are demanding that the government suspend the import duties on raw iron, machinery and tools, and also demand that maximum prices be fixed for timber, petroleum and wool, and a reduction made in the tax on industrial enterprises.

The papers of Vienna publish laudatory obituaries on the late King Charles of Roumania. They express the conviction that Roumania will not be induced by Russian intrigues to engage in a policy of adventure which not only would compromise her vital interests, but lead eventually to her destruction.

THE THIRD ARMY OF THE AUSTRIANS

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VENICE, Oct. 12.—A dispatch from Vienna announces the sudden removal of the commanders of five Austrian army corps and the appointment of Gen. Svetozar Borsevic as the new commander of the third army.

It is officially stated that the commanders retired on their own request because of reasons of health.

The newspapers of Vienna make no comment on the changes.

WHITLOCK REFUSED.

He had a Chance to Get in the Big History, but Slipped the Opportunity to a Spaniard.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—An official report received here describes the efforts of German military authorities at Brussels to send word through the American Legation to the people of Antwerp of the intended bombardment of that city.

German officials asked Minister Whitlock to transmit the notification, which, under article 26 of the Hague convention, an invading force is obliged to give to the people of a city about to be bombarded. Mr. Whitlock refused to present the communication, desiring, in accordance with the strict neutrality of the United States, not to be the bearer of military messages to any of the belligerents. The Germans insisted all other means of communication had failed. The Spanish Minister, who was in conference with Mr. Whitlock when the representations were made, finally decided to send the Spanish naval attache to Antwerp with the notification.

EL CENTRO, Oct. 12.—B. S. Jakah, a Hindu priest from San Francisco, addressed about 250 Hindu laborers in El Centro yesterday. As a leader of the Gadar, the revolutionary party of India, Jakah vehemently denounced the so-called oppression of the British in his native land and exhorted all the Hindus whom he addressed to hasten back to India and revolt against the sovereignty of Great Britain in that country, declaring that such a revolt would take place this winter. He stated that the people of India are restless and desire to be free from British dominion.

SIX BOMBS FALL IN CITY OF PARIS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Oct. 12.—A German aeroplane at 10:15 this morning dropped bombs between two railroad trains that were in the act of pulling out of the Northern Railroad station. The missiles did not explode and were later found imbedded two feet in the earth. The railroad trains were crowded with passengers.

It was announced officially later in the day that a Taube aeroplane had flown over Paris this morning and thrown down six bombs. Five French aviators went up to pursue the German airmen.

One bomb dropped between the two trains at the Northern Railroad station; the others fell in the Rue Pouchet, and on the Boulevard Bessieres, and the Boulevard Clichy.

Another German bomb was dropped today at St. Ouen, a suburb of Paris, but it also did not explode. This missile fell near a paint factory, where there is a gasoline tank of 80,000 gallons.

LONDONERS WARNED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12, 2:37 p.m.—The only notice of the arrival of hostile air craft in the neighborhood of the Thames and the Medway, says the Mayor of Gravesend, in a proclamation posted today, will be the firing of guns from the defenses. The notice adds:

"Persons seeking to gratify their curiosity will do so at their own risk. When firing is heard, the people should immediately take shelter in the lower rooms or cellars of their buildings."

San Jose Police Capture a Man Charged with the Commission of a Murder in San Francisco.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 12.—Local officers this evening arrested Lacarido Rosario, a San Francisco shoemaker, who is charged with the murder of Philomena Rodriguez, at No. 765 Broadway, San Francisco, April 28, 1912. He was found in a local lodging-house. Rosario had registered under the name of Joe Alvaro, but admitted his identity when confronted with a police circular containing his photograph. He talked freely, saying he had lived with Mrs. Rodrigues for six years. Both had been married and both had separated from their spouses. He claimed that he and the woman had dined together. He went to Chinatown to buy some eggs, and, returning about 8:30 o'clock, found Mrs. Rodriguez dead with a razor at her side. The next day he packed his grip and left the city.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS BREAK RECORD.

ORANGES, GRAPES, PLUMS AND PEARS FAR AHEAD OF LAST YEAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—With Sunday's and today's shipments of deciduous fruits, amounting to 256 cars, California has set a new high mark for a seasons' outgoing total. Previous to yesterday, 1913 held the record with 13,332 cars, but now 1914 leads with 13,361. That the year's aggregate may reach 15,000 cars is not at all improbable, for about 2000 cars left last year after this date.

Increased shipments of grapes, pears and plums are responsible for the big gain over last year. More plums were sent out this year than ever before, and the same will probably be true of pears and grapes before the season ends. Pears now lead last year's total by 159½ cars, and the grape shipments thus far are 6073 cars, against a total in 1913 of 6303.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12, 3:10 a.m.—Bodies of men belonging to the naval brigade which took part in the defense of Antwerp arrived at the English Channel port of Deal yesterday and last night, says a dispatch from the Deal correspondent of the Chronicle.

Immense crowds greeted them at the station and as they marched down the street headed by a brass band. The marines, wearing khaki uniforms, appeared to be somewhat weary, but otherwise seemed perfectly fit.

PARIS OFFICIAL REPORT.

War Office Says Center Made Some Progress While Other Wings Hold their Ground.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Oct. 12.—The following official communication was given out in Paris this afternoon:

"First—On our left wing the cavalry engagements continue in the region of La Basse, Estaires and Hazebrouck. Between Arras and the Oise, the enemy endeavored to deliver several attacks, which failed, notably between Lassigny and Roye.

"Second—On the center we have made some progress on the plateaus of the right bank of the Aisne, in front of Soissons, and to the east and southeast of Verdun.

"Third—On our right wing in the Vosges, the enemy delivered an attack in the region of Ban de Sapt to the north of St. Die; they were repulsed.

"The flag captured yesterday belonged to the Sixth Regiment of active Pomeranian infantry, No. 49, of the Twentieth Corps of the Prussian army. The brigade of Marine Fusileers was engaged during all the day of October 9, and the night of October 9-10 against German forces, and repulsed them and at the same time inflicted heavy losses amounting to 200 men killed and fifty prisoners. The French losses amounted to nine killed, thirty-nine wounded and one missing.

"In the Belgian field: According to latest information received here concerning the situation at Antwerp, the Germans occupy up to the present time only the suburbs of this city. The twenty-four forts on the two banks of the River Escaut are resisting with energy. In Russia, the fighting still continues with fierceness along the frontier of East Prussia. To the northwest of Lyck the Germans are retreating, at the same time destroying bridges. In Southern Russia between Ivangorod and Sandomir, there has been artillery fighting with columns of the enemy who have reached the Vistula.

pletely as if they had been buried under the ruined forts. For military reasons, their positions and the area of hostilities in Belgium must remain obscure until the turn of events brings them sharply to the fore again, as was the case when, after the fall of Antwerp, the British public learned for the first time that British forces had assisted the garrison.

Optimistic, as always, the British press, besides contending that Antwerp is of no importance to Germany as a naval base, finds solace in the argument that the release of the allied troops there more than counterbalances the troops which Germany will send from that point into France.

COL. MAUDE'S VIEW.

Col. Frederic M. Maude, a retired army officer and author of several standard military books, writing in today's Evening Standard, says:

"This morning finds the Belgians with five-sixths of the British contingent perfectly ready to renew the fight, with their supplies and reinforcement from over-sea amply safeguarded. After deducting the necessary garrison for Antwerp, losses and so forth, it is exceedingly improbable that the Germans have more than 60,000 men left to follow them, which gives us a clear gain of 40,000 to our left wing, without counting the reinforcements which we shall pick up on the way."

PARIS.

The official communication from Paris indicated that this left wing is stretching daily and nightly farther west and north and will soon reach the coast, if the opposing sides continue throwing out cavalry in an endeavor to outflank or break through.

The allies make no claim to victory in the afternoon statement, which opens with the remark that these cavalry operations continue as far north and west as Hazebrouck, a point hardly more than a good day's walk from Calais.

When the allies claimed yesterday that they had driven the Germans from Aire, London learned for the first time that the Germans had made substantial progress west from Armentieres, which they reached last week. Presumably the allies still hold the ground they claim to have regained, but the Germans are throwing more men westward and are putting up a hard fight. The communication does not make plain which side holds the town nearest the coast.

Nowhere along the battle line do the allies say they have made any progress except in the center, on the right bank of the Aisne below Soissons. At two other points, notably between Arras and the Oise and on the right in Vosges, it is stated the German attacks have been repulsed.

A paragraph near the end of the official communication saying it is understood that the Germans are occupying only the suburbs of Antwerp, while the twenty-four forts along the Scheldt (Escaut) are still holding out, has been received in London with considerable surprise and skepticism in view of the announcement of the British war officials that the city was occupied by the Germans and the unanimous accounts from correspondents to the same effect, together with the Berlin statement that the invaders took virtually complete possession of the city.

Probably stirred by the bomb-dropping exploits of German air craft over Paris, London seems to be prepared for such visitors and official notice has been served on persons living near the mouth of the Thames that they should be ready to seek their cellars at the first sound of firing, as there will be no time to spread news in any more formal way.

Recruiting throughout Great Britain, particularly in London, has been booming, it is stated, since the fall of Antwerp, the talk of the Germans advancing from there to Ostend having seemingly brought the war closer home in the minds of the people.

The whereabouts of the Belgian Queen is still a matter of conjecture and the same vagueness surrounds the King's reported wounds.

RUSSIANS FLEE FROM AUSTRIANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12.—An Amsterdam dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company says a telegram from Vienna states that the Russians in Galicia and north of the Vistula are pursued by Austro-German troops. SPY SYSTEM OF GERMANY.

French Now Know Every Country was Organized.

Most Minute Details Revealed by "Prominent Citizens."

Location of Every Horse and Ton of Hay Known.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The discovery with which the Germans dazzled war fines and requisitions in the they occupied in Belgium and ern France and the precise which they chose the most citizens as hostages has been a prise, but when the details known the facts carried their tions with them.

For instance, the first de of Uhlans that entered the Lille was guided by a man left his job as superintendent important factory in the city join his regiment.

At Soissons, when objection raised to the exacting propo the requisitions, the commander officer called his aide, who to be a well-known business the town who, of course, knew sources thoroughly.

"You see," said the offic ing to the aide, "there's no use ing; we are posted by someone known."

Similar instances were from Belgium showing that of the ground had been studied; the ready money estimated; every and every ton of hay located plans of every bridge drawn France their statistics were so as to show how many bottles might be exacted in each locality. Bismarck knew two years the war of 1870 all that was on in France and among his men was no less a person than present German Chief of Staff Moltke. It is doubtful, however, whether his information was as complete as that possessed by the German General Staff today.

The reports of the siege of Maubeuge have demonstrated how great German mortars could most adeptly be put into action on specially thanks to macadam foundations prepared months, if not years, in advance, in the yards of a German factory. The land on which the fortress was built was purchased by Herr Krupps through a go-between. Rumors caused some talk at the time, but the matter was forgotten until the fall of Maubeuge revealed the circumstances.

The range of every fort was carefully taken in advance and the distance in addition had the locality a complete underground sewer system by which guns could be moved and could inform the enemy to the exact result of every shot. In connection with the deposits of uniforms in the establishments German merchants in Antwerp confirms how thorough was the preparations.

As long ago as 1887 the topography of the region in which the battle of the Marne was fought was carefully studied by a company of officers who presented themselves even to the Mayor's offices and at the police as engineers studying the ground for new railway lines. They got all the information they wanted.

It was recently asserted that the German Foreign Office possesses complete list of all the inhabitants of France whose fortunes made them eligible hostages, as well as a complete list of all those who had made themselves obnoxious by their activity to Germany.

Most of the men employed in the German secret service speak English and frequently pass themselves off as Americans. One of these, the other day, after having been treated to Gen. Manoury's best cigars, but his papers were not in order, was shot forthwith.

It was only when the general situation was ordered that the French began to realize to what extent the country had been organized by the enemy. Then it was remarked that at the end or near the end of the bridges having strategic importance there was a German factory.

Maubeuge shows how clever the Germans were to the forts and the Landsturm. Consider mill is a still graver example of their audacity. This factory, furnishing guncotton to the government, was in the hands of Germans and it has even been declared that the powder that blew up the battleships Iena and Liberte was made in this mill.

It is known that more than one hundred German spies were arrested in Belgium, most of whom have been tried by court-martial. How many have been arrested in France is unknown, the government having succeeded in throwing an impenetrable veil over all these proceedings.

THE COAL LAND LEASING BILL.

ALASKAN MEASURE WILD BE URGED FOR ADOPTION IN BOTH HOUSES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12. — The Alaskan Coal Land Leasing Bill, recommitted to conference by the Senate, was agreed on today and will be urged for adoption in both houses this week. The report was presented in the Senate and went to the calendar.

The conferees struck out the provisions dealing with court hearings or disputes with lessees, substituting the section providing appropriate remedies for breach of conditions specified in the lease. They also extended the right of lease to municipalities.

The report says the Interior Department can proceed under the bill to lease lands that have been tied up for eight years; that no Federal rights are forfeited to Alaskan coal claimants, the status of these claims remaining unchanged, and there is ample authority to make large coal reserves for military purposes.

WINE MEN HOPE FOR A COMPROMISE.

IF NEW WAR TAX PLAN GOES THROUGH CALIFORNIA OUTPUT WILL BE NEARLY DOUBLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—The California wine men are hopeful of reaching a compromise on the war tax which ultimately will prove of great benefit to the industry. The plan is to make the internal revenue tax on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines 51 cents a gallon instead of 2 cents as at present. The Ohio wine men have fought to compel the Californians to pay $1.10 which is the full amount collected as internal revenue tax on brandy. They have reached an agreement to compromise on 55 cents.

The benefit to the California wine industry will be that the California sweet wines will be allowed to enter into the manufacture of cordials giving a market for 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 gallons more of sweet wines. At present the total output is about 20,000,000 gallons.

The proposition includes reducing the proposed war tax from 8 cents to 6 cents per gallon. Incidentally business would be placed under the rigid inspection of the internal revenue department and the inferior sophisticated or "sweet" wines manufactured in the East would be shut out of the market. Other regulations also would be adopted to benefit the wine industry.

OUR CONSULS IN DANGER.

Their Zeal to do Everything They are Expected to Accomplish Exposes Them to Grave Risks.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—In their zeal to protect, not only American citizens, but also those of the allied countries whose interests have been confided to them, the American consular officers in Belgium, and especially in Antwerp, have exposed themselves to great personal danger and personal discomfort during the vast military operations which have marked the German conquest of Brussels and Antwerp.

Advices to the State Department today show that Henry W. Diederich, the American Consul-General at Antwerp, with his family, fled from the city only after the bombardment had actually begun, while Harry Tuck Sherman, Vice-Consul, delayed his departure with his family so long that they suffered terrible privations and personal danger in getting to a place of safety. Even now they are without money and in a very uncomfortable situation.

Hugh Gibson, the young secretary of legation at Brussels, has voluntarily, in the absence of other means of communication, made himself a personal messenger for Brand Whitlock, the American Minister to Belgium, between Antwerp and Brussels and London.

SUPREME COURT IN SESSION.

Justice McReynolds, as the Successor of Judge Lurton, Takes His Seat—Call for Cases Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Supreme Court reconvened today after a four months' recess. Justice McReynolds, as the successor to the late Justice Lurton, takes his seat on the bench and the court adjourned to pay its respects to the President.

All business was postponed until tomorrow to allow the court to transact the ceremonials set for the day.

The call of cases for argument will begin tomorrow, when motions will also be received. No decisions will be announced until next Monday.

Sixty-third Congress.

PRIDE GOETH BEFORE A FALL.

Democrats Make no Attempt to Defend Blunders.

Use Silence to Rush Vote on War Tax Bill.

Adjournment may be Delayed by Cotton Debate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—A general Republican assault on the Democratic administration and its policies with particular reference to the pending war revenue bill was made in the Senate today while Democratic leaders devoted their efforts to smoothing the way for early adjournment of Congress.

Senators Smoot, Burton, Borah and Smith of Michigan vigorously assailed Democratic legislation and Democratic administrative policies, declaring that the $100,000,000 additional taxation now proposed was made necessary by Democratic blunders. They went into detail in their criticisms of Democratic extravagance in appropriations, providing ammunition for the fall campaigns.

Silence on the Democratic side greeted the outburst. Democratic leaders planned to allow the Republicans to have their say, then pass the tax bill and adjourn. Senator Simmons, however, made a brief reply to attacks on the Democratic tariff.

The demand of Southern members of Congress for legislation to relieve the cotton situation loomed up as a possible bar to early adjournment. Senator Overman of North Carolina declined to allow the Senate to agree that the tax bill be voted on Thursday, asserting that something must be done about cotton. It is expected the Southerners will be satisfied if a vote is taken on an amendment to the bill designed to aid the cotton States and that this will be done.

Senator Smoot, opening the Republican attack on the tax bill, declared no additional levy would have been necessary if the protective tariff law had remained in force. He said that the plea that the European war made the tax necessary was a "shameful pretext."

"It would be better," he said, "to issue temporary certificates of indebtedness than to impose taxes with the present condition of the country and with the enormous increase in taxation already imposed upon the people. The administration fears naturally that money could not be borrowed at a creditable rate of interest, as was shown under the Cleveland administration. Hence, they made a pretext of the war in Europe to impose this further great burden of taxation.

"The demand for taxation is on a psychological basis; in other words, it is on an imaginary basis, but the money is to be used for a definite purpose, and that is to make up a deficit caused by the disastrous legislation put through by the party in power."

BRECKENRIDGE RETURNS.

Assistant Secretary of the War Completes Task of Carrying Relief to Americans in the War Zone.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Henry S. Breckinridge, Assistant Secretary of War, returned to his duties at the War Department today, having completed his task as head of the relief expedition which visited the warring European countries to care for distressed Americans. He is now engaged in preparing an official report which probably will be transmitted to Congress to inform that body of the disposition made of the relief fund.

Several of the military officers attached to the expedition had opportunities to watch European mobilization, conducted on a scale greater than the world has ever before known. The information thus acquired is regarded as strictly confidential, but is expected to be of great value to the General Staff in the perfection of plans for the speedy creation of a defensive army in the United States if ever required.

Di Cellere Meets President.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Marchi di Cellere, the new Italian Ambassador, presented his credentials to President Wilson today. He was introduced by Secretary Bryan. Short addresses dwelling on the good relations between Italy and the United States were exchanged by the President and the Ambassador.

Statistical.

CALIFORNIA STILL FIRST IN PRODUCTION OF GOLD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Gold production in the United States in 1913 amounted to 4,299,784 fine ounces, valued at $88,884,400, according to statistics compiled by the Geological Survey and the Mint Bureau. The silver production amounted to 66,801,500 fine ounces, valued at $40,248,100. The gold production was $4,500,000 less than in 1912, and silver nearly 3,500,000 ounces less for the same period.

California was first in gold production in 979,174 ounces; Colorado second with 876,057 ounces, and Alaska third with 735,364 ounces. Nevada led in silver production with 15,657,400 ounces; Montana was second with 12,540,000 ounces, and Utah third, with 11,282,300 ounces.

PENSION PAYMENTS SHOW DECREASE.

BELIEVED SUMMIT OF EXPENSES REACHED AND DECREASE LOOKED FOR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Uncle Sam paid out a total of $172,417,546 in pensions in the fiscal year ended June 30, last, according to Commissioner of Pensions Saltzgaber in his annual report made public today. This compares with $174,171,660 in 1913, which was the largest amount ever paid out. The Commissioner points out, however, that the summit in expenses has been reached and a decrease in the amount may be expected to continue. The grand total of expenditures for pensions from 1866 up to and including 1914, was $4,633,511,926.

The total number of pensioners of all classes on the rolls was 785,229 against 820,272 in 1913. The number of Civil War pensioners was 728,129 compared with 776,439 in 1913. The largest number ever on the rolls was in 1902, when there were 999,466.

INDUSTRIAL CHIEF FOR NAVY YARD.

SECRETARY DANIELS INAUGURATES AN EXPERIMENT IN NEW YORK CITY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Secretary Daniels began today an experiment in navy yard work by designating Capt. George E. Burd as "industrial manager" of the New York yard. Rear-Admiral Usher will remain commandant of the yard with supreme authority, but will be relieved of the harassing details of the management of the 5000 workmen. He will devote himself to purely naval questions.

Captain Burd is an engineering officer and has for some time been in charge of the machine shop in the New York yard. If the experiment proves successful construction officers will be appointed for the other yards.

UNCLE SAM TO SET PACE.

May be First to Build Great Dreadnought with Advantageous System of Electric Propulsion.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The proposition of the New York navy yard to make the United States navy a pioneer in the development of the battleship, by being the first to build a great dreadnought with a system of electric propulsion, is receiving strong support from naval engineers.

Secretary Daniels looks on the proposition with favor and is keeping the way open for the innovation by having the work of construction of the battleship which the New York navy yard is about to build so conducted as to admit of the adoption of the "electric drive" if it shall finally be determined to install that system of propulsion.

First developed and tried by the navy on the big 15,000-ton collier Jupiter, the electric drive has shown many advantages.

CELEBRATION IN MANILA.

Fifty Thousand Filipinos Demonstrate Satisfaction With Gov.-Gen. Harrison.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—A cablegram from Manila was read in the House today by Manual Quezon, Commissioner from the islands, during the debate on the pending Philippine bill, saying that more than 50,000 Filipinos of every walk of life and irrespective of politics, marched yesterday to Malcanan Palace to celebrate the first anniversary of the arrival of Gov.-Gen. Harrison.

Mr. Harrison was presented with an album containing a resolution asking President Wilson to retain him as Governor-General until the Philippine policy of the administration is carried out.

DRUG HOUSES PROTEST.

San Bernardino Firms Denounce the Unjust Democratic War Tax on Their Business.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—Various drug firms of San Bernardino have wired protests to Senator Perkins against the "cruel and unjust measure," known as the amendment to the war revenue bill "taxing the drug business $7,000,000 a year."

Bryan as a Campaigner.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Secretary Bryan, back from a campaign speaking tour in Ohio and Indiana, was at his desk in the State Department today to stay until Wednesday evening, when he leaves on another and longer tour. He will go to Tennessee, through Missouri into Colorado and as far north as North Dakota.

Announcing

a new policy for an old house

—and that policy is to tell the public the real inside facts about our house. Since 1884 the name PEASE has stood for high quality furniture and house furnishings. But somehow—probably because of the quality of our goods, and the appearance of our store—the gossip went around "Pease is exclusive and high priced." That word "exclusive" served to frighten away thousands of people who naturally would have come here had they known of our fair prices. They thought Pease Quality meant High Prices—that it meant "period furniture" for the well-to-do, but not sturdy quality chairs, mattresses, tables, etc., at fair prices for those with modest incomes. From now on we want you to think of PEASE as the store for the average man and woman—a house where they can come, and regardless of the size of their purchase, be assured of high quality, fair prices, prompt service and liberal credit terms. We want the average man and woman to come in and let us demonstrate that there is no economy in buying poor quality furniture, when PEASE quality costs no more.

FRESNO MOTHER GETS DAUGHTER.

BABE SPIRITED AWAY SIXTEEN YEARS AGO IS RETURNED AS A YOUNG LADY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MERRILL (Wis.) Oct. 12.—After a search covering a period of sixteen years, Mrs. Charles Duplanty will once more see her daughter. Mrs. Duplanty is living in Fresno, and the girl, now 17, will leave Merrill within a few days to join her mother.

Charles Duplanty longs to roam about the country. Sixteen years ago this roving spirit, it is said, cost him his wife's love. They were divorced and Mrs. Duplanty was given custody of the child. In some manner, however, Duplanty spirited the babe away from its mother. Recently Duplanty brought the girl to Tomah, from Northern Michigan. Neighbors, the authorities assert, complained of his treatment of his daughter. She was taken from him and brought to Merrill and the mother notified.

He told callers today that similar treatment would be given to all such representations from the nations at war.

Berlin.

INTERVENTION IN BELGIUM.

Alleged English Plan for it Found by the Germans.

Portfolio Fourteen Years Old is Seized at Brussels.

Antwerp Deserted when the Invaders Entered City.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via wireless to Sayville, L. I.) Oct. 12.—The German headquarters has given out the following report:

"German military authorities, searching the archives of the Belgian General Staff at Brussels, discovered a portfolio, inscribed, 'English intervention in Belgium,' which contains some important documents.

"One of these is a report to the Belgian Minister of War, dated April 10, 1906, which gives the result of detailed negotiations between the chief of the Belgian General Staff and the British military attache at Brussels, Lieut.-Col. Bernardiston. This plan is of English origin and was sanctioned by Lieut.-Gen. Sir James M. Grierson, chief of the British General Staff. It sets forth the strength and formation and designates landing places for an expeditionary force of 100,000 men. Continuing, it gives the details of a plan for the Belgian General Staff to transport food and find quarters for their men in Belgium, and provides for Belgian interpreters. The landing places designated are Dunkirk, Calais and Boulogne.

"Lieut.-Col. Bernardiston is quoted as having remarked that for the present Holland could not be relied on. Another confidential communication declares that the British government after the destruction of the German navy would send supplies and provisions by way of Antwerp. There is also the suggestion from the English military attache that a Belgian system of espionage should be organized in the Prussian Rhineland.

"A second document is a map showing the strategical positions of the French army and demonstrating the existence of a Franco-Belgian agreement, and a third is a report from Baron Greindl, the Belgian Minister at Berlin, to the Belgian Foreign Office, dated December 23, 1911."

GERMANS FOUND ANTWERP DESERTED

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via wireless to Sayville, L. I.) Oct. 12.—The General Staff of the German army announces today that in the beginning a very strong garrison defended Antwerp with great energy, but that after the attack by German infantry and marine divisions, the defenders fled in full rout. Among the Antwerp garrison was one British marine brigade.

The complete collapse of the anticipated Belgian defense of Antwerp was shown by the fact that no military authority could be found with which to treat concerning the surrender of the city. This surrender was finally negotiated with the Burgomaster.

It is impossible to give as yet the number of prisoners taken with Antwerp. Many of the defenders who fled to Holland were interned.

Gen. Von Bessler, who has been decorated with the Order of Merit for his capture of Antwerp has issued a proclamation addressed to the people saying no one would be harmed unless they committeed hostilities on the Germans.

The following information has been given out in Berlin for publication. Reports received here from Vienna set forth that the Russian siege of the Przemysl fortress has been abandoned. Austrian troops have defeated Russian divisions near Lancut. They also routed one division of Cossacks east of Nymaomo.

The Japanese have occupied the Shantun railroad in Shantung Province, China. This is a Chinese state railroad and was built by Germans. China has protested against this action.

"The Politken, a newspaper published in Copenhagen in a recent issue declares that Japan's cause of action, especially in the occupation of German islands in the Pacific is difficult of comprehension as such steps have no military connection with the attack on the German territory of Kiao-Chow.

"The Corriers de la Sera, published at Stampa, Switzerland, reports revolting atrocities on the part of the French Senegales troops.

Germans' Loss Heavy.

HALSTEAD LEAVES LARGE FORTUNE.

RIVERSIDE BROTHER AND SISTER NAMED AS EVENTUAL BENEFICIARIES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—The will of William D. Halsted filed Monday for probate, disposing of property worth $110,000, leaves the homestead and household effects at Lake Mills to his wife. He leaves a gold watch and diamond stud to his two nephews, Deforest H., and Robert M. Dixon, New York. He also leaves $600 to the vestry and rectory of St. Paul's church as trustee for the care of his lot in Forest Home Cemetery.

He recommends that his business in Milwaukee be sold and that the proceeds of the sale be invested in mortgages and that his wife live on the same. On the death of his wife he bequeaths to his two nephews in New York $10,000 and the remainder of the estate to be divided equally between Henry D. Halsted, his brother and Sarah Dixon, his sister, both of Riverside, Cal.

NEWLY-ACQUIRED AMERICAN SHIP SAILS TOMORROW—WILL RISK CAPTURE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The steamship Sacramento, formerly the German steamship Alexandra, the registry of which has been a matter of international dispute, will be given clearance papers tomorrow morning as an American vessel bound for Valparaiso, Chile, it was announced tonight by J. O. Davis, collector of the port of San Francisco.

Clearance, Mr. Davis said, was authorized from Washington. It had been held up while investigation was made as to the genuineness of the transfer to the Northern and Southern Steamship Company, an American corporation.

What will happen to the Sacramento when she gets out on the high seas Mr. Davis could not say. Admitting the existing Hague convention that a vessel changing registry to escape capture is subject to seizure, he said he thought this did not apply to a sale made in good faith and actually carried out.

"The disposition of the Sacramento would be a matter for determination by a prize court," was the ominous comment of A. Carnegie Ross, British Consul-General here, when asked about it recently.

"NEUTRALITY AT ANY COST."

SLOGAN FOR THE HOLLANDERS DEFINED BY VAN RAPPARD.

While Trying to Avoid an Antagonistic Attitude the Netherlands Government is Fully Alive to the Situation with British Soldiers Driven Across the Border.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Chevalier Van Rappard, Minister from the Netherlands to the United States, announced here today that a way probably would be found by his government to send away the British soldiers who were driven across the Belgian frontier into Holland after the fall of Antwerp.

As to how this might be accomplished the Minister did not attempt to say. He added, however, that the detachment of Germans who entered Dutch territory unawares recently were still interned.

How to provide for the refugees now in Holland was an item of much concern to his government, Chevalier Van Rappard said. An enormous item in Holland's expenditures since the beginning of the war is the cost of maintaining her army of 300,000 men, approximately $600,000 a day. This army, he said, will defend Holland's neutrality at any cost.

Although Holland, he said, was trying to avoid an antagonistic attitude, she was alive to the possibilities of the situation, and rigorous steps had been taken to prevent supplies from reaching Germany through Dutch ports or territory. A man who tried to get seven sacks of mail across the border, Chevalier Van Rappard said, was severely punished recently. British warships, he thought, were well within their rights, he said, in stopping Dutch ships at sea and searching them for contraband.

EXPECT ROUMANIA TO ENTER WAR.

RUSSIA BELIEVES DEATH OF KING REMOVES ONLY OBSTACLE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 12 (via London.)—An official statement given out today expresses the belief that the death Saturday of King Charles of Roumania removes an obstacle to the turning of Roumania to the cause of the allies, to which end recent Russian diplomatic efforts were unavailing. It was said further that the sympathies of the Roumanian people, who in the past have shown that they were opposed to the championing of Prussia by the late King, will now assert themselves.

Consequently, according to Russian authorities, Roumania will cease to menace Russia by furnishing provisions and transporting troops for Germany.

BELGIANS IN HOLLAND.

Twenty-six Thousand Soldiers Have Crossed the Line and Surrendered Their Arms to Dutch.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

THE HAGUE (via London) Oct. 12.—A dispatch to the Nieuw Courant from Hulst, Holland, quotes a Belgian officer as saying that the total number of soldiers who have crossed from Belgium into Holland is about 26,000. Belgian troops were fired on last night by German machine guns on the Belgian frontier not far from Koewacgt, Holland.

Many wounded men among the Belgian soldiers who crossed the Dutch line have been taken to Hulst, the Dutch government placing special trains at their disposal. The rest of the Belgians have been taken to Axel for internment.

REACH THE HAGUE.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Sixteen hundred Belgian soldiers, non-commissioned officers and men, arrived at The Hague today, according to a dispatch from that city to Reuter's Telegram Company.

QUEEN IS IN OSTEND.

Former Report of Her Arrival in London Proves Untrue—King Albert Also There.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 12, 2 p.m.—Definite information has been received here that the Queen of the Belgians, notwithstanding the report last week that she had reached England, has not left Ostend for London. In the course of the operations around Antwerp last week King Albert proceeded to St. Nicholas, an important place on the railroad lines between Antwerp and Ghent and beyond the outer range of the Antwerp forts. His Majesty was at St. Nicholas as late as last Thursday morning. His subsequent journey westward was in company with Belgian troops whose withdrawal in that direction had been rendered necessary by the overwhelming forces opposed to them.

ADDS FUEL TO THE FIRE.

CARRANZA CRITICISM OF VILLA IS MADE PUBLIC.

Message Declares Plan to Place Calderon in Presidency Would be Nothing Less Than Predatorism and Does not Represent the Mexican People.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 12.—A telegram was received today from Carranza's press bureau at Mexico City which was considered significant in view of the pending conciliation conference with the Villa faction at Aguascalientes. The bulletin said:

"Villa has published a manifesto inviting the people and the army to unite with him in order to overthrow the person in charge of the executive power, making a proposition to place Mr. Fernando Iglesias Calderon in charge of the Presidency. But Calderon previously had declared that he would not accept such a proposition, as he knows that the division of the north does not represent the Mexican people, being only a group of armed people, and that their designation would now be equivalent to a coup d'etat and predatorism."

Gen. Obregon, one of the delegates at Aguascalientes, has sent a telegram to Col. Francisco Elias Calles, a Constitutionalist leader in Sonora, in which Obregon commented on the disturbed conditions in his native State as follows:

"It is with deep pain that I learn that our dear brothers are destroying one another. I have tried to avoid this disaster for the benefit of our fatherland, both by exposing my life to the danger and with absolute self-sacrifice. All my efforts have been totally fruitless, as there are many in the division of the north who are very bitter, and in some there is an absolute lack of patriotism."

It was Obregon who was arrested and threatened with death by Gen. Villa on his first trip to Chihuahua in the interest of preventing a rebellion of the division of the north. Mexico City papers reaching here tell of a speech at the recent convention of chiefs at the national capital, in which Obregon said that his life had been spared at Chihuahua only "through a miracle."

Optimism and Cooperation

WHAT do you believe concerning these two important principles?

During the coming weeks the German American Trust and Savings Bank will print in this paper a series of official letters or talks commenting on events of unusual public interest. These will show why both Optimism and Cooperation should characterize your business program.

You are reading daily of the enormous losses being suffered by commercial interests all over the world. This loss is, of course, primarily due to the absence of harmony and cooperation between the nations involved. Further, it is only when diplomatic and commercial Cooperation shall be restored that the onward march of world-wide prosperity can be resumed.

Are YOU an Optimist? Have you good reasons for BEING one? We believe a study of the observable facts will convince you that at the present time, more than for several weeks past, there is excellent occasion for a cheerful, hopeful attitude toward future business conditions and prospects.

In fact, we believe thoroughly in the principles both of Optimism and Cooperation; and we do not hesitate to assure you that if you also are a believer in them, you will feel quite at home in the German American Bank. We invite you to call at any convenient time and tell us what you think a bank should practice in these two respects. We are at least confident that we shall be able to show you that we not only believe in these principles, but actually put them into practice in our own Service.

Especially are we equipped to cooperate efficiently with you in every banking requirement of your business. We cordially invite you to give us an opportunity to prove it.

striking street-car motormen into service and rushed 1500 men with artillery to San Angel to reinforce the garrison there. Fighting in the streets between the invaders and the defenders followed.

Xochimilco was completely surrounded by the Zapata men, and reinforcements were also rushed to that place on tram cars which were pressed into service. The authorities in Mexico City proper expressed fear of a general attack, and families living in Coyoacan and Mixcoac began moving into the city.

The feeling of intense suspense continued in the capital until the official statement gave assurances that Mexico City proper would not be attacked.

Delegates representing Zapata presented a land reform scheme at the Aguascalientes conference today and the matter was debated at length.

It is reported that a plan calling for a commission form of government will be introduced and voted upon in the near future. This plan, which would do away with the voting question of the provisional Presidency, calls for a commission of seven members, representing all factions.

MEXICO SEIZES TRAMWAY LINES.

WILL OPERATE THE SYSTEM IN INTEREST OF PUBLIC DESPITE STRIKE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 12.—The government took provisional possession of the Mexico Tramways Company's lines today. This action was taken because traffic has been suspended since last Thursday as the result of the strike of motormen and conductors. The government will begin operating the lines tomorrow in the interest of public welfare.

The strikers demand a large increase in pay, shorter hours and recognition of the union, which the company has refused to grant.

The property, which is capitalized at $60,000,000 in gold, is owned by English, French, Belgian and American interests. The company has filed a protest regarding the action of the Mexican government with the legations of the countries whose citizens are interested in the property.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified rates: The rate for Inserting Want Ads in the Daily Times is 1c per word each insertion; in the Sunday issue, 1½c per word each insertion; minimum charge, 25c; except under the following classifications, the rate for which is 2c per word daily, 2½c per word Sunday, minimum charge 50c daily, 25c Sunday: "Boarding Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," "Church Notices, Miscellaneous," "Works and Books," "Money to Loan, Salary and Chattels," "Physicians," "Medical," "Detectives," "Sanatoriums" and "Baths and Massage."

The Times reserves the right to classify all advertisements under appropriate headings.

Minimum space for classified advertisements ordered for more than one insertion, 14 words.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 8 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "To Lets," etc., received over counter or by telephone until 11 p.m., Saturday. Ads received after closing hours for each division will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify." Rate 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 90,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

The Times' four want advertisements, Main 95, The Times, Main 8600, Home 10091, any time of day or night, and receive prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephone advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times for payment for "liners," so no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept "phone or verbal orders to discontinue or change "till forbid" advertisements.

The Times constantly endeavors to render its patrons satisfactory and efficient service, and it will appreciate complaints of, and make a proper adjustment for any material error it may make in printed announcements.

"Be quick to kick if things seem wrong.
But kick to us, and make it strong."

INSTANT SERVICE FOR TIMES PATRONS.

For the convenience of persons who may desire to reply to classified advertisements in The Times, send communications to this newspaper, and have "liner" and other advertisements inserted, have telephone messages received and delivered at various downtown buildings for the purpose indicated.

Collections will be made from these boxes every hour.

Each piece of advertising copy must contain the name and address of the advertiser, number of insertions, and heading under which it is desired that the advertisement be placed.

The boxes are located as follows:

NORTH WHITTIER HEIGHTS

ORANGE, LEMON AND WALNUT LAND SUB-DIVISION

WITH ANY PROPERTY OR DISTRICT OF ALL CALIFORNIA.

We are confident that a personal investigation and inspection of this high-class property will convince you that it is both an ideal investment and a desirable location for an ideal suburban home.

We are selling this property in unplanted tracts of 5 to 50 acres or in tracts of 5, 10, 15 and 20 acres planted to Eureka lemons, Valencia or navel oranges, Mayberry walnuts, and such general soil-and walnuts and no exceptionally easy terms if desired. We will also contract to plant or care for groves for those who prefer to have us do so.

Successful citrus orchardists of the surrounding districts are investing in this property, which is a assurance that it has the conditions necessary for success.

If you are in the market for a property of this kind, it shall be pleasant to take you out by automobile to see North Whittier Heights any day in the week. Call or write for descriptive folder containing map of Southern California.

Bank Opens Today.

The Merchants' National Bank opens for business in its splendid new home at Sixth and Spring streets at 10 o'clock this morning. It will observe the usual banking hours from 10 to 3 o'clock, and in the evening, from 7 to 9 o'clock, will hold a reception for friends desiring to inspect the new quarters.

Discovery Day Observed.

Yesterday was observed as a holiday by the banks of the city and by all departments of city, county and national governments. In the schools of the city the day was celebrated by instructing the children concerning the discovery of America and by exercises of various kinds, entertaining as well as instructive, bearing upon the subject.

Attacks Episcopal Rector.

C. N. Howard, one of a group of Prohibitionist lecturers now speaking at Shrine Auditorium, featured his address there last night by an attack filled with bitter and savage personalities upon Rev. Baker P. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal Church. Today's speakers will be J. Frank Hanly, Dr. Ira Landreth, O. W. Stewart and J. B. Lewis.

Loretto Church Bazaar.

A bazaar for the benefit of the Catholic Church of Our Lady of Loretto opened last night in the parish hall and will continue throughout this week. Dinner and refreshments, entertaining programmes and dancing will characterize the evenings, beginning at 5 o'clock. Booths have been arranged from which ladies will sell fancy articles.

Fighting for Car Line.

To protest against the action of the Board of Public Utilities in denying their petition for a car line from North Broadway through Prichard street, by way of Schuetzen Park, to Hermon street, residents of that neighborhood will hold a mass meeting tomorrow night at the North Prichard-street schoolhouse. A number of speakers, among them Councilman Whiffen, will address the meeting.

Noted Editor Here.

Dr. Gross Alexander, who for thirty years was professor of Greek in Vanderbilt University at Nashville, and is now editor of the Methodist Review Quarterly, the official organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will address the students of the University of Southern California at assembly this morning. In the evening, he will be a guest at the Celtic Club, a dinner having been arranged in his honor. Other speakers will be Ian Maclaren, Dr. T. J. MacArthur and James Main Dixon.

STATIONS PASS TO STANDARD OIL.

NATIONAL SUPPLY SYSTEM PURCHASED, ANNOUNCEMENT OF COMPANY SAYS.

The purchase of the National supply stations, which have been engaged in the sale of gasoline and lubricants in a number of California cities, by the Standard Oil Company was consummated last Thursday, according to an announcement made by the company yesterday in San Francisco. They are now being operated by the oil company.

There are fifteen of these stations in Los Angeles, three at San Francisco, seven at Oakland, one at Berkeley, three at San Diego, and two at Pasadena. Although there have been repeated rumors that the Standard Oil Company was back of the stations, before the consummation of the recent deal, these was always denied by the company as well as the heads of the supply stations. The rumor arose largely because the National stations sold only Standard Oil products.

The Standard has a number of competitors in the field, as the idea embodied in the stations has been followed up by a number of gasoline-producing concerns. It is estimated that there are in Los Angeles nearly fifty of the gasoline stations.

GROCERY BILL SHOOTING.

Man Claiming Brother-in-law Owes Him for Provisions Takes it with Two Shots.

Juan Corda, No. 1515 Navarro street, with two bullet wounds in his left thigh, was taken to the Receiving Hospital early last night as the result of a quarrel with his brother-in-law, Juan Ruiz of No. 1412 North Main street.

According to the wounded man, the fight started before a small grocery store, when Ruiz declared that Corda owed him a grocery bill. Denials by Corda were followed by the shooting. Patrolman Ballestero and Officer Hill, who were standing directly across the street from where the shooting occurred, placed both men under arrest.

At Central Police Station Ruiz declared he owns the grocery store at No. 1412 North Main street, where the shooting took place, and that his brother-in-law, Corda, refused to pay him a small bill which he owed. Each asserted that the other carried a revolver. A revolver was found in the possession of Ruiz, but none was discovered on Corda.

PERSONAL EFFICIENCY COURSE.

Three Lectures Given at Y.M.C.A. Auditorium as Forerunner of Series to be Given Soon.

"Personal Efficiency" was the topic of an address by Dr. C. W. Hall of the Emerson Institution of Efficiency in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association last night.

D. W. Jones, service manager of Bullock's, spoke of The Importance to the Institution of Individual Efficiency," and Jesse D. Burks, efficiency expert of the Los Angeles city department, discussed "Individual Efficiency in Public Service."

The "efficiency night" was the forerunner of a special course in efficiency to be given at the local Y.M.C.A. within a short time. William G. Adams, a member of the International Efficiency Society, has charge of the course.

PATROL BOAT ARREST.

Henry Gomez, wanted in San Bernardino on a charge of embezzlement, was arrested by Sergt. McCarthy of the harbor police boat patrol last night at Wilmington. The patrol boat was making a round of the harbor when the man was found hidden on the wharf.

AFTER HIS MAN.

Chief of Police Martin Burns of Spokane arrived in Hanford, Kings county, last night, to interrogate Joseph Brown, who is said to have confessed to killing Acting Chief of Police Sullivan in January, 1911. Brown was wounded in a night battle last week with a Santa Fe "train rider."

THE WEATHER.
(Official Report.)

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.94; at 5 p.m., 29.90. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 61 deg. and 78 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 63 per cent.; 5 p.m., 34 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 5 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 7 miles. Highest temperature, 86 deg.; lowest, 59 deg. Rainfall for season, .20 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Areas of high barometer cover the Atlantic coast, as well as the northwestern region, causing fair weather with moderately high temperatures in the former and moderately low temperatures in the latter portion. Freezing weather is generally reported over Montana, the Dakotas, Wyoming, Northern Nebraska and Northern Arizona. The area of low pressure between the eastern and northern high areas brought heavy rain to Iowa, Missouri and Texas, Des Moines registering 1.14 inches, Kansas City and Abilene, 1.04 inches. The area of high pressure which persists off the California coast is evidently of considerable magnitude, as it caused strong northerly winds at sea off the Pacific Coast, extending southerly along the Mexican coast. The trough of low pressure and the northern high areas brought heavy rain to the mouth of the Columbia River and showers southerly into Northern California. Aside from intervals of cloud, the weather in Los Angeles and vicinity will continue fair Tuesday.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Tuesday, except for intervals of cloud; northwesterly winds.
For California south of the Tehachapi: Fair Tuesday.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Forecast:
San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Tuesday; light northwest wind.

END OF JOHNSON WRITTEN UPON NORTHERN WALLS.

Fredericks Will Carry State by Fifty Thousand Plurality.

Careful Survey of Counties Beyond the Tehachepi Reveals Determination in All Parties, Even "Progressive," to Beat Double-dealer — "Dry" Sentiment Appears to be Crystallizing Unexpected Strength.

BY BURL ARMSTRONG.

Two big facts stand out prominently on the political surface of Southern California as the sum of information in several counties, outside the bay district in and about San Francisco. They are: Universal demand to "Beat Johnson," Fredericks, and the widespread fear in that section that California is to go dry.

Because of the desire to defeat Holy Joe, and the self-evident fact that Fredericks is the man to do the trick, and up north in the centers of heaviest voting population, he seems to be on his way to triumph in November, but is being prepared not by Republicans, but by thousands of Democrats and many "Progressives" who are dissatisfied over the third-party stand.

The "Progressives" in Northern counties believed they were a political party and they do not take lightly the fact that Johnson is singing the song of a party organization, and as a party organization, he is gone.

Democrats do not believe that Democratic candidate for Governor can win over the Republican uppermost in their minds, but Johnson and put an end to the party-annihilation talk, which is holding to the strongest opposition to Democracy.

It is considered by many leaders that California has not elected a Governor since 1898 in spite of the fact that the present Governor has a dishonorous record because of his successful re-election upon the platform of party destruction—one of the most difficult moves ever made in politics, but the general disposition to do this was held.

Much interest is being taken in the attendance of voters who were regarded as necessarily assurances for Johnson, or "on the fence," and Fredericks will sweep the state from most of the counties with a tremendous

"PROGRESSIVE" SLUMP.

The additional "Progressive" vote in Contra Costa, Alameda, El Dorado, Contra Costa and other counties is for Fredericks, and the widespread fear in that section that California is to go dry.

At Nevada City the Johnson vote was negligible and his name was not written in at all.

In Sacramento county, where Johnson appears occasionally when there is no politics to play elsewhere, he will be defeated. "Our Sacramento Boy," is the way the "Progressives" label him on the billboards there, but the bands always play either "He's a Devil in His Own Home Town" or "Where is my Wandering Boy Tonight?"

In Contra Costa county the situation is much more striking than in any of the counties in the bay district. The Republicans have a perfect organization and are doing effective work in the shops, in the homes, and elsewhere. When Capt. Fredericks campaigned there, Sheriff Veale headed a delegation on a special train and had an automobile parade besides. The crowds were big everywhere, the interest was intense and the enthusiasm keen.

One of the severe blows to "Progressivism" came in the expose of their party frauds in Alameda county. A street car conductor in Oakland told me that he had been for Johnson until he saw what was being done in Alameda county.

"If that's his idea of purity in politics, he can stand for it. I won't." And he actually rang up the fare I had given him.

IN SAN FRANCISCO.

In San Francisco an indication of the trend of sentiment is found in the recall of State Senator Grant. The Senatorial district which he represents was gerrymandered two years ago so that he could beat Eddie Wolff, the incumbent. The "Progressives" believed that Wolff's hold upon the district was due to his constituency in the red light district. So the district was altered to bring in a great residence section, the vote of which was calculated to offset the tenderloin district vote.

If the "respectable" element included in Wolff's district defeated him

Flood of Fake Letters Sent Supervisors by Enemies of County Counsel.

The mail for the Board of Supervisors this morning will be clogged with letters urging the appointment of Myron Westover as County Counsel. The letters were written in one downtown office by one or two persons and many bear fictitious signatures. It is hoped by their authors that they will result in the defeat of the present County Counsel, A. J. Hill, who is violently opposed by the Earl-Norton-Haynes-Evans crowd, which controls the County Civil Service Commission.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Board of Supervisors will vote upon the appointment of a County Counsel. Mr. Hill, who has been in the office for three years, passed the Civil Service examination and was within 7-10 of 1 per cent. of the mark reached by Mr. Westover. The fact that Mr. Westover was favored in the percentage for "experience" is what won him an advantage.

SEE THE SHADOW OF A WOMAN.

CURIOUS NEW ANGLE TO CASE OF MRS. LANGDON.

Pathologist Finds Poison in Dead Wife's Medicine and Family History is Recalled—Analysis of Vital Organs not Yet Finished—Theory of Suicide Advanced.

With the finding by Dr. L. B. Stookey of a large quantity of strychnine in the bromo seltzer taken by Mrs. W. E. Langdon just before her sudden death about two weeks ago, detectives yesterday commenced an exhaustive inquiry into the woman's past for facts which might throw light on the as yet unanswered question as to whether death was due to murder, suicide, accident or natural causes. A number of incidents regarded as significant were uncovered.

Investigators from the District Attorney's office, working under the supervision of Deputy Blair, are of the opinion that a feminine enemy may have caused the sudden death, which, two weeks ago, was attributed by the attending physician, Dr. Herbert M. Coulter, to bromo seltzer poisoning.

It appears that Mrs. Langdon became estranged from members of her family, when, about five years ago, and against their wishes, she married a Los Angeles real estate dealer, formerly an official of the Big Three Sales Corporation and now an employee of the Kyllius-Gruber Realty Company, with offices in the W. P. Story building. Mrs. Langdon was formerly Miss Carry Klopp of the Klopp wagon manufacturing family of Cincinnati. According to friends she became slightly erratic shortly after the birth of a daughter, four years ago. She accused her husband about a year ago of an affair that threatened to break up the home. This matter was amicably adjusted to all intents, but did not prevent hysterical periods in the subsequent life of Mrs. Langdon.

Mr. Langdon himself disclaims all knowledge of the cause of death. He has collected all possible data and with the assistance of his attorney, Howard R. Reach, placed it in the hands of the District Attorney's office. It included the bottle of medicine which was found to contain the poison.

Strychnine was present in a very marked quantity in the drug. The analysis of Dr. Stookey disclosed the fact that a tablespoonful would contain sufficient to cause death to three persons. He is rushing work on the post-mortem examination of the woman's vital organs. This is expected to be concluded within a week, at which time arrests of those persons suspected of the crime may follow.

Mr. Langdon several days ago left his home near the Midwick Country Club and joined his little daughter at the home of friends on West Fiftieth street. With Attorney Reach, he assisted in the filing of administration papers on his wife's property, valued at about $10,000. A part of this was inherited from her parents, while another portion of it was community property.

The fact that Mrs. Langdon made no will is pointed to as indicating the improbability of suicide, a theory advanced by one of the investigating officials, who declares that she herself could have placed the poison in the other remedy. She might have done this to allay suspicion and make it possible to bury her in a Catholic cemetery. It is against the rules of that faith to give ritual services and burial in consecrated ground to a victim of suicide.

Without a will, the property of the woman reverts to her husband, and to her infant daughter, in equal portions. This consists largely of real estate in the vicinity of Etiwanda and at Ramona Acres. Research into many almost immaterial details of family life, including her troubles at home, particularly at the time of her marriage to a man twenty years her senior, are being carried on by detectives, some of them employed by a brother of Mrs. Langdon, Michael Klopp.

SECOND SERIAL LECTURE.

Dr. Washington Gladden will speak beginning at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the First Congregational Church, on "Dare We Tell the Truth About the Bible?" This will be his second lecture on "Modern Man's Theology."

Romance with Royalty that Went Wrong.

Baroness Helen von Koenigswarter,

Who eloped six years ago and was married at San Bernardino to the head of the barony of Lodz, Russian Poland, the runaway match causing a great hue and cry. She says now that she is going to get a divorce.

Appeals to Police.

LITTLE BARONESS SAYS SHE WILL SEEK DIVORCE.

BARONESS HELEN VON KOENIGSWARTER punched her pencil between the leaves of her dictation pad, looped the book with a rubber band, and threw it into the top drawer of her desk last night.

"There," she said to her fellow-stenographer, "I'm going to get a divorce, and get it right away."

It was the end of romance for Helen Kukulska, a fluffy-haired and piquant little Russian girl, to whom the Baron of Lodz, Russia, had come when she was but 16 years old, and he had married her and finally they had gone to Europe with a valet and a maid, her husband to sell $2,000,000 in Denver and Laramie bonds, for which, she says, he was then financial agent.

But the bonds wouldn't sell, and the husband left, and the little Los Angeles girl who had become a baroness came back to her home here as best she could with two plump young sons who will inherit a title, but would like to trade it for a fat bag of candy, sticks preferred, with an all-day sucker on top, please. Detective Tom Zeigler, of the police department, has taken up the case.

The Kukulskas are a family without particular distinction. They fled from Russia to England and then to Los Angeles, where they took the little home at No. 1360 Myrtle avenue and have lived there ever since. It was from there that Helen went to school and learned stenography. When she was 16 years old she was ready to earn her own living.

It was the very day that her instructor told her that she could write 100 words a minute in shorthand, and transcribe it accurately, that she heard of a man needing a stenographer who could handle the Polish language. Helen applied and the Baron John von Koenigswarter came to call, that he might test her ability. Her work was satisfactory, the nobleman told her, and she went to work in his office, where he conducted a mercantile business.

Later he wooed her and asked her parents' consent to marry her. They refused because of her youth. Attracted by his presence and title, she consented to elope, and they were married in San Bernardino.

They traveled about California. One day the husband left, she says, and $20 was forwarded to her that she might return home. That ended a hunt by her parents, that had been given wide publicity.

Next she heard that the Baron was in Davenport, Iowa, and urged her to MILLIONS OF BEEFSTEAKS FROM GREAT SOUTHWEST.

NEARLY $1,125,000 worth of cattle from the ranges of New Mexico and Arizona will be placed on the meat-block of Los Angeles this month, according to Assistant General Manager Platt of the Southern Pacific, who returned yesterday from an inspection of the company's lines to the East.

Mr. Platt also brought back a story of phenomenal development in the Casa Grande Valley of Arizona. Six months ago, according to Mr. Platt, there were thousands of acres in this valley subject to homestead or desert-land entry. Today not an acre remains and even land in the adjacent canyons is being taken up.

"Our agents report," said Mr. Platt, "that 695 carloads of cattle will be shipped to Los Angeles from Arizona and New Mexico this month. Striking an average of thirty-five heads to the car and $50 a head it means 24,325 heads in all, for which the shippers will receive a total of $1,216,250."

Nor will the ranges be depleted by this enormous shipping, for there will remain, according to Mr. Platt, over 75,000 heads of cattle on the ranges between Tucson and Deming alone.

A huge meat demand in the territory served by Los Angeles, coupled with the rapid fattening of cattle on Arizona and New Mexico ranges as a result of abundant forage the past summer, is the reason for the prospective large shipments. Packers say the price of meat will not be greatly affected by it.

"I spent a day in the Casa Grande Valley," said Mr. Platt, "and had my eyes opened. Here is a valley with 500,000 acres subject to reclamation that in six months has put itself on the map. At the present time there are 167 pumping plants in operation, drawing water from wells averaging 150 feet in depth, and with an average lift of sixty-five feet.

"At Casa Grande there is a manufacturing plant, with thirty-five employees, that makes all the well-casing for the valley, and that has recently secured the contract to make all the tanks for the Arizona branches of the Standard Oil Company."

Continuing, Mr. Platt stated that he attended a meeting of Tucson business men one noon at the Pueblo Club in that city and found enough optimism to convince him that at least one section of the country is not affected by psychological depression.

"Each week," said Mr. Platt, "the business men of Tucson take lunch together and compare notes. It is a good idea. It makes for solidarity of interest and it puts backbone in the weak brother.

"But," he continued, "Arizona, as well as New Mexico, is forging ahead. The arable land of both States is being settled up and new dollars are pouring in each day, just as they are pouring into California. I can't see anything that will keep the level-headed from realizing largely on any investments they may have in the Southwest."

CHAIN OF HILLS TO LOCK FLOODS.

Engineers to Search Heights for Storage Basins.

Reservoir on Big Tejunga to Impound Wild Waters.

Important Part of County's Work Begins Today.

A search for mountain-top reservoir sites wherein to catch and "caress" flood waters into submission before their descent upon the Los Angeles coastal plain will be started today when surveyors will leave for the headwaters of the Big Tejunga and San Gabriel rivers, under the direction of the County Board of Flood Control Engineers.

"Caress" is a term of approved usage in engineering circles. It covers the operation by which flood waters are "corraled," either by reservoirs or percolating basins, and thus preventing them from rising to a "flood crest."

"As is well known," said J. W. Reagan of the County Board of Flood Control Engineers yesterday, "it is the crest of the flood that does the major damage. In most cases the waters rise to a crest in a few hours and fall as rapidly. But in the falling, burst dikes and levees are left behind, as well as a long trail of damage to property and often the loss of life.

"Now, if we can find available storage reservoirs on the Big Tejunga and the San Gabriel, the waters as they sweep down from the mountain peaks and out of the canyons will be intercepted and held powerless under man's restraint. The reservoirs will intercept the crest of the flood and reduce the head over the dam to a volume of water that will be readily sluiced off to the ocean through the ditches which the board is planning to create in place of our meandering watercourses." The project is not regarded as very expensive.

A second purpose of these reservoirs will be that of providing storage capacity for untold millions of gallons of water which now make their way to the ocean without serving any useful purpose. In this way water will be held in leash for use in irrigating some of the area now sterile because of lack of water.

PREVENTING WASTE.

"There is a growing demand," said Mr. Reagan, "that as little flood water as possible be wasted. The idea of sewering it away to the ocean is approved as a means of preventing the inundating of valuable acreage, but on the other hand there is an insistent demand that as much water as possible be put to use."

The reservoir in the Big Tejunga Canyon, provided a site is found, would assure a reserve supply of water for making the San Fernando Valley increasingly fruitful, while that in the upper reaches of the San Gabriel River would be similarly beneficial to the territory immediately contiguous to that stream and the Rio Hondo.

Whether or not reservoir sites will be found that will serve the purpose is a problem. The canyons out of which our streams debouch on the coastal plain are precipitous. Often there is a fall of 300 or 400 feet to a mile.

"Necessarily," said Mr. Reagan, "to make a reservoir of any consequence in a canyon of this variety would mean a dam 300 or 400 feet in height. That is out of the question. It is hoped, however, to find sites where lake-like expanses of water may be created by the erection of dams of fair height."

Back of the project is the conviction of the engineers that Los Angeles and nearly all the land to the sea is made land. At Bellflower, the other day, a strip of cedar bark in fair preservation was removed from a well at a depth of eighty feet.

REAL CAUSES OF TROUBLE.

"Petrified wood is often found at this depth," said Mr. Reagan in speaking of the occurrence, "but this strip of comparatively fresh cedar bark offers what might be considered conclusive evidence that at some comparatively recent date the San Gabriel River was making land around Bellflower. As the history of our rivers has been that of here today and gone tomorrow, the river probably deposited this bark on the site of Bellflower years ago and then piled silt upon it and went away."

OUR STREETS PALM-LINED.

Tropical Trees to Grow in Urns Throughout Whole Business Section.

The 1915 General Committee, in charge of arrangements for next year, has decided that the downtown business streets shall be thickly lined with palms. The tropical trees, of good size, will grow in urns placed on the edge of the sidewalks between the ornamental lighting posts as far out as the business district extends. It is proposed to make this a permanent feature of Los Angeles, the palms to be donated to the city by the committee after 1915.

The committee has asked the city to make provision for the care of the streets and Councilman Snowden has presented the subject to the Council. By unanimous consent of the Council it has been arranged for the Board of Public Works to care for the trees through its street maintenance department.

STOLEN WATCH BALEFUL JINX.

Rends Two Families; Sends Man to Prison.

Puts Coil of Circumstance About Another.

Is Recovered after Three Years of Search.

A three-year search for an elusive watch ended yesterday, and its fateful history was brought to light. Twice stolen, its baleful influence has rent two families, sent one man to the penitentiary and thrown the shadow of suspicion on another. Detectives Bean and Beaumont are the watch's historians.

On New Year's Eve in 1911 F. Wilding and his wife left their home at No. 1031 West Forty-second place to help usher in the new year. When they returned home they discovered that a sneak thief had gained entrance to the house with a pass key and stolen, among other articles, a lady's Waltham, purchased by Mrs. Wilding in San Francisco three years before. The theft was duly reported to the police, and George Donaghy, keeper of records in the detective bureau, entered the description of the watch and its number, 7104727, in the card index.

Months passed and Mrs. Wilding despaired of ever recovering the watch. But the police were still on the lookout for it. One day last week E. N. McNutt, a telephone lineman, reported that a lady's watch and a suit of clothes had been stolen from his rooms at No. 640 San Julian street. He gave the watch's number as 7109727. It was the same watch that had been stolen from Mrs. Wilding.

Two days later Detectives Bean and Beaumont dropped into a pawn shop at No. 117 Wilmington street. From the records they learned that watch No. 7109727 had been bought by the broker from one Dave Connors but ten minutes before.

ON THE TRAIL.

The detectives set themselves to tracing the watch's history from the first theft to the second. Mr. McNutt was sought out.

"I had the watch only two days," he told the detectives. "It was given to me to have it repaired."

The owner, he added, was Mrs. Dora Sulpizo, who lives at No. 736 Maple avenue. Messrs. Bean and Beaumont visited her.

"The watch was given to me by my husband two years ago," she reported. "I don't know where he got it."

Domestic discord had risen up between the couple and Mr. Sulpizo was living apart from his wife. He was found in his poolroom at No. 5336 South Park avenue.

"I bought the watch from a fellow called Red," Mr. Sulpizo told the detectives. "He is in San Quentin now. I didn't know the watch was stolen property when I bought it."

The detectives began a search for the Wildings. But the watch had apparently exerted its disastrous spell again. Man and wife were estranged. Mr. Wilding was found after some difficulty at No. 856 West Forty-second street. He was asked if he could identify the watch.

"No, I can't, but my wife's sister knows it," he answered.

So Mrs. Charles M. Liddell of No. 1040 West Forty-second place was seen. She identified the watch and it was given into her hands to convey to her sister, the original purchaser, who now lives at Caruthers, Fresno county. Since it left her hands it has picked up an engraved "O" on the cover and "Dora" has been inscribed on the inside.

But while the thief who had stolen it from the Wildings was in the toils for another "job," the one that had taken it from Mr. McNutt's room was still at large. Detectives Bean and Beaumont wanted him so that "finis" could be written to their history.

A NEW LEAD.

They were making the round of the second-hand shops in their district and were in a store at No. 205 East First street when a stranger came in to sell a suit. Not until he had gone did they learn it was a blue serge of the cut, size and markings of the suit lost by Mr. McNutt. A telephone message brought Mr. McNutt to the store and he positively identified the suit. The suspect was arrested. He gave his name as Charles Cristman of San Francisco, and insisted that he had purchased the suit in Oakland. It was the tailor who cleared the mystery. It was more than a coincidence that the suit fitted both men so perfectly. The tailor looked at the label, then went to a stack of coats on a table and compared them.

"Mr. Christman is right," he said. "He bought this suit in Oakland."

Then he explained. The firm has stores in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland. With a weather eye to local pride the label in each city gives the name of that city first. In Los Angeles, the label reads "Stores in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland." In Oakland they read "Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles." The suit in question bore the latter label.

With profuse apologies the detectives left Mr. Christman. They are now looking for the thief who stole a blue serge suit in which Los Angeles precedes Oakland in the label.

OPENS BUREAU HERE.

Pasadena Capitalist to Foster Trade Between Southern California and Republic of Mexico.

Richard H. Cole, Pasadena capitalist who is in Washington in the interest of the Carranza government, will open a bureau in Los Angeles to develop trade between Southern California and Mexico, according to an announcement made by J. L. Jewett, his secretary, at the Angelus yesterday.

"From present indications there will soon be an opportunity for Americans to resume business in Mexico on a larger scale than ever," Mr. Jewett said. "Mr. Cole will be here within the next week."

RECITAL AT HOTEL.

A recital will be given by the Scovell School at the Stillwell Hotel on Thursday evening. The programme includes "The Yellow Ticket," by Reba Dwight, reader and entertainer, and "I'll Think of Thee," by Madame Margureita, the French contralto, a new song by Scovell-Tourjee. The accompanist will be F. M. Campbell.

LACERATED NOSE WORTH FINE.

So Declares Man who is Glad He Sent Attorney, in Scuffle, to Receiving Hospital.

Wallace W. Wideman, an attorney, was taken to the Receiving Hospital yesterday to have sewed a laceration of the nose received in a scuffle in a restaurant at No. 511 West Seventh street, yesterday.

He went to the place with a client, J. R. McIvor, who had had a disagreement with the other partner in the restaurant, one W. O. Fine. From the stories heard by the police, Mr. Wideman made an effort to leave with the books of the business in his possession, when he was intercepted by Mr. Fine. Mr. Fine admitted that he had clouted the attorney and expressed his willingness to pay a fine for having done so.

The altercation took place just at the noon hour. When the men mixed a great hubbub ensued among the diners, and a police patrol was sent to the place. The stories being conflicting, the participants were bundled into the wagon and taken to the station. To Lieut. Johnson and other officers, Mr. Wideman objected strenuously to having been made to ride in the patrol. He offered to rent a machine, he said. After hearing the stories, the disputants were referred to the City Prosecutor.

WOMEN FLOCK TO HELP SISTERS.

MANY ORGANIZATIONS BACK OF NEW "CITY MOTHER."

First Meeting of Confidential Bureau for Aid of Poor and Friendless Girls Brings Pledges of Warm Support and Assistance from All Quarters.

Representatives of half a hundred organizations of women and social workers pledged their aid to the recently-organized City Mothers' Confidential Bureau at a meeting held yesterday at the Y.W.C.A. An office for the bureau will probably be opened shortly.

"Los Angeles has long needed a clearinghouse of the variety provided by Chief Sebastian," said Mrs. R. J. Waters, president of the Friday Morning Club. "There are many girls, too many girls, who are in need of the guidance that their mothers, either through lack of knowledge or lack of interest, cannot give them. By joining hands the women's organizations of this city can provide means whereby advice and aid will be offered girls in their hours of sore need."

"I am gratified at this outpouring of motherly hearts," said Chief Sebastian, who was a guest. "Mrs. Aletha Gilbert, the city mother, has many problems before her and is anxious for aid in solving them. I will be especially gratified if some means will be found whereby many children that now go to Juvenile Hall, will not have to go, for it leaves a stigma."

"We must educate the mothers first of all," said Mrs. Isidore Myers.

Various pleas were also made for social workers generally to extend helping hands to the girls of their neighborhood. The main object of the bureau is to advise and aid City Mother Gilbert in her work of dealing with the problems of poor or friendless girls. Protection from the machinations of the unscrupulous will be offered so far as possible, while homes and employment will be sought for those who need either.

Mrs. Jefferson D. Gibbs, former president of the State Parent-Teachers' Association, was chosen chairman, and Mrs. Frank Stoddard, president of the Florence Crittenton Home board, the secretary of the auxiliary body. Fpture meetings will be held at the call from the chairman.

BARTLETT SERVICES LARGELY ATTENDED.

FRIENDS, BANKERS AND Y.M.C.A. PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO HONORED MAN.

The West Adams Presbyterian Church was crowded with neighbors and friends yesterday afternoon at the funeral service over the remains of the late W. S. Bartlett, who died suddenly on Saturday. The directors of the German-American Trust and Savings Bank, of which body he was the chairman, and the employees of the bank, sat in a body, as did the secretaries and many of the directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, of which organization the deceased was treasurer for many years, and of which he was president at the time of his death.

The floral tribute was a marvel of magnificent set pieces entirely filling the front of the church, in which many organizations and societies with which he had been connected were represented, as well as a rich collection of pieces from loving friends.

The service was conducted by Rev. W. H. Fishburn, pastor of the church, with which Mr. Bartlett had been identified in active work and official capacity. He was assisted by Rev. Dana W. Bartlett, a cousin of the deceased, and D. E. Luther, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

The music at the service was rendered by a male quartette, a soloist, and by Harpist Miller, the latter representing the Y.M.C.A.

Following a touching, brotherly address by the minister, the burial service was read and the assembly dismissed. The body was taken to Rosedale Cemetery and cremated in private.

The honorary pallbearers were M. N. Avery, president of the German-American Bank; J. M. Elliott, president of the First National Bank; J. G. Warren, Harry Chandler, D. E. Luther and O. T. Johnson. The active pallbearers were Horace Mann, J. S. Rice, C. F. Quillian, George W. Parsons, Herschel Griffin and A. R. Black.

URNS PARTY OF NOMINATION.

ured Democrats Regard Randall Askance.

ession Means Much for Roberts in Ninth.

o's Who, What's Doing in Political Field.

ster H. Randall, anything in to get votes, refused to attend ing of the Democratic County ittee and Southern California committeemen yesterday. He ed the invitation of the Demo- to tell where he stands politically, though he stole a Democratic ation for Congress in the Ninth ict and is now running on that ll has failed to state in his ure whether he will support ert Wilson, a matter close to ratic hearts. To some Demo- he said he would support the ket, but he is making a campaign the prohibition question, being candidate of that party as well. ense of Randall's failure to take ive stand for Democracy, which ecessarily involves his fealty to ner partisan choice, a great of them yesterday assured r. Roberts, the Republican can- that they will support him. rance came not alone for the that the Democrats can't find ting about what Randall will because he deprived the Dem- of a regular nominee.

PHELAN MAKES TALK.

n D. Phelan of San Francisco, ratic candidate for United Senator, addressed the Demo- committeemen yesterday. He a straight appeal for support of Wilson, through him, and the support of all parties on ground.

Phelan will remain in South- California for some time, having ed over the north. He left ments plastered all over San ncisco and other northern cities the Phelanian appeal appears in a more alluring guise than all the of the candidates.

Phelan was scheduled to be addressed the Democratic Club at Blanchard Hall last night but was addressed a gathering at the forum at Long Beach. Phelan is still to be taken along the line, being boomed by a number of the Democratic committeemen and will speak tonight in San Bernardino, Redlands tonight at El Centro, Thursday at Riverside, Friday in Los Angeles and Saturday at the beaches—this being about his itinerary for the week.

The Women's Democratic League will give a reception at Labor Temple, Broadway, in honor of ex-Mayor Phelan. Mrs. Lucretia del Valle will be in charge of the programme and John S. Chambers will preside.

Frank Putnam, who has a bee in his bonnet about the Democratic Senatorial aspirations hence, arrived like a breeze from Fresno yesterday with a big scheme to take the Phelan party over bodily. The Phelan machine broke down and Mr. Patton offered his aid. He has seen the rudiments in campaigning along with the candidate for Governor of the southern campaign.

BOWEN RETURNS.

TO FREDERICKS VICTORY.

Fredericks will arrive in the city from his northern trip on Monday morning, October 26.

Three monster meetings have been arranged for him by the Republican County Central Committee—Thursday, October 29, in Los Angeles; Saturday night, October 30, in Pasadena, and Saturday night, October 31, in Hollywood. During the day time he will speak in those districts of the city which he has not yet visited in his candidacy.

Chairman Bowen of the Republican County Central Committee, who made a flying trip to San Francisco this week, says that Capt. Fredericks's strength in the north has increased 100 per cent since the primaries. He says the Republicans of San Francisco are confident of carrying the city for the captain, which has created a doubtful point among political prognosticators.

Chairman Bowen sets aside all political boosting as mere make of boosting. Chairman Bowen says that it is going to be the greatest Republican landslide in the history of the State, and that California in the Union will be as strongly Republican as California after November 3. He says that there are 100,000 more voters in the north tied to the Johnson machine through jobs or through being related to those having political jobs, who are waiting for the right moment to go over in a rushing army to the Republican camp. The taking off of every job-holder with heavy connections to the Johnson campaign fund has caused a hardship among the workers, who are willing to work for the administration, but they also are able to see the handwriting on the wall that spells family and Fredericks at Sacramento.

FOR FREDERICKS.

BOLO CLUB INDORSES.

At a meeting of the Board of Control of the State Bolo Club of California, the directing organization of the Bolo clubs throughout the State, members throughout the State, Fredericks was roundly indorsed for Governor. The meeting was held at Fresno, where delegates from over the State appeared.

The Bolo Club is composed of ex-Service Veterans, and as Capt. Fredericks is a veteran of that war, the club indorsed him without hesitation. He already had been indorsed by the Los Angeles County Bolo Club. The indorsement carries with it an assurance that 20,000 Spanish War veterans in California will make an active campaign for the candidate from now until election.

A Busy Candidate.

Deputy District Attorney Blair's many speaking engagements, crowded out his activities in connection with the baffling poison mystery he is conducting in his official capacity. He was forced that candidate for a rest of the Superior Court to bed last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Blair's rest was of short duration, however, for he delivered addresses last evening before the Business Woman's Republican club at the Hotel Alexandria, and at a public installation of officers of the Court of Honor, in the Mozart building.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will be the chief speaker Friday evening at a meeting at Blanchard Hall under the auspices of the Republican League. Hon. Frank P. Flint, former Senator, will also address the meeting.

The Pomona Valley Eight-Hour Law Association has been formed with H. J. Nichols, president; R. L. Knox, secretary, and William L. Hamlin, manager. The organization will fight the proposed enactment of the eight-hour law.

Mrs. J. W. Summerfield will preside Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of women at No. 1502 Van Ness avenue, when the proposed amendments to the constitution will be discussed.

Sheriff Hammel, who is running for re-election, will be the speaker tomorrow evening at a rally in the Woman's Club house at South Pasadena.

Seward C. Simons announces that the booklets prepared by the Inter-city Commission are ready for distribution, presenting arguments pro and con upon most of the proposed constitutional amendments.

By unanimous vote, the members of the Lincoln Republican Club, with headquarters in Anaheim, indorsed the Orange county Republican nominees, who include R. Y. Williams and Z. B. West, for Superior judges; C. E. Ruddock for Sheriff; Cal D. Lester, for Auditor, and Joseph C. Burke for Assemblyman.

Walter M. Rheinschild told voters at four meetings last evening why he should be elected justice of the peace. He addressed the Business Woman's Civic Club in the lecture hall of the Public Library, the East Side Political Club and meetings at the Euclid-avenue school and Avenue Sixty-two and Pasadena avenue.

Seventy-five members of the Los Angeles Realty Board have been invited by Oscar E. Farish to meet at luncheon at the Clark Hotel today to arrange plans for assisting Sidney L. Briggs in his campaign for Supervisor in the Third District. Mr. Briggs is one of the leading members of the Realty Board and for that reason a great number of the individual members of the organization are backing his candidacy.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, candidate for a seat on the Republican side of the Senate, will arrive in Los Angeles Friday to begin a campaign through Southern California, lasting until immediately before election.

The Fredericks Non-partisan Club will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Wheaton A. Gray, No. 431 Kingsley drive. This is in precinct No. 127, where there are 356 women voters, nearly all Republican, registered.

According to C. Olivier, chairman of the executive committee of the Colored Republican League, Capt. Fredericks will receive 95 per cent. of the colored votes cast in the State. Olivier asserts that Johnson has incurred the displeasure of the colored population of California by supplanting negro State employees by whites; by the passage of the "full crew" law that occasioned the cutting off of hundreds of colored men from the pay rolls of the railroads; by the adoption of a "Jim Crow" idea in the State penal institutions, and other discriminatory acts.

There will be three sessions of the organization daily. All meetings will be held in Blanchard Hall.

Among the subjects to be treated are: "A Greater Citizenship," Rev. Baker P. Lee; "California's Cereal Products," President Howard of the Los Angeles Grain Exchange; "Immigration and Our New Responsibilities," Mrs. P. P. Morrison; "Economic Waste of Prohibition," Mrs. Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith; "The Transportation Problem of Greater Los Angeles," Dean Damon of Throop College of Technology; "A Modern Shipping Exchange," Traffic Manager Gregson of Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles; "Los Angeles Hotels and Their Needs for 1915," C. C. Loomis, former president Hotel Men's Association; and "The Necessity of a Modern Drydock," President Craig of Craig Shipbuilding Company.

HELP FOR SCHOONOVER.

Another Assistant, Young Hemet Lawyer, Named for the United States District Attorney.

United States District Attorney Schoonover yesterday announced the appointment of Clyde R. Moody, for the past three years an attorney of Hemet, as assistant United States District Attorney. Mr. Moody will assume the duties of his new position this morning. This addition to the force of the District Attorney was made necessary by the fact that within a few days there will be an additional judge on the local Federal bench, together with the general increase of litigation demanding the attention of the office.

Mr. Moody was born and raised in Pomona, but first attended school at Azusa, from there going to Baylor University, Texas, where he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Later he completed a course at Brown University, where he was given the Master of Arts degree, and then took a term of special work at the University of Chicago. He was admitted to practice in the courts of California at Sacramento, three years ago, and since that time has maintained an office in Hemet. He is 28 years old.

Cream Nut Fudge.

Granulated "Southern California Sugar," 4 cups; corn syrup, 1 cup; water, 1 cup.

Mix all together, set on stove and stir until sugar is dissolved. Boil briskly until the syrup will form a soft but firm ball when dropped in cold water. Add slowly one five-cent can of condensed milk. Watch carefully to prevent scorching and boil again to the "soft ball" stage. Remove from stove. Set kettle in a pan of cold water. Flavor with vanilla, add 1 cup chopped nuts of any kind and beat until creamy and thick. Pour on a well greased pan. Cut in squares when partly cold.

Making candy at home is so much fun, and this Cream Nut Fudge is easy to make and delicious to eat. Follow the recipe as given and use

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA SUGAR

—and you will have no trouble at all. The largest candy manufacturers in Southern California make all their candy with "Southern California Sugar."

They use this home-grown beet sugar in preference to any other sugar, and their candies are the finest.

A sugar that is so successful for candy-making is just as successful for preserving, for cooking and every household use.

"A.B.A." Cheques

Safest simplest "travel money"

American Bankers Association

The sale of "A.B.A" Cheques for use throughout the United States continues as usual, and the cheques are affording to travelers in "the States" their customary service of protection and convenience in respect to money matters.

The sale of "A. B. A." Cheques for foreign use has been discontinued temporarily, it being impossible to give positive assurance to tourists that travelers' credits will be uniformly honored abroad at all places under conditions which change from day to day.

Through the co-operation of the Officers of the United States Government, Committees of Bankers in New York, London and Paris were enabled in a very short time to perfect arrangements for protecting all forms of travelers' credits issued by American institutions and firms; and holders of travelers' cheques and letters of credit have been by this means relieved from the serious consequences of the sudden paralysis of customary banking facilities abroad.

As soon as conditions warrant, the sale of "A. B. A." Cheques for use abroad will be resumed.

Be sure that you get "A. B. A." Cheques At any of the following Banks:

A DROLL VIEW.

An orchestra is a body of musicians employed by vaudeville houses so that the drum can make a big noise when an acrobat strikes the stage at the psychological moment. Of course the nimble person doesn't always strike the stage where his psychology is located. It would be a real treat to see a tumbler light on his feet or otherwise without the boom of a bass drum or the crash of cymbals.

A COMMON FAULT.

Newspapers, magazines and individuals sometimes smile at drunkenness. People slightly intoxicated either originate or prove the source of many amusing incidents which are gleefully related by others without taking into consideration the tragedy of this condition. It might be a good thing if the world formed itself into a league that would refuse to recognize anything humorous about the sad and disgusting condition of inebriety.

GOOD BUSINESS.

People are always interested in how things are done. For this reason the orange show feature at Pantages last week attracted much attention. Three expert boxmakers and three rapid packers were introduced on the stage and made their boxes and packed them with golden fruit with vivid dexterity. Other processes were shown by motion pictures. The whole effect was to give a clear idea of how oranges are prepared for the market: and it will be a big boost for California to have this entertaining feature on the stages of eastern cities.

NOTHING DOING.

At their headquarters in Los Angeles the Progressives have an immense banner on which they print the alleged achievements of the administration of Hiram Johnson. Of course they take credit for everything from the weather in California to the prosperity of the nation. One happy result which they accredit to the wisdom, action and omnipotence of Holy Hiram is the success of woman suffrage in this State. Now, whatever Johnson has or has not done as a person it is certain that he cannot possibly lay claim to any share in the success of the suffrage movement. During his campaign he kept tight as a clam on this subject in spite of the fact that it was in the platform of his party.

A BIG TEST.

It is a mistake to think that the people as a mass are lacking in imagination. This is one faculty that does both more harm and good in the world than almost any other. Imagining things is one of the easiest things that people do. A remarkable demonstration of this fact has been the way in which thousands of persons have thronged the streets, during the last few days, in front of bulletin boards giving an account of the world's series of baseball games. They have stood in the sun for hours watching a player progress around the diamond by numbers as indicated by a dial. These people, most of them, never saw the men of either team, yet in imagination they all follow every play of the series.

A THREAT THAT FAILED.

The I.W.W. rioters and agitators last year boasted that the hops of California would never be harvested in 1914. They hoped to precipitate a worse tragedy than that which sickened the world at Wheatland last year. Nothing of the sort took place. Instead, the owners of the hop fields made a careful study of the situation with the Immigration Commission and provided such working conditions that the men who really want to do an honest day of work for an honest day's pay cannot possibly have any cause for quarrel or complaint. Not only were good sleeping quarters provided and the sanitation of the camps taken into consideration, but the supply of laborers sent to any one camp was regulated, and when the I.W.W. agitators came the laborers refused to listen to them and ran them off the premises.

"AWAY WITH TOBACCO!"

A petition of forty-two pages of typewritten matter, asking for the passage of an ordinance prohibiting the smoking of cigars, cigarettes and pipes within the city limits, was filed last week with the City Council.

The petition scheduled the number of fires supposed to have been started by cigar smokers, who flipped hot ashes into waste paper boxes; by cigarette fiends who did not follow the practice of extinguishing cigarette stumps on the seats of their pantaloons, and by pipe devotees who dropped lighted matches where they should not.

Smoking tobacco, it is claimed, should be prohibited for economic as well as for sanitary and unarsonic reason. There are, it is asserted, 100,000 smokers in Los Angeles. These occupy at least half an hour each day in smoking, or 50,000 hours, which at common laborers' wages, would amount to $12,500 per day. Over $4,000,000 worth of work absolutely wasted every year! Is it not time to stop this profligate expenditure of time? Think what $4,000,000 worth of work would do! It would build twenty miles of railroad. It would excavate 8,000,000 cubic yards of cellars or ditches. It would give each smoker's wife an Easter hat. It would give the smoker himself 750 schooners of lager bier.

It is evident that the Interstate Commerce Commission is obsessed with the idea that it was created to worry and not assist the railroads. Hence, the suggestion of President Wilson that something ought to be done to keep them out of bankruptcy is not being acted on.

CALIFORNIA BURDENED WITH COMMISSIONS.

That the Johnson administration has built up a political machine in California at the cost of taxpayers is established beyond all questioning. The Progressives say it is a "good machine." Irrespective of its morals or "goodness," the fact remains that it holds in jeopardy the jobs of thousands who are, therefore, coerced to vote and work for the Johnson administration.

This machine has a membership of some 2000 Johnson appointees who were placed in office permanently by the "joker" in the civil service measure; and Gov. Johnson has personally controlled the appointments to all the commissions which were created and reorganized under his supervision. And when notice is taken of the fat appropriations handed out to these commissions, the observer begins to understand why the Johnson administration has been so expensive.

The sum of $12,000 was appropriated for the Superintendent of Weights and Measures, who holds office at the pleasure of the Governor, and draws a salary of $3600 per annum. He has an assistant, and may have as many deputies as is deemed necessary. These deputies are given a monthly salary of $150—and if they do not play politics to suit the Governor, the Superintendent may be ousted from office at once.

An appropriation of $50,000 was given to the State Water Commission, and a salary of $5000 per year to each of three commissioners. The Governor is also a member of this commission.

An appropriation of $20,000 was given to the Legislative Council Bureau Board, which consists of five members who are a sort of nursing committee for the Legislature of California. The five members may hire such professional and clerical force as is deemed necessary and their duties are to watch the bills and measures introduced.

An appropriation of $10,000 was given to the Commissioner of Corporations, who is appointed by the Governor and holds office only as long as the Governor is pleased. This commissioner gets a salary of $5000 per year and may hire as many clerks and deputies as is deemed necessary, and may fix and draw on the State Treasury for their salary.

An appropriation of $7500 per year is given to the State Viticultural Commission, whose nine members are appointed by the Governor.

An appropriation of $187,000 was given to the Industrial Accident Commission, whose three commissioners are controlled by the Governor and draw a salary of $5000 per year each. These commissioners may hire as many assistants as they please and fix the salaries of those they hire.

An appropriation of $50,000 was given to the State Civil Service Commission, whose three commissioners are controlled by the Governor and draw a salary of $3000 per year each. They may hire as many employees as they please and fix the salaries of the same.

An appropriation of $50,000 was given to the Immigration and Housing Commission, with five commissioners who get no salary but have their expenses paid. These commissioners, controlled by the Governor, may hire such agents and employees as seem necessary.

An appropriation of $389,800 was given to the State Board of Control by the Legislatures of 1911 and 1913. It is composed of five members (the Governor and State Engineer being members) and three of whom are appointed by the Governor for a period of four years and receive a salary of $10 per day. The board may hire whom it pleases and pay them as it pleases. It is really an auditing committee, and is supposed to earn the $389,800 furnished it by the State in finding mistakes in other people's accounts.

A special appropriation of $100,000 was given to the Conservation Commission, whose three members are controlled by the Governor, and who are allowed to hire such employees as they deem necessary.

An appropriation of $50,000 was given to the Industrial Accident Board in 1911; and in 1913 the sum of $97,600 was also appropriated. This board, whose three members were appointed by the Governor, was succeeded by the Industrial Accident Commission—also controlled by the Governor.

There is not available space to call attention to all of the commissions, but particular notice should be taken of this:

Previous to October, 1911, the Railroad Commission consisted of three members elected by districts, who received an annual salary of $4000 each. The Johnson administration increased the number of members from three to five, and gave the Governor the power of making appointments. This commission has cost the State $533,600.

The total expense of the commissions and boards under the Johnson administration has been $3,676,340.

The expense of the commissions and boards under the Gillett administration was $1,318,690.

Johnson's administration has created a number of new commissions. But the cost of operating the same commissions under Johnson that were in existence under Gillett, has been more than $622,000.

The cost of the new commissions which the Johnson administration has created has been $1,720,870.

In other words, it is costing the State $2,350,000 more to operate its commissions and boards under the Johnson administration than it cost to operate the necessary commissions and boards under the previous administration.

The Governor appoints practically all of the commissioners and most of them only hold service at his pleasure. Practically all of the commissions under the Johnson administration may hire and fix the wages of as many employees as they deem necessary.

It is obvious that no commissioner—who only holds office as long the Governor is pleased—will employ any help that is not in sympathy with the administration and does not work for it. Thus it is plain, considering all of the commissioners who hold their jobs only as long as they give their fealty to Johnson, that each commission, with its employees, becomes a political unit directly under the control of Gov. Johnson. And the expense of running this sort of a political machine is enormous, as the people of California may well know by the sum of $3,676,340, which it has cost the State under the Johnson administration to maintain and operate the boards and commissions.

What He Sees.

OUR TRADE ON THIS SIDE OF THE WORLD.

Just now, when it is in doubt how much trade the United States will be able to do with European countries for an indefinite time, information about our trade with other parts of the world is of particular interest.

It appears from figures given out by the Department of Commerce that our trade with other countries amounted in the last fiscal year to $1,303,000,000, of which exports represented $654,000,000, or about one-half.

Exports to Canada amounted to $345,000,000; to Cuba, $69,000,000; to Central American countries and Mexico each about $39,000,000. To these countries the United States sends more goods than all the other countries send them. Our trade with South American countries makes a poor showing in comparison. From them we imported goods valued at $223,000,000. Our exports to them had a value of only $125,000,000, a trade balance loss to us of $98,000,000 for the year. The South American countries imported in the last fiscal year goods valued at $965,000,000, of which only 14 per cent. were bought of the United States. Why? Manifestly, in that direction producers in the United States must exert themselves to create an increased demand for their products. It's the South American trade we must get after.

THE BEST IS YET TO COME.

One of the most hopeful "signs of the times" is the growing disposition among the people of the United States to make the best of conditions forced on us as a result of the war in Europe. These manifestations are confined to no one section of the country, but come from all quarters. Whatever apprehension existed at the beginning, growing out of the novel circumstances into which we were precipitated, is rapidly giving way to new resolution and confidence, accompanied by the determination to turn to good account opportunities now presented or likely to offer. Commerce having been restricted in some directions, fresh openings are seen in other quarters. What is essential, the Troy Times remarks, is "readjustment of American trade to conform to the changed requirements."

And to that task our producers are devoting themselves with cheerful zeal. Manufacturers are preparing to supply customers who no longer obtain goods from Europe. The farmers of the West and Middle West, with a record-breaking wheat harvest and bumper yields of other commodities, are getting ready to profit by the big demand for foodstuffs from the Old World. The South, which at first was badly frightened because of the sudden slump in the European demand for cotton, is taking on greater courage and regards the matter with less dolefulness. Here is a sample of this spirit, shown by the Gainesville (Fla.) Board of Trade, which is liberally distributing cards that breathe strongest optimism. "The Best is Just Ahead" is the caption, and everybody is enjoined to cheer up, because nobody ever "gets anywhere by looking at the dark side of things." Local conditions are all right, says the card, which adds: "Put money into hogs and cattle and feed crops—prosperity is bound to follow. Boost, fellows; get the vision of good times—and just keep smiling." Another card enjoins everyone to cut out the war talk and to remember that, owing to the destruction abroad, this country must produce bread and meat for hundreds of millions of people in Europe; likewise the world's supply of cotton goods, which is being diminished, and these words follow: "Europe must have our phosphates and turpentine. We have got to furnish the lumber to rebuild the cities and towns. Quit fooling yourself. Plant corn, grow meat. Get busy."

This is the right talk, and it should be heard, with varying notes, according to the local interests affected, from California and every other section of the country. The world's stock of necessaries is becoming exhausted because of the exactions of the great war, and production in Europe has practically ceased, because the workers are in the armies, and thousands upon thousands of them have fallen in the slaughter of the battlefield. The chief source of supply for months, if not years, must be the United States, for even should peace be restored speedily it will take time to restore Old-World industry. The war is deplorable. No other sentiment prevails among Americans. Yet our people are not only justified in making the most of the chances now presented, but in reality are called upon to discharge an important duty in providing for the wants of those who would suffer seriously but for the markets open to them here. The natural result of supplying such wants will be prosperity for American producers, and there is full warrant for optimism.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE UNHAPPY WARRIOR.

I'm not a Happy Warrior; I don't find scrapping pleasant, and no one could be sorrier when I find trouble present. I do not think it glorious on snorting steed to ride, and rant around, uproarious, demanding someone's hide. I'm fond of peace and piety, I hope to spend my life, afar from mixups rioty, afar from foolish strife. I'd do my stunt laborious, and draw my humble wage, and those who think war glorious may grind their swords and rage. I'd spend my lifetime happily, good friends with men and kings; alas, some neighbors, scrappily insist on mixing things. Because I treat them smilingly they think I have no spunk; I greet them so beguilingly they climb upon my trunk. They'd fain assault and batter me, because it's safe, they say; they'd punch my head and scatter me to make a holiday. And then I swat them mightily, and lacerate their hair, and black their eyes so vitally they wish they were not there. War's garments are not wearable, while peace remains in sight; but, gee whiz, I am terrible, if folks must have a fight! Some countries are like men, I guess, they seem so meek and mild, until you prod them—then, I guess you'll see them running wild!

WALT MASON.

SMALL CHANGE.

[Oregon Journal:] The idle brain is advance agent for a busy tongue.

Usually a man is what he suspects others of being.

Confession of weakness is the beginning of strength.

A genuine skeptic has lost all faith in himself.

The right side of politics is the inside.

Love is blind; therefore it fails to see the danger signals.

If a man has a nagging wife, he knows all about silence that is golden.

A rich girl must be awfully homely if a young man would rather work than wed her.

Perhaps the young widow wants to marry again so that she can be disappointed in another.

When a man gets what is coming to him he nearly always has to pay the transportation charges.

Though the war correspondent sends "news from the front," you never can tell how far he is from the front.

It is all very well to make fun of those foreign names, such as Przemysl and Szouzwy, and the like; but the Poles and Russians doubtless could have just as much innocent merriment with New York and Denver and Portland, if they tried to pronounce them in their alphabet.

PARENTAL INFALLIBILITY.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

It's a tremendous thing to be a parent. We never get over the immensity of it. Once a parent and we have a legitimate subject for swank for the rest of our lives.

And it invariably makes us horribly bossy. We generally take our responsibilities seriously to heart, swell consciously with power, start enacting laws for the home with weighty profundity, and rarely waver in our sublime faith in our capacity for satisfactory upbringing.

We may not count for much in the outside world, but at home with the children, oh, we can show our adamantine wills, our fine strength of character, our absolute infallibility! There we are it, there our word is law, our discretion final.

We are amazed, shocked, that there should ever be any argument. What we have said we have said. Our breasts swell with just indignation that our splendid system of training should have failed in one small particular.

We are great on training. Never a parent yet that didn't flatter itself that training was its strong point. If, to the casual visitor, little Willie gives an impression of being spoiled, that is because they don't understand. We know. If our parental achievements have produced only little Willie and nothing more, we know still better. Our one ewe lamb. We rule him by love and kindness, we concentrate our entire theories and personal influence upon little Willie—and anyone, positively anyone, could pick little Willie out of a crowd of children anywhere at any time. We have him indelibly marked for the rest of his life in a thousand subtle ways.

But if we are the proud parent of several little Willies and little Dorothys, 'tis then that we show our real generalship, our complete understanding, our organizing and governing abilities, our autocratic benevolence, our indubitable infallibility.

Just being a parent ensures our infallibility. Little Willie knows that. We make tremendous decisions offhand—and of course, we are always right. And it makes us very touchy if we catch little Willie's eye upon us with an expression of doubt. Indeed, there have been painful occasions when little Willie has eyed us with an uncomfortable mixture of reproach and scorn. How dare he? What has gone wrong with our training? Of course little Willie must be punished forthwith.

We are great on punishments. We can devise punishments with subtle, fellhe ingenuity. Lives there a parent who has not severely punished a revolt against its infallible decisions? There does not.

For alas, there always comes a day when our infallibility is questioned, when the evidence would even point to the fact that we were possibly wrong, but, being a parent, our dignity, our prestige demands that we exact punishment for the heretic thought, the heretic deed.

Yet in those far-off days when it was fashionable, nay, the recognized chivalrous thing to reverently toast "My Mother!" it was invariably father who was the one utterly, irrevocably infallible person. Mother was inclined to a certain sweet timidity—the kind of mother they toasted—a certain loving humility.

We don't toast our mothers quite so regularly, quite so reverently nowadays—and nowadays one recalls that it is so often mother who is irredeemably infallible. She can justify her every act with a thousand arguments. She is always right, there is never any argument about it.

Of course it is necessary that mother should always be right. Of course she always is right. But all the same . . . well, there is just something about infallibility that isn't a bit lovable. To the ordinary reasonable being—and some of these children are extraordinarily reasonable—infallibility is about the most exasperating thing there is. It is the infallibility of the average teacher that has made it so unusual for anyone to even consider for a moment raising an affectionate, reverential toast to "My Teacher!" On the rare occasions when such an event may have transpired I would stake my last new hat on that teacher being exempt from infallibility.

Of course it is a revolutionary suggestion . . . Well, couldn't we perhaps manage to shed just a soupcon of our infallibility without any serious loss of dignity? You see, those children—one hates to confess it—but they don't really believe in us. After a very few years they get a shade more than a glimmering of the truth. If we are imposing enough, impregnably self-sufficient enough to deceive ourselves and exact their superficial respect and obedience, we may manage to preserve an outward show of infallibility. But they know. And we know. In cases like that we continue to rule by sheer forceful, aggressive, self-assertion. But not by reason, and certainly not by love.

If, just now and again, we confessed ourselves unsure, confessed ourselves mistaken, even confessed ourselves wholly in the wrong, would it be seriously compromising our prestige? It makes one shudder to think of it, of course, and yet. . . .

Well, I can remember my father once apologizing to me, confessing that he had been unfortunately mistaken, and I think I never loved him so much until that day. And I tried it myself on some small persons a few days ago, after much cogitation and many misgivings, and have succeeded in cementing a friendship that I wouldn't part with for anything in the world. They treat me now as a person to be trusted, a person that understands, a person who may make mistakes, but who is sport enough to 'fess up and wipe it out.

And my dignity? It doesn't seem to have suffered one iota. Perhaps it has, of course, yet I cannot pay it the tribute of a parting sigh. It wouldn't have been worth defending at the cost of that precious little understanding.

Ah, parental infallibility, where is thy charm?

The Crisis in the Barber Shop.

The barber to the right of me was hoching for the Kaiser,
The barber to the left of me was hacking for the Czar
A gentleman from Greece was shearing of my fleece,
While very near a swart Italian stropped his scimitar.

And when presently discussion, polygot and fervid,
On political conditions burst about my chair,
I left the place unshaven—I hope I'm not a craven,
But I sort of like to wear a head beneath my hair!

The Moral Side.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a voter, my attention is being particularly called to the subject of California "wet" or "dry," and it surprises me to learn that both sides use money as the principal argument. Why not dwell more on the moral side of the issue?

The mother that puts all loose articles under lock and key to prevent small fingers from meddling with them may be taking an easy course, but she is not teaching self-control or developing character, and is more likely to produce a sneak or a thief.

To my mind, it is about as sensible to talk of prohibition as a cure for drunkenness as it would be to suggest that the United States discontinue the issuance and use of money and prohibit the manufacture of all valuable commodities in order to prevent thieving. If total abstinence is the true moral stand, then the "drys" are surely acknowledging a great weakness if prohibition is the only means by which they consider it can be accomplished.

JAPANESE AND PASADENA GIRL WANT TO AGAIN MARRY.

Illegally Wed at Sea by Clever Ruse, They Ask, Following Arrest, to Go Where Miscegenation is Permitted—"Love One Another," She Says.

Permission to leave the State to contract a marriage unlawful in this State is the request that will be made to Police Judge Chambers this morning by Miss Hazel Baker, a handsome young Pasadena woman, and Arthur S. Goto, young Japanese merchant and university graduate.

Arrested early yesterday morning for violation of the rooming-house ordinance, the couple displayed a marriage certificate signed by Capt. R. S. King of the Crescent Boat Company of San Pedro. The Japanese said he had chartered a launch, his nuptial party had gone out beyond the three-mile limit and the marriage performed by the skipper. It was only yesterday, Miss Baker said, that she learned the ceremony was invalid in the eyes of the law.

"I am married to Mr. Goto," the young woman said yesterday as she sat in the matron's parlor. Her features are refined and her clothes modish. "If I am not married legally them I am bound to him morally. I love him, and love does not stop at color or creed. I shall stick with him whatever happens."

Goto says he is the son of a well-known cloisonne merchant of Kobe and has had a university education. He operated an oriental shop in one of the large Pasadena hotels, and one of his employees was Miss Baker. He later was a concessionaire at Venice. Miscegenation being frowned upon by the State laws, the Japanese and the girl went out onto the high seas.

The two yesterday said they wish to marry again, this time legally, and if the court today will dismiss the complaint against them, they will remove to either Washington or New Mexico, said to be the only two Western States where marriages between Caucasians and Mongolians are permitted.

PRESENT VINDICATION.

Knights of Columbus Refute Authenticity of Document that has been Circulated to Their Discredit.

The Knights of Columbus marked Discovery Day with a large gathering in Columbus Auditorium, last night, designed to enlighten the public concerning the aims and purposes of the order. P. J. McGarry, Grand Knight, presided and delivered an address of welcome to Bishop Conaty and all the guests of the evening.

Judge McCormick, who occupies the position of State Deputy of the order, was the first speaker. He presented as the main portion of his speech, a lengthy statement from four prominent members of the Masonic order, Motley H. Flint, Dana R. Weller, W. R. Harvey and S. P. Burk, who, after having made a careful investigation of all the secret work of the Knights of Columbus, testified that they found nothing in it that was not of the highest type of patriotism and loyalty, and denouncing the so-called "oath of the Knights of Columbus" that has been widely circulated, as an outrage.

P. P. O'Brien followed him, basing his remarks upon the same document. He read portions of the so-called oath and commented upon them in a humorous way. Goy. Barry, governor of the Soldiers' Home, made a short speech, and Bishop Conaty closed the programme. The bishop commented briefly upon what had gone before and expressed his extreme satisfaction at being back home after his somewhat strenuous visit in the European war zone.

There was music by an orchestra, a vocal solo by A. J. Howard, a vocal duet by Barbara Vinette and George Lynch, and a solo by Miss Vinette.

POMPEIAN SILVER
A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL DESIGN

The Pompeian flatware is one of the handsomest of the many exclusive silverware designs shown by Brock & Company.

The Pompeian is an Adam Bros.' inspiration—and seldom, if ever, have the exquisite lines of the early models, with their rare delicacy of ornamentation, been more happily wrought in the tableware of the present day.

The inimitable grace of the Pompeian design makes a strong appeal to those of refined taste.

We invite the attention of wedding gift seekers to our splendid showing of individual serving pieces and table accessories in silver, which provide wide selection for gifts.

A Warner Corset to Fit Any Figure

For the naturally slender woman here is one that will give her the exquisite lissome grace of the young girl.

Low in front to give the pretty uncorseted look at the bust; very slightly curved at waist, with a skirt long but not extreme, and so light and pliable many women choose this for their working corset.
Held tautly and trimly in place by four "Security" Rubber-Button Hose-Supporters. The best Hose-Supporters made, and appropriately enough to be found on all Warner Rust-Proof corsets.

Redfern—a name that denotes quality in corsets as in frocks, are the only models indorsed by fashion makers as sufficiently flexible to give the form the appearance of being uncorseted, which is the keynote of the figure this season.

Redfern models are the corsets that we commend for pliancy and exact shaping.

Becoming Dresses for Street Wear

It seems as though styles never were prettier or more graceful than at present. They suit every type of figure, and are unusually wearable in character. Examples of the smartest—

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

QUANTITIES of beautiful yellow chrysanthemums added charm to the lovely ferns and other growing plants used in decorating, Saturday, for the wedding of Miss Ileen Bullis and Samuel James Campbell of Mt. Carrol, Ill., which took place in the evening at the family home, No. 625 Westlake avenue. The bride was given away by her father, W. S. Bullis, and she was attractive in her mother's wedding gown of white corded silk finished with a long veil fastened with orange blossoms and a shower of orchids and valley lilies. The gown was most appropriate as the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Bullis was an event of just twenty-five years ago and the affair was one of double rejoicing. The young bride was attended, as maid of honor, by Miss Ruth Hutchinson, who was attired in rainbow shades of silk veiled in gold gauze. Yellow pink buds were carried completing the dainty color. The two maids, the Misses Marian Judah and Edith Hutchinson, were garbed in white silk and gold gauze, and yellow silk and gold gauze, respectively. They carried long-stemmed clusters of yellow chrysanthemums. James Bullis was best man. The Rev. Dr. John Balcolm Shaw, pastor of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church, was the officiating clergyman and the service was read in the present Bullis home, while supper was served in their place adjoining. Chrysanthemums were used in both homes, with the exception of the bride's table, which was aglow with a handsome centerpiece of coreopsis. A northern trip will be enjoyed by the young people, who are both Stanford graduates and members of several university organizations, the bride having made the Phi Beta Kappa. Later they will return to this city to bid farewell to their many friends before leaving for the East where Mr. Campbell is vice-president of a bank.

House Guest.

Miss Laura Lynn Keith of St. Louis, Mo., is the house guest of Mrs. John C. Medley of Sierra Park.

Shower for Bride.

Miss Maria Pierce of No. 216 West Twenty-third street, was hostess recently, entertaining with a linen shower in honor of Miss Agnes Danielson, whose engagement to Walter Mortenson was announced some time ago. The home was prettily decorated with blossoms and the fun was shared by Miss Florence Taylor, Miss Minnie Zansen, Miss Vessie Stose, Miss Alma Lee, Miss Esther Norberg, Miss Grace Roberts, Miss Alice Sewell, Miss Agnes Norberg, Miss Luella Barner, Miss Marjorie Isbell, Miss Eileen Seaman, Miss Eva Walberg, Miss Minnie Townsend, Miss Cora Hauser, Mrs. Ernest Walberg, Mrs. Will Kempster, Mrs. Harry Shipman, Mrs. Claud Isbell, Mrs. Orlo Sourman, Mrs. Norberg, Mrs. Danielson and Mrs. Charles Danielson.

Country Club Doings.

The San Gabriel Country Club held the first dance of the season on Saturday evening when numerous hosts contributed to the gaiety of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hickox entertained with a dinner party in honor of the engaged couple, Miss Gwendolins Lawton and J. A. Bell. Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawless had a party of a dozen friends down. Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Diamond, new members, were hosts at another table, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Conger of the Los Angeles Country Club, entertained a large party of friends for San Gabriel's first dance. Mrs. Orrick of Pomona, another new member, entertained a large party, with Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Wood as guests of honor.

The next dance takes place November 21.

The Midwick Country Club postponed its tournaments and dinner dances in condolence with Mrs. H. P. Warden, whose husband, honorary secretary of the club, passed away last week. The next event will take place Saturday.

The Los Angeles Country Club will hold its first big tournament of the season next Saturday also, when a big dinner dance is to complete the evening.

Mrs. Aileen Jacobs entertained with a supper dance at the Annandale Country Club on Saturday in honor of the debutante daughter of P. A. Winter of Pasadena, Miss Charlotte Winter.

It was a very merry affair, with nearly a hundred young people. All the decorations were carried out daintily in pale pink and white.

Miss Mildred Landreth of Pasadena enjoyed a unique little triumph on the links at Annandale. She was admitted to the men's tournament as a very special privilege and won it by two strokes better than any competitor. After this, Annandale proposes to allow the women players to enter for the ordinary weekly tournaments with the men.

At Hotel Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McNaughten are enjoying a pleasant outing at Hotel Virginia, Long Beach. Mrs. McNaughten will be remembered as Miss Edna Letts.

In the East.

Dr. Nettie Hammond-Thurston of Sierra Madre is en route east for a pleasant visit with friends. Dr. Thurston will remain away about two months.

Red Cross News.

Members of the German-Austrian-Hungarian Red Cross Society will spend tomorrow and Thursday sewing for the war sufferers. The members will meet at Temple B'nai B'rith on Ninth street. All German women are requested to attend and bring a basket luncheon.

Have Returned.

Mrs. Loren Crenshaw and daughter, Martha, of No. 517 South Wilton place, have returned from a visit in Lansing, Mich. They were guests of Mrs. Crenshaw's mother, Mrs. Albert De Camp.

Pasadena Gossip.

After passing the summer in New York, Washington, Chicago and Yellowstone Park, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roach of No. 469 South Madison avenue have returned home. Their daughter, Miss Agnes Roach, remained in Washington, where she will attend a noted seminary during the winter.

Mrs. Clara Bryant Heywood, the newly-elected president of the Browning Club of Pasadena, occupied her place formally Thursday afternoon, when the club met for the first time this year.

The club was organized five years ago, when under the direction of Dr. George Wharton James, a little body of women formed a class for the study of Browning. Shortly afterward it was organized into a club and is now reckoned as one of the important factors in the club life of the Crown City. Mrs. Heywood is a gifted woman and is known in club circles of many other cities.

For Bride-Elect.

Among the many charmingly-planned affairs of the month was a theater party given at the Orpheum by Miss Florida Normandin, in honor of Miss Teresa French, who is to wed Julius Pfeiffer of Chicago Thursday. Supper followed at Casa Verdugo Segunda.

Mrs. Samuel James Campbell,

Formerly Miss Ileen Bullis of this city, who was married Saturday evening at the family home.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY AGNES THURNAU.

The lecture on "Woman as a Consumer," by Mary Woolman, celebrated educator and economist, announced for Monday was not given, the club meeting only long enough to draft and pass resolutions of sympathy for the president, Mrs. Bartlett, on the death of her husband, W. S. Bartlett. On October 15 the civics department, of which Mrs. J. H. Francis is curator, will give a political programme. It is to be one of the most important and interesting of the year. There will be a joint debate of the prohibition amendment, Mrs. O. P. Clark leading the affirmative discussion and Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith leading the negative. Mrs. E. C. Bellows will talk on the title land law. A joint debate of the eight-hour law will be led by Mrs. Noel, affirmative; Mrs. Lorin O. Crenshaw and Miss Augusta Lamb, negative. French section meets Friday.

Elsinore.

The Elsinore Woman's Club, one of the most popular organizations in the city, held its initial meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. J. A. Crane on Graham avenue, Elsinore. The affair was in the nature of a reception and the club members, of which there are twenty-one active, one associate and six honorary, each invited a guest. There were forty ladies present.

The club this year is to take up the study of Shakespeare's "Richard III," with English history; the roll call at each meeting is to be answered with current events. The opening programme was as follows: Piano solo, "Narcissus," Mrs. J. T. Kuhns; roll call, vacation reminiscences; Mrs. Ralph Eddy, the president, talked about the year's work; Mrs. J. T. Kuhns and Mrs. Lafayette Yates played a piano duet from "Il Trovatore;" Mrs. L. T. Rush read a synopsis of "Richard III," and Mrs. Sawyer of Riverside, a visitor, spoke on club subjects.

A social hour followed during which the hostess was assisted in entertaining and serving refreshments by Mesdames Oscar Ray, J. T. Kuhns, S. L. Lauler, R. H. Kirkpatrick.

Mrs. Rush will be the hostess at the next meeting, October 22, when the regular club study will be taken up.

Eagle Rock Club.

The Woman's Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock opened October 8. The president's address sparkled with bright suggestions for civic betterment. The civics department will co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce during the year, and a Philanthropy Committee will take care of worthy want and destitution cases that come to the club's attention. The club is eagerly looking forward to owning its own home, and Mrs. Godfrey Edwards, chairman of the Building Committee, with her associate committee members, has spent a busy summer perfecting building plans. She reported her work at the opening meeting, and an interesting feature of the report was the exhibition of plans for the new clubhouse. They show a most attractive and convenient future home for the club.

Contemporary Club.

A 1 o'clock luncheon October 12 opened the year for the Contemporary Club. Members only were present. The day was known as president's day, and in her address the president outlined the year's work. The next meeting will be held October 26. Mrs. E. C. Sterling is hostess for the day. It will be known as hospitality day, and work among the Indians is to be discussed. An interesting exhibit of laces will be a feature of the programme.

Channel Club.

The first meeting of the year will be held at Hotel Clark October 17. The theme of the programme is "The Miracle of Reading," discussion to be led by Mrs. Alice Hunniwell, president.

Los Angeles Teachers.

This is one of the large clubs of the city, and offers a programme of exceeding interest during this month. A series of lectures on "War," to be given by Prof. Raymond of Northwestern University, is a feature. The

SEEM TO LIKE DRAMA MELLOW.

Audience Enjoys the Rustic Play at Mason.

"Trail of Lonesome Pine" Has Pretty Heroine.

Actors Spoil it with Too Much Sing Song.

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" may serve a new audience to the Mason Operahouse. It is not the sort of show that the average Mason audience wants, but it is the kind that a great many persons like. A majority of those present at the opening performance last night liked it exceedingly well.

It is melodrama of the rural type and is beautifully staged, but there should be music for it if the present cast is going to play it. They go through it in a sing-song fashion which they probably intend to be a musical drawl of the South. Instead of drawling, they intone like a priest chanting a mass. They start off in one key and drift through the scale. It would be hard to believe that the mortal error of any section of the country would affect the voice like that. Only two people in the company seem to have any idea of why they are there or any legitimate excuse for being anywhere so far as the stage is concerned.

One of these is Isabel Lowe, who has the bright beauty of autumn leaves and the speaking voice holding the softness and the sweetness of the South. The other is Jack Peele who takes the part of Bob Berkeley, the friend of the young engineer who is the hero of the story. Johny W. Rennie, who takes the part of Uncle Billy, is not so bad, and Noah Beery, as June's father, becomes endurable in the last act.

For all of its many faults the company manages to give the story clearly and entertainingly. The first act discovers the young engineer who has gone into the Virginia mountains to make way for a railroad and to make mineral surveys of the iron and coal lands in a delightful cove.

The scenery for this act depends largely on an effective drop curtain at the back and the way in which it is treated by the lights. It has been wonderfully painted and is as good as a visit to the Blue Ridge range. Through the gap one sees an enchanted river trailing through a valley of gladness close to the big green hills studded by virgin forests. It is a singing river full of mountain trout, sun perch and redeyes. It sparkles with the joy of the sun.

June, the mountain girl, is as sweet as something blooming in the field or as anemons on the hills. Her father is the typical feudist and moonshiner. He has a jug of the real stuff, the genuine mountain dew which has the taste of the shuck on it unspoiled by a revenue stamp, and revels in its fusel oil. It is liquid joy in its first glad unrefinement and they drink it in a pint tin cup which is the next best thing to a gourd. It doesn't belong to the criticism, but I have tried it both ways and like it better either way than some of John Fox's novels.

It is from a story of this name by Fox that Eugene Walter created the play under discussion. He has told the story straight enough without so much as a threat of cleverness at any point. He does not carry the reputation of the girl too far, nor does he make the mistake of making the mountain people over in a few months into something they could not be in fifty years. Neither has he missed the accent and colloquialisme as far as most authors who have attempted this difficult task.

If the company acting it did not sing their lines so mournfully they could bring it down to capital melodrama. The Lone Pine is a fine old tree on a mountain trail at the mouth of the gap. It is beneath its comforting shade that the lovers meet in the first act and that they are wed in the fourth. A lucky stone is used as a talisman and it is true that such a stone is found in one place in the Virginia Mountains, and that to find one is counted the best of fortune.

It is a good black cross made by nature, and looks as if it had been carved in a delicate and wonderful way. One amusing bit in the play is the quarrel between Uncle Billy and his wife. She never addresses him by any other term than "you old fool," and after abusing him as much as she knows how with her tongue, she invites him into the house to have a piece of pie. This nagging is often found in the colorless lives of some of the mountain and backwoods couples, and their troubles are always the community's standing joke.

By the way, the minor part of Loretty Tolliver is capitally taken by Miss Marguerite Abbott, an excellent bit I had quite forgotten in my general appraisement of the company's faults. She is a pretty, dark girl, with plenty of spirit for the spitfire part given her, and is well supported by Adrian Morgan, her rustic beau. The success of the play with the audience last night, like that of the show now running at the Burbank, with the people there, would suggest that the public likes melodrama of the extreme sort about as well as anything else.

RE-ELECTION IN ORDER.

No Change in Officers and Clearing-house Committee is Expected at Annual Meeting Today.

The annual meeting of the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association will be held today, but as it is customary for the officers and committee to serve for two successive years, no change is anticipated. J. E. Fishburn will be re-elected president of the association, J. F. Sartori, vice-president, and J. B. Gist, secretary. The Clearing-house Committee to be re-elected consists of J. E. Fishburn, J. F. Sartori, J. A. Graves, Stoddard Jess and W. H. Holliday.

Clearings for the fiscal year ending September 30, which will be mentioned in the routine report read today, will appear as the enormous sum of nearly $1,182,000,000. The showing is an excellent one considering the unfavorable general business conditions.

VAUDEVILLE AND FILM.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY.

ARNOLD DALY brings the same clever comedy methods to bear on the Schnitzel playlet of the Anatol series, which he does at the Orepheum this week, as those which he used in the Shaw comedy, with less opportunity to show his talents. "Ask No Questions" is somehow sinister, while pretending to be merely amusing. Anatol, like the artist in love which he is, never does find out whether Hilda was true to him, for the very simple reason that he couldn't go to the crass length of questioning her when she was under the spell of hypnotism.

Doris Mitchell is lovely as a marble Clytie in her hypnotic dreams. (Fancy how t'would spoil everything if the lady had a pudgy chin or too much nose!) Again, Ray Brown has the cheerful, matter-of-fact part which relieves the "hoot, mon" situation.

Jessie L. Lasky's "beauties" are, of course, Mae Busch, erstwhile leading woman with Eddie Foy in "Over the River," is the star. She does some beautiful dancing and pleasing singing. And that classy national girl revue at the end, with girls beautiful in ten different languages, is some revue. It makes the ordinary chorus look like a 50-cent calico shirtwaist after a hard day's wash! And William McCarthy, a "beauty seeker," is the original gloom wrecker. While, as for Mortimer Weldon, you can easily see why all those girls want to dance with him. Armand Cortes as Senor Castile, does a clever little bit of burlesque acting, and Eugenie Campbell, as Anne Jones, the reporter, cruises all over the situation like an ideal pencil-pusher. There's less pretense of plot than is usual even in the tabloid musical comedies, but there are some pretty dances and some gay songs, and who cares about plot when the view is GAME BRAVES COME FROM BEHIND IN TWELFTH.

Straight from the Shoulder.

HANK GOWDY'S SLUGGING TURNS TIDE OF BATTLE.

Twelve-inning Fracas Featured by Heavy Hitting of Boston Catcher, Who Delivered a Long Blow at the Precise Moment When it was Most Needed to Tie or Win the Game.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—In one of the hardest-fought games ever played in a world's series, the Boston Braves defeated the Philadelphia Athletics at Fenway Park today, five runs to four. Twelve innings of thrilling baseball were necessary before the National League representatives could record their third consecutive victory for the present series.

So bitterly was the struggle contested by both teams that with the possible exception of the final game between the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox in 1912, nothing equalling today's play has been recorded since the world's series began under National Commission auspices in 1905.

EXCITING.

For three hours and six minutes the two teams alternately led, tied or forged ahead in the score and the game that began in bright sunlight was won in deep twilight with electric signs flashing outside the park and the evening star glimmering overhead. While not the best played game of the series from the standpoint of technical baseball, it was so abounding in dramatic moments, thrilling plays and baseball strategy that the 35,000 spectators who filled the stands were lifted to superheights of enthusiasm by the struggle.

New players mounted to niches in the world's series hall of fame and others suffered the temporary censure of the fans, but when the winning run finally crossed the plate in the dusk the general sentiment was that it was a splendid game to win and a trying one to lose.

ONE MORE.

The Braves rushed joyously from the field determined to clinch the championship title of 1914 with a fourth victory tomorrow, while the Athletics, taciturn and grave, filed slowly out of the park still hopeful that their famous machine would yet arise to the emergency that faced it. To retain the honors won last fall, the Mackmen must win the next four games, a task generally considered impossible by followers of baseball. The odds on the Boston club tonight are 3 to 1, with little Athletic money in sight.

The most striking feature of the play was the fighting spirit shown by the youthful combination that Manager George Stallings has gathered around him to represent this city in the senior league. Repeatedly the Philadelphia team would battle its way into the lead, only to witness its rival draw alongside again in the same or the succeeding inning.

CONSISTENT.

Never once during the long and nerve-racking contest did the Braves cease their attack. Both from an individual and collective standpoint they deserved the victory they won.

The American Leaguers were the first to score, sending a run across the plate in the opening inning on Murphy's two-base salute off Tyler's delivery. He moved to third on Oldring's sacrifice and scored when Connolly dropped Collins's high fly. The Braves tied the score in the second inning on Maranville's walk, steal of second and sprint to the plate on Gowdy's double into the left field bleachers.

In the fourth each team added another run. For the Athletics, McInnis doubled in the same spot and scored on Walsh's single to left.

DUCK SEASON OPENS THURSDAY.

LOOK FORWARD TO A GREAT SEASON.

THOUSANDS OF NIMRODS ARE EXPECTED AT THE OPENING.

BY E. L. HEDDERLY.

Every advance indication of splendid sport with the ducks and quail is the last word before the "grand opening" on October 15, when, for the first time in several years, the Southern California season on both birds opens simultaneously.

Last year the duck hunters began October 1, and were stopped by wire—that is to say, an attempt was made to stop them, with about as much effect as a broom on the incoming tide.

This year the distinctly unfavorable condition of sunrise-opening is to be met, and a falling off in shooting interest is likely to follow, as the remarkable artificial overflow shooting which has made the Southern California clubs famous among scatter-gunners the world over is founded on keeping the birds from fresh water after their night of feeding on the grain stubbles.

By deferring shooting until sunrise, the sprigs fill up on water and go to sea at, or even prior to the first fire, fortified to remain there six or seven hours, which wears out the endurance of the average club hunter, who cannot take more time than that off from business. As a result, the big mid-morning sprig flight does not come in as it used to, and the shooting is made up mostly of teal and spoonbills, which remain on the marsh and stand fire better than the big ducks do.

APPEAL MADE.

An appeal to the Department of Agriculture covering this point has been made, asking a suspension of this rule because of the peculiar local condition, and another year it may be granted; but the time is too short to get relief this season. Some doubt the value of the sunrise law as a protective measure, as they think it will injure the club shooting enough to discourage formation of clubs, which are the only inducement offered to passing waterfowl in this country.

Most of the clubs make Thursday, the opening, free to both their squads. A few, such as the Blue Wing, start their nearest squad instead, the Wednesday brethren in this case.

It is estimated that there will be not less than 10,000 hunters take the field in Southern California October 15, the aggregate of hunting licenses in this county alone being some 20,000. Probably 5000 automobiles will be pressed into service.

In Orange county alone, it is probable that there will be 1000 men in pursuit of ducks on the clubs and outside. This year, owing to Nigger Slough being filled with water and fairly black with ducks, many will hunt there. The property-owners whose land runs into the slough are selling daily hunting privileges for $3 the first day and $1.50 thereafter; and gun salesmen say that they know of hundreds who have engaged tickets, with a prospect of all getting some shooting the first day.

Not in twenty years has there been so many ducks on Nigger Slough, Watson's and the Machado lakes, between San Pedro and Redondo.

MOSTLY SPRIG.

Sprig are the predominating duck in the country, as they always are early in the season. There is a good showing of green-wing and cinnamon teal, and quite a number of spoonbills already have put in an appearance. Not many ruddy-ducks as yet—the "Looby," "wire-tail," "shot-sack," "dipper," "beaver," Elizabeth Lake 'can,'" as the hunters know them. They will delight the greenhorn later—and a few of the experts when higher-fliers fly yet too high.

A few jacksnipe are reported already on the Bolsa Chica and other mud-patch places to the birds' liking. The best shooting on them is forbidden by the Federal law which stops all spring shooting.

PLENTIFUL.

Ducks are reported very plentiful all up and down the Coast, which indicates that the stoppage of spring shooting bore good fruit in inducing the birds to remain here to breed instead of going to the Far North to fill the egg-hunters' sacks and feed the Indians on flapper. There should be a good migration in another month, with favorable weather. To a duck hunter, "favorable" means general storms coming down the Coast, driving the migrants ahead.

Passers-by report a few puddle-ducks on Crane's lake, mostly gadwell, apparently. The canvasbacks do not show much there until mid-November or later.

WHITE SOX GAIN ON THE LEADERS.

CHENEY IS HIT HARD WHILE SCOTT AND FABER ARE STRONG.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—The Chicago Americans gained a game on their National League opponents today, when they won, 3 to 1, thereby making the standing 3 to 2 in favor of the older league representatives for the city championship.

Total paid attendance, 19,343; gross receipts, $12,687.50.

Commission's 10 per cent, $1,268.75.

Each club's share, $5709.37. The players sharing in the receipts ceased with yesterday's game. Score:

Nationals, 1; hits, 5; errors, 0.

Americans, 3; hits, 9; errors, 0.

Batteries: Cheney and Bresnahan; Scott, Faber and Schalk.

WALTER LEVERENZ ISN'T A SUCCESS.

FORMER ANGEL PITCHES ROTTEN BALL AND BREAKS THE REGULATIONS.

Pitcher Walter Leverenz, the southpaw on the Browns' staff, after being charged with something like ten straight defeats, managed to put over a win on September 16, against the Chicago White Sox, but even at that his game had to be saved for him by Baumgardner. Not only has Leverenz pitched bad ball for Rickey this season, but he has shown a bad spirit and it is reported that he drew a $100 fine recently for infraction of the training rules. Doubtless President Hedges has wished more than once that he had let him jump to the Feds last spring, for he has been a costly investment for the St. Louis club.

FIGHT DATES ALL IN THE AIR.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS STILL HAGGLING.

TOM McCAREY SEEMS TO HAVE BEEN BEATEN TO TWO MATCHES.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

The match between Jimmie Clabby and George Chip is still unsettled. Jimmie Dime, manager of Chip, received a telegram yesterday afternoon from Jimmie Coffroth stating that Larney Litchenstein is still holding out for 158 pounds at 6 o'clock. This Dime will not consent to, as Clabby has never balked at meeting any middleweight at 158 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Chip has knocked out both Frank Klause and Billy Murray, twice, and both were touted as coming middleweights. This by far betters any performance of Clabby's and entitles Chip to dictate.

POSSIBILITY.

If the match between Clabby and Chip is not made, Coffroth has the signature of Mike Gibbons, who has agreed to come to the coast and meet Chip at 158 pounds at 3 o'clock.

So, unless Litchenstein gives in to Dime's terms, it will be a match between Chip and Gibbons.

HEAVIES.

The match between Sam Langford and Harry Wills is also still unsettled as far as its taking place here at Vernon is concerned.

Steve Corolo, who has been representing Wills on the Coast for Pete Boly, manager of Wills, said last night: "This match is not definitely settled as yet. I am still waiting to hear from Boly, although I have given my word to Tom McCarey that he will box here. I will be unable to set things aright until I hear from Wills's manager."

LANGFORD SIGNED.

Jimmie Coffroth in his telegram to Dime also said that he had the signature of Joe Woodman, manager of Langford, to meet Wills in this club in San Francisco and that Woodman had asked for two round-trip tickets, which Coffroth was ready to send as soon as he got a definite answer.

According to these reports, Coffroth seems to have beaten Tom McCarey out at each and every turn. But McCarey is still onto the job and may possibly land one or both matches before the month is out.

Coffroth also says that in case both these matches fall through, he has a chance to match Tom McMahon and Wills for November 6.

SCHIFF AGAIN.

We received an interesting letter from the irrepressible Johnny Schiff from London, in which he says: "I am here working with Jack Johnson." By that he probably means he is boxing as a preliminary exhibition to Jack and his sparring partner.

He also says he is matched to meet Owen Moran in a twenty-round contest, and styles himself the feather-weight champion of the world, and incidentally says he is now weighing 133 pounds, stripped.

No wonder he will fight Moran, since Owen was reported as dying of consumption several months ago.

SOME FAVORITE.

Schiff is (according to his letter) a great favorite in London, and is much taken with the town. He says the Londoners spend the biggest part of the night looking out and watching the skies for German bums (bombs he meant,) but if it is bums, how does Johnny get by?

Johnny also says that Jack Johnson is liked there, but is continually running down the American press sporting reporters. What a terrible blow to us.

After Schiff ends his engagement with Johnson he will return to New York and then back to dear old Los Angeles, where he admits is the only place on earth to live.

Johnny is nothing if not a booster, and we will all be glad to see him back, but some of our preliminary boys will have to hunt their holes when he arrives.

GOWDY WASN'T GOOD ENOUGH FOR M'GRAW; HE BATS .667.

Some Story.

HOW THE BRAVES CAME FROM BEHIND AND WON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—The vast crowd had settled back some time before Umpire Klem called "play ball." Tyler was given an encouraging cheer as he walked to the pitching mound. His first offering to Eddie Murphy, first up for the Athletics, was a ball and the next was a strike that cut the plate in two.

As the third ball came down the alley, Murphy shot it down the left-field foul line for two bases, to the great delight of the Athletic rooters. Rube Oldring sacrificed, Tyler to Schmidt, advancing Murphy to third. Murphy scored when Collins drove a long fly to Connolly in left field. Connolly dropped the ball, but Collins was credited with a sacrifice fly.

STEALS SECOND.

Collins was held on first as Baker struck out. Collins fiddled off the base until he caught sight of a slow pitch and then stole second. McInnis walked and a moment later Collins was caught off second taking a long lead, Tyler making a quick throw to Evers, ending the inning.

Bush, who starred for the Athletics in the last world's series, when he won in a game against the New York Giants on the Polo Grounds, had trouble in disposing of Moran, Boston's first batter. He pitched ten balls to the Braves' lead-off man; three balls, two strikes, four fouls and then the pitch on which Moran hit up into the air to Collins.

EVERS SINGLES.

Evers brought the Boston rooters to their feet by dashing a single into left field. Connolly lifted a high foul that Baker caught within a few inches of the Athletics' bench. The ever-alert Johnny Evers stole second, but he was left there, as Whitted fell a victim to strikes.

The second inning of the American Leaguers was quickly over, Walsh, who was playing in center field as Strunk, the regular man, does not hit well against left-handed pitching, chopped a grounder at Tyler, who threw him out at first. Barry raised a foul which big Schmidt gathered in without effort. Schang put up a fly which Evers had to back out to right field to get.

TIED UP.

The National League champions tied up the score in their half of the inning after two hands were out. Schmidt struck out on Bush's slow balls. Deal hoisted a fly to Baker. "Rabbit" Maranville worked Bush for a base on balls, then stole second. He wasn't there long before Gowdy sent him home by a slashing two-base drive into the bleachers in left field. Tyler went Barry to McInnis.

The world's champions also went out in order in the third inning. Bush fouled out to Schmidt, and Murphy was retired on a sharply hit grounder, Evers to Schmidt. Oldring, after hitting at two very wide balls, ended the inning by grounding out, Maranville to Schmidt.

NOTHING HERE.

Boston fared no better in its half of the third. Baker scooped up Moran's grass cutter and tossed him out. Evers dropped a little grounder to Bush and was also retired. Connelly gave Murphy a long fly in right field.

The Athletics put together their second run in the fourth inning. After Collins had shot a hot liner at Evers which the Boston captain held, Baker struck out for the second time and there was great cheering.

"Stuffy" McInnis waited until he stood three and two, and then caught the groove ball on the nose and lifted it into the left-field bleachers for two bases. Connolly made a daring try for the ball. He leaped into the air, lost his balance and fell backward into the bleachers. He was out of sight for several seconds, but bobbed up unhurt and was cheered for his effort.

A RUN.

Walsh also waited until he was three and two and then slashed a single to left, bringing McInnis home. As McInnis was about to round third Deal got in his way and both Harry and Davis, who was on the coaching lines for the Athletics, and McInnis complained to Umpire Klem against Deal's alleged interference, but as McInnis had scored there was nothing for the umpire to decide. Barry grounded out Deal to Schmidt, leaving Walsh on first.

With the Athletics having the advantage, the Boston rooters called for runs and the Braves responded by putting one across in their half of the fourth inning. Whitted drove a hot grounder at Bush, which the Philadelphia pitcher could not hold, but he managed to deflect it to Collins who tossed the runner out in the nick of time.

ON SECOND.

Schmidt delighted the ome fans by pushing a fine single into center and the big first baseman rushed to second as Collins threw out Deal. With Maranville up and Schmidt on second, the vast crowd started a great noise. The Boston shortstop hit a sharp ball that went down the right-field line. It struck close to the chalk mark and shot against the pavilion fence, then caromed into the field again. Schmidt raced home and Maranville also made the circuit of the bases while Collins, Murphy and Walsh chased the ball.

All this time Umpire Hildebrand was making frantic signals that the ball had struck foul. He pointed to a spot about an inch outside the line while the great crowd cheered, not realizing that the ball had been declared foul. The Boston players appeared as much surprised as the most dyed-in-the-wool fan. After some discussion Maranville returned to the bat and Schmidt to second.

LANDS AGAIN.

The great cheering was renewed when the little shortstopper dropped a hit in right field, on which Schmidt tied up the score. Maranville stole second and kept right on to third, when Schang's throw to the middle bag to head the runner off went wide and rolled into center field.

Gowdy passed to first and on an attempted double steal, Maranville was out, Schang to Collins to Baker.

The Athletics got a man on the paths in the fifth inning, Schang gave Moran a long fly. Deal ran in and picked up Bush's grounder and tossed him out, Bush making no effort to run to first. Murphy drove a smashing two-bagger into left field, but got no further, as Oldring struck out.

EVERS AGAIN.

Boston also got a man on in their half of the fifth, after Tyler was thrown out, Bush to McInnis, and Moran was retired, Barry to McInnis, Evers got in his second hit, a single to left field. He got no further, as Connolly failed to respond to the crowd's urging to "hit 'er out," going out, Collins to McInnis.

A quick double play by the famous Evers-Maranville-Schmidt route broke up the Athletics' sixth inning. Collins singled down to third base and beat the throw to first. Baker pounded a grounder at Evers, and Collins was doubled at second, Evers to Maranville, and Baker was out, Maranville to Schmidt. McInnis hit weakly to Deal and was thrown out.

DEAL DOUBLES.

A two-base hit did not help Boston in the sixth. Whitted was thrown out, Bush to McInnis, and Schmidt lifted a fly, which Oldring gathered in. Deal then slammed the ball into the favorite left-field bleachers for two bases. He got no further, as Maranville hit a fly straight up in the air, which Schang got in his mitt in front of the pitcher's box.

Tyler made short work of the White Elephants in the seventh. Walsh fouled to Deal, Barry was thrown out, Tyler to Schmidt, and Schang went out, Evers to Schmidt.

The National Leaguers also went out in order in their half. Gowdy was an easy out, Barry to McInnis, and Tyler struck out. Moran went out, Barry to McInnis.

NOTHING HERE.

Both pitchers were going fine, and the eighth inning also was barren of results. Bush had great speed and frequently mixed this up with a slow ball, while Tyler often used a slow curve.

Bush was thrown out at first on a fine piece of fielding by Schmidt, who got an ugly ground ball far back of first, and, while off his balance, tossed to Tyler, who covered the bag. Murphy flied out and Oldring lifted one to Moran.

The Braves all went out at first in the eighth, Evers being thrown out by Bush and both Connolly and Whitted by Barry.

EXCITEMENT.

The great excitement of the game began in the ninth. With the score a tie at 2-2, it was Stallings's tactics against those of Connie Mack. There was cheering as Collins was thrown out on a fine stop by Maranville. The hearts of the Boston fans almost stopped beating as Baker drove a hot two-bagger down the right-field foul line. Evers encouraged Tyler and there was cheering again when McInnis flied out to Connolly and Baker was held on second.

The Boston battery looked at the Boston bench, and Walsh was purposely passed to first. Barry brought the inning to a close by sending a high foul to Gowdy.

Tension grew as Boston came in for the ninth. The great crowd made a terrific din, but Pitcher Bush apparently paid no attention to it. He pitched steady ball and Boston went out in order. Schmidt and Deal were thrown out by Baker, and a hush fell over the great crowd as Barry threw out Maranville.

BIG INNING.

Then came the big inning of the game, in which the contest was apparently lost to Boston and then saved. Schang shot a single into left field. The crowd looked for a pinch hitter, but Mack sent in Bush. He struck out. Murphy hopped a grounder at Tyler, who elected to get the nearest man, Schang, at second, but the throw was too late, and both the Athletic catcher at second and Murphy at first were safe. Both runners were advanced on Oldring's out at first, Tyler touching the ball as it shot by him to Evers, who gathered it in and made the throw. Collins was given a base on balls. With the bases full, the mighty Baker came to bat. Things looked shaky for Tyler. He never quivered, however, as he faced Baker. Baker crouched over the plate and swung his bat back and forth. Tyler kept his head, and soon had two strikes on the heavy hitter. Then Tyler sent one down the alley that looked good, and Baker smashed it at Evers with such force that it almost knocked him down.

TOO HOT.

Before the Braves' second baseman could recover himself Schang had flashed across the plate. Evers held the ball a moment, and Murphy, who had rounded third, kept on, scoring without Evers making an attempt to head him off. There was great joy on the Athletics bench. McInnis ended the inning by sending a long fly to Whitted.

With two runs to the rear and Bush pitching glit-edged ball, things looked gloomy for Boston. Gowdy walked to the plate with a smile on his face, notwithstanding the dull prospect. He waited and caught a straight ball, which he lifted into the bleachers far off in center field. It was a tremendous drive, and he was wildly cheered as he crossed the plate.

"Josh" Devore was sent in to bat for Tyler. The crowd had a "hunch" that Josh, with his luck, would produce a hit, but he struck out. There were more cheers when Moran walked and there was a great outburst when he raced to third on Evers's third single of the game.

HIS CHANCE.

The crowd frantically yelled to Connolly to tie the score. The Athletics' fielders backed out toward the fences, and the Braves' greatest hitter rapped a long sacrifice fly to Walsh. Moran came home with the tieing run, amid the wildest kind of cheering. Whitted fouled out to Baker.

James went in to pitch for Boston in the eleventh. Walsh dropped a grounder in front of James and was thrown out. Barry rolled another grounder to Schmidt, who scooped up the ball and touched first. Schang walked and Bush struck out.

It was one, two, three for the Braves in their half of the eleventh. Schmidt fouled out to Schang. Murphy gathered in Deal's long fly and Baker shot Maranville's slow grounder to first ahead of the winner.

Darkness was setting in and electric signs on buildings outside the grounds began to gleam. There was speculation as to whether the game would be called, but Umpire Klem called "batter up."

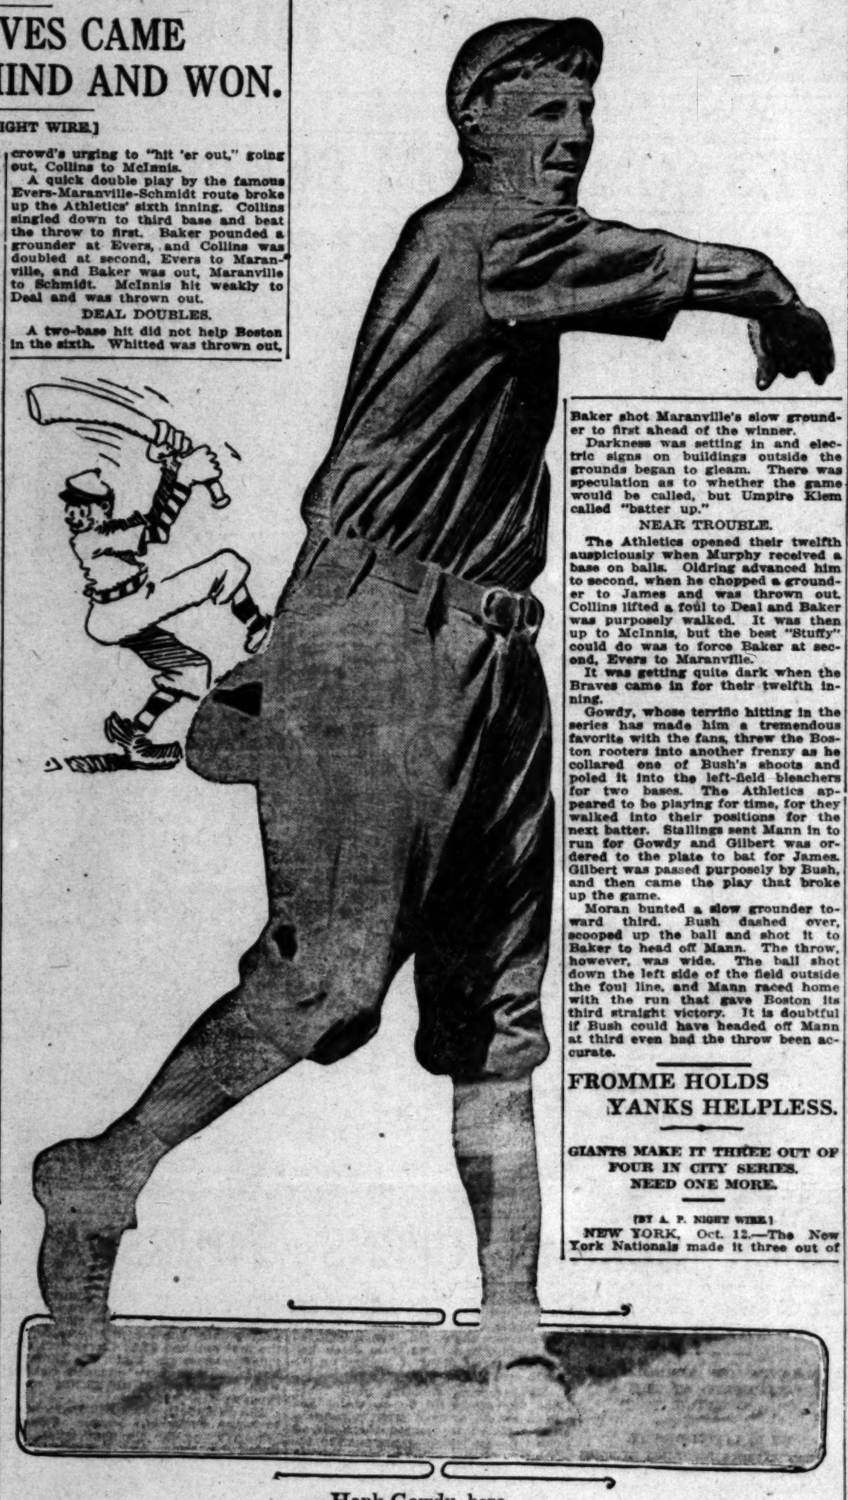
NEAR TROUBLE.

The Athletics opened their twelfth auspiciously when Murphy received a base on balls. Oldring advanced him to second, when he chopped a grounder to James and was thrown out. Collins lifted a foul to Deal and Baker was purposely walked. It was then up to McInnis, but the best "Stuffy" could do was to force Baker at second, Evers to Maranville.

It was getting quite dark when the Braves came in for their twelfth inning.

Gowdy, whose terrific hitting in the series has made him a tremendous favorite with the fans, threw the Boston rooters into another frenzy as he collared one of Bush's shoots and poled it into the left-field bleachers for two bases. The Athletics appeared to be playing for time, for they walked into their positions for the next batter. Stallings sent Mann in to run for Gowdy and Gilbert was ordered to the plate to bat for James. Gilbert was passed purposely by Bush, and then came the play that broke up the game.

Moran bunted a slow grounder toward third. Bush dashed over, scooped up the ball and shot it to Baker to head off Mann. The throw, however, was wide. The ball shot down the left side of the field outside the foul line, and Mann raced home with the run that gave Boston its third straight victory. It is doubtful if Bush could have headed off Mann at third even had the throw been accurate.



Hank Gowdy, hero.

This person has, during three games of the world's series, made six hits, including three doubles, a triple and a home run. He incidentally drew a pass, stole a base and engineered the play which twice caught Eddie Collins on base.

FROMME HOLDS YANKS HELPLESS.

GIANTS MAKE IT THREE OUT OF FOUR IN CITY SERIES. NEED ONE MORE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The New York Nationals made it three out of four today over the New York Americans, winning by 6 to 1 in the Manhattan championship series. Fromme pitched a splendid game. The Yankees now must win three straight to take the series. Score:

Nationals, 6; hits, 10; errors, 1.
Americans, 1; hits, 5; errors, 3.
Batteries: Fromme and Meyers; McHale, Keating, Cole and Sweeney.

THE GAME PLAY BY PLAY.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

FIRST INNING.

Philadelphia—The first pitch of Tyler's was a ball. The next came over for a strike. Murphy doubled down the left field line. Oldring sacrificed, Tyler to Schmidt, Murphy going to third. The Boston infield came in close on the grass to make a play at the plate. Murphy scored when Connolly dropped Collins's sacrifice fly. Baker struck out. He missed a curve by a yard. Gowdy tried to pick Collins off first, but his throw failed. Collins stole second, Gowdy's throw being low. McInnis walked. Collins was picked off Second, Tyler to Evers. One run, one hit, one error.

Boston—Bush's first pitch shot around Moran's neck for a ball. After pitching three straight balls Bush put over two strikes. Moran then fouled off the next four pitches. Moran popped out to Collins. Evers singled over Barry's head. Bush worked a fast inshoot almost exclusively. Connolly fouled out to Baker, who made the catch near the Athletics' bench. Evers stole second, Schang's throw being to the left of the bag. Whitted was a strike-out victim. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING.

Philadelphia—The Athletics were now ahead for the first time in the series. Tyler took Walsh's splash and threw him out. Tyler worked a wide curve and had a deceptive cross-fire, Barry out on a foul to Schmidt. Tyler fed Schang with slow curves. Evers took Schang's lopping fly with his gloved hand. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Schmidt struck out, being fooled by Bush's change of pace. Deal flew out to Baker. The wind almost carried the ball out of Baker's reach. Maranville walked. Maranville stole second. Maranville scored when Gowdy knocked a two-bagger into left field bleachers. Tyler almost got a hit down the left field line, but the ball was foul by a foot or more. Barry threw out Tyler at first. One run, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNING.

Philadelphia—Bush fouled out to Schmidt. Evers tossed out Murphy at first. Maranville threw Oldring out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Both pitchers worked slowly and, as the players were inclined to walk them out, the game moved slowly. Moran out, Baker to McInnis. Bush threw out Evers at first. Connolly flew out to Murphy. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Collins lined out to Evers. Baker struck out for the second time, a low ball around the knees getting him for the third strike. Murphy doubled into the left field corner. Connolly in trying to catch the ball turned a somersault over the low fence, falling inside the stand. He was unharmed. McInnis scored on Walsh's sharp single to left, which Connolly juggled a little. McInnis complained to the umpire that Deal had interfered with him rounding third. Deal threw out Barry at first. One run, two hits, no errors.

Boston—Whitted's grounder was deflected from Bush to Collins, who threw the runner out at first. Schmidt singled over second. Collins tossed out Deal at first, Schmidt going to second. Maranville got a long hit to left field, Schmidt scoring on the play, but the umpire declared it to be foul. Schmidt and Maranville had crossed the plate before the ball was recovered, but the umpire sent them back. Schmidt scored on Maranville's two-bagger. Maranville stole second and went to third when Schang's throw went to center field. Gowdy walked. Maranville was caught off third on an attempted double steal, the play being Schang to Collins to Baker. One run, two hits, one error.

FIFTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Schang flied out to Moran. Deal threw out Bush. Bush making no attempt to run out his hit. Murphy doubled to left. It was his second two-bagger. Oldring struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston—Bush threw out Tyler. Barry took care of Moran's grounder and threw him out at first. Evers got a single to left, just out of Barry's reach. Collins threw out Connolly at first. It was a slow roller and Collins made a nice play on it. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SIXTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Collins bounced a hit off Deal's glove. A double play followed: Evers took Baker's grounder and tossed to Maranville, forcing Collins. Maranville then threw out Baker. Deal threw out McInnis. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston—Bush tossed out Whitted at first. Schmidt out on a fly to Oldring. Deal doubled into the left-field stand. Maranville out on a high fly to Schang, who took the ball near the pitcher's box. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Walsh fouled out to Deal. Tyler tossed out Barry at first. Evers threw out Schang. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Barry threw out Gowdy at first. Tyler fanned. Barry threw out Moran at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Bush was out, Schmidt to Tyler on the base line during play of the latter. Schmidt took the ball near the foul line, and made a backhanded throw to Tyler. Murphy out on a high fly to Whitted. Oldring out on a fly to Moran. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Boston—Bush tossed out Evers. Barry threw out Connolly at first. Whitted out by Barry-McInnis route. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING.

Philadelphia—Maranville threw out Collins. It was a good throw by the Boston shortstop. Baker shot a double down the right field line. McInnis flied out to Connolly. Walsh was purposely walked. Barry fouled out to Gowdy. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Boston—Baker threw out Schmidt. Baker also threw out Deal. It was a fast play and threw by Baker. Barry threw out Maranville. No runs, no hits, no errors.

TENTH INNING.

Philadelphia—The game was tied, not only on runs, but hits and errors also. Schang singled to left. Bush fanned. Murphy hit to Tyler, who threw late to Maranville to catch Schang. Murphy was also safe on the fielder's choice. Oldring out, Evers to Schmidt. The ball also struck Tyler and he also got an assist on the play. Collins walked. Schang scored. Murphy also scored on Baker's infield hit. Evers was paddling the ball when Murphy ran home. The official scorer gave Murphy a stolen

Hank Gowdy's Slugging.

Schmidt responded for the home team with a single over second, advanced on Deal's out and counted on Maranville's single to right.

With the score 2 to 2, the play continued without advantage one way or the other until the tenth inning. The Mackmen began the extra session by scoring two runs when Schang singled to left and was safe on Tyler's late throw to second on Murphy's grounder to the pitcher. After Oldring was out, Collins walked and Schang and Murphy scored on Baker's single.

HANK'S HOMER.

Gowdy started the Braves's rally with a home run into the bleachers back of center field. Moran got a pass off Bush, went to third on Evers's single over second and came home on Connolly's sacrifice fly. Again the score was tied.

Another inning and a half passed without result, but when Catcher Gowdy came to bat for the Boston club in the twelfth session he opened with a double to left field, his third hit of the game. From the midway bag he called for a relief runner and Mann was sent to his place. Bush purposely passed Gilbert, sent in as a pinch hitter for James.

THE SCORE.

When Moran bunted half way between third and the pitcher's box, Bush grabbed the ball and attempted to catch Mann at Baker's station. "Bullet Joe's" throw was wild. The ball went into left field, the relief runner rounded third and romped home with the winning run and the Braves' third victory in three games.

Although Gowdy did not cross the plate with the run which his double started, he was the hero of the game. His two doubles and home run in four times at bat were the feature hits of the contest. Capt. Johnny Evers was second with three singles, and Schmidt, Deal and Maranville also contributed opportune hits. Murphy, with two doubles, and Baker with a double and single, were the leading Athletic batters.

THE BATTERIES.

The battery work was not as clean-cut or spectacular as in the preceding games. In addition to Bush's wild throw that closed the contest, Catcher Schang was charged with an error for the Athletics. Bush in twelve innings fanned four and walked an unusual number of Boston batters. Tyler struck out four and passed three Mackmen in ten innings, while James fanned one and walked three in his two periods on the mound.

THE FIELDERS.

Fielding honors were divided by Baker, with two successive stops and throws in the ninth inning, and Schmidt, who in the eighth inning got Bush's whistling drive along the base line with a one-hand stab and while prone on the ground threw the runner out at first. Connolly contributed the Braves' only error when he dropped Collins's hoist in the opening inning.

A record Boston world series crowd witnessed the game, 35,520 persons paying $62,808 to pass through the turnstiles into the park.

SOME COIN.

Of this sum the National Commission took $6380.80, the players received $24,456.32 and the club owners $11,485.44. Had the capacity of Fenway Park been greater these figures would have been considerably increased. The bleacher gates were opened at 9 o'clock and the long rows of fans, many of whom had stood in line all night, filed through so rapidly that within less than two hours the gates were closed, with several thousand still clamoring for admission.

In the reserved sections were many who paid speculators fancy prices for pasteboards at the last moment, in order to gain a place among the cheering clans which jammed every available foot of space not deadlined by the fire and police authorities. So great was the crush that several hundred who had no coupons fought their way through the gates.

BIG CROWD.

The stands which surrounded the field on all sides except back of deep center were black with the solidly massed spectators. Outside the park every high office building and apartment-house roof carried a heavy contingent of fans, many of whom were so far away that the ball players must have assumed microscopic proportions. Yet they cheered each play just as enthusiastically as the fans in the stands and the boys perched high up in cross-arms of the towering flagpole.

Weather conditions favored both the players and the spectators. The sky was partly overcast and while a stiff wind blew out of the west, the almost continuous ring of stands cut off the strength of the blast.

HOW IT LOOKS FROM THE BLEACHERS

The Rugby games of this week hurry the season into the thick of the pre-season play. Santa Barbara will come down on Saturday for a chance against L. A. High. Redlands will be out at Manual tackling the Toilers. Riverside will be over at Praeger Park scrumming it with the Mechanics. While Hollywood will be content with a fling at Arden again.

• • •

The threatened come-back of Los Angeles High is agitating the Rugby and prep ranks. The name "Tad" Wieman seems to strike all prep fifteens with a holy terror.

Simpered Down.

Coach Featherstone has simmered the Cliffdweller first squad down to a few men, and is rapidly rounding a team into shape. He is sparing no efforts. He worked the men from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

He has switched the back field around until it has got going. Cliff Bowes is at half, Nye Moses at first, Capt. Fishburn at second five, and Dell at center three. A lively scrap is going on for the wing berths between Isenberg, Burrell, Jamison and Schaefer. Janes has developed into a sensational full with a quick boot to touch and a wicked tackle.

"Tad" Wieman.

But the L. A. scrum seems to be the thing with "Tad" Wieman as the center of interest. Babe Henry, Nimmer, Pendergast and Pentz are the most promising of the front rankers. Lee and Sherman seem to have a hammerlock on the side ranks. Art Hasting is the lock, while Wieman and Swanthae are tearing around the scrum as breakers. It looks now as if Wieman is to be center of the Featherstone scoring machine. Whenever L. A. gets near the goal he grabs the ball and makes a wild dash for a try.

What Blair Says.

The other preps do not know just how to take this Wieman proposition, but Blair of Manual voiced the sentiment very well the other day, when he said:

"L. A. thinks this Wieman is some guy. I guess he is good. But there are other scrum men in the south."

"Has Manual anybody who can stop him?" he was asked.

"Only four or five or six men," added Capt. Blair. "That's all."

Toilers Coming.

Manual is coming. Coach Fritsch has practically decided on the back field. He is trying to work it into a scoring machine, and Blair, the half, says that he has more confidence when he shoots the call out this year than he had last.

Nightly scrimmages are in order. The back field is lining up something like this: Capt. Blair, half, with Thomas and Stanley understudies; Galloway, first five; Hughes and Smith, second five; Lake, center three; Repath, Griffin and Tascon, wings; Mauer and Davis, full.

It is a safe bet that the backs are going to play a larger part in Manual play than ever before. Coach Fritsch likes a scrum and fighting packs, but there is nothing like a fast back field for rapid scoring.

An Alibi.

Capt. Gooding of Hollywood has very little to say about the defeat in Pomona. It seems that there was a carnival at Hollywood on Friday night, and that several Hillmen took in the whole thing, getting home about midnight. That and the long train ride made them play like mudmen, according to the captain.

The Hillmen hope to get going again with the assistance of the Arden Club and are just aching for a chance at Coach Evans's fast team.

Riverside Coming.

Poly will play Gardena in a practice game tomorrow, which is in accordance with Coach Haslett's policy of developing the Mechanics at the bruises of the smaller schools.

Riverside, according to all reports, has a fast aggregation. Capt. Eric Pedley of polo and tennis fame, is a fighter and not afraid of being hurt. Under his leadership Gossett's bunch should make a comfortable showing against the Mechanics Saturday. There may even be gnashing of teeth just across from the ball park.

Hall's Men.

Santa Ana High will play its first football game against San Diego High in the southern city next Saturday. Coach Hall, one-time all-southern end and one of the Trojans' famous athletes, is in charge at Santa Ana. The U.S.C. freshmen sort of smeared Santa Ana, but that is the very best thing that can happen to any prep team in its first practice game.

Whittier Doubtful.

Whittier High, which was so woefully treated by Seay's Pasadena team, will tackle the U.S.C. freshmen at Bovard Field this week-end. Inasmuch as the Trojan babies played Pasadena to a 0 to 0 score, Whittier is not taking a too optimistic view of their chances in the game.

Coming Event.

PHOENIX ROAD RACE TO CLOSE ENTRY THURSDAY.

BY AD G. WADDELL.

THE first closing of entries for the seventh annual Los Angeles-Phoenix race will be noon, Thursday. For those who have not prepared their cars in time, or prefer to experiment on the course further before reaching a decision, a week of grace is allowed and post entries will be accepted until noon Thursday, October 22.

Several cars that have not been entered are known to be working out on the course at this time. These drivers preferred to look the situation over thoroughly before putting their cars to such a test, but as all are confident there is reason to believe they will be at the office of the Racing Committee of the W.A.A. in plenty of time.

G. P. Bullard, who is attending to the interests of the race at Phoenix, has assured Chairman L. T. Shettler he is confident the two cars that have been prepared in that city will be at the starting line the morning of November 9.

Two cars are said to have been fitted out at San Diego for the purpose of competing in the "cactus derby" and a Capistrano enthusiast already has gone over the course in his mount. At least one entry is expected from Escondido.

Don Lee's forces are exerting their energies to secure two of the new eight-cylinder Cadillacs in time for the race and a Paige also is promised. Billie Taylor is back after going over the course in his Alco and says he expects to be among those to get in before the entrance fee is advanced to those who wait until after Thursday. To make a post entry costs an additional $100, but there are some who are so determined upon having their cars bear a certain number they may wait in order to satisfy their whim.

Chairman Shettler will devote the latter part of this week to accepting reservations for the Howdy Special, which this year is expected to eclipse all previous excursions held in conjunction with the race. Only sixty-eight may be accommodated on the special and it is expected this quota will be filled within the first few days after reservations are accepted.

Season passes will be mailed all exhibitors today, and tickets will go on sale at the show headquarters at once.

Don Lee expects word from his Los Angeles manager, Joe Brown, today, regarding the shipment of a Cadillac eight for the show. The first of the new Cadillacs had not been completed Saturday, and Manager Brown is in the East to secure delivery on one as soon as it is out of the shops. If it is possible to obtain a car before tomorrow noon, it will be rushed aboard an express car and start on its fast trip West at once. Manager Brown also is looking after the delivery of cars for the Phoenix race.

TIGERS AND QUAKERS GO INTO SECRET TRAINING.

Nervous Tension at Occidental — Bill Holman Narrowly Escapes Bodily Injury — Brownell, Bogue and Chambers Back in Quaker Line-up — Coach Glaze Gets Speed Craze.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

WITH the Tiger-Quaker struggle only six days away, Coach Pipal has thrown his sentry line in a mile circle around the Occidental campus, and Coach Wilson has bought a Yale lock for Hadley field.

Bill Holman, a member of the U.S.C. freshman team, had the audacity to take a short cut across the Occidental campus yesterday afternoon, and Coach Pipal gave orders to his faithfuls to "get every stranger off the field and shoot him if he don't go."

AFTER BILL.

Five or six students made a wild dash over the hill in the direction in which Holman had gone, only to see his coattails flapping in the glare and the dust a mile down the road. So the day may be said to have passed off rather quietly without any captures and no carnage.

When white flags were waving on every hilltop, Coach Pipal began driving the Tigers. When darkness fell they were gliding up and down the field like shadows, running through new formations.

NERVOUS.

Coach Pipal is aroused. Wherever he is a nervous tension tingles in the air. He is not coaxing the Tigers now. He orders the men into their places with a snap. When something goes wrong, he expresses himself in very plain, effective language. The days of honeyed speech at Occidental are over.

"More-speed" Pipal is whipping a varsity into shape for one of the toughest games of the year—the game that will make or break the Tigers, champions for two years. The outsider who crunches the sacred sand of Occidental field while a practice is in progress had better make his last will and testament and his peace with all men.

THE BAWL-OUT.

The Tigers came out of the L.A.A.C. game with few scratches and less glory. But Coach Pipal did not scrimmage them yesterday. He gathered them in a circle in the middle of the field for a lecture. Although no one was allowed within hearing distance but the players, the rising inflections of his voice, which pierced the hot, soggy air, made the students, huddled along the training quarters, speak in awesome whispers.

There will be scrimmages at Occidental today and tomorrow with light, fast practices Thursday and Friday. Then the Whittier battle will be in the hands of the fates. Coach Pipal has a way of putting fight into a team, of making the Tigers see blood. When they step onto Hadley field—their hoodoo grounds—it will be with set teeth and small, cruel eyes.

BEHIND THE YALE LOCK.

While the Tigers were running signal practice yesterday afternoon, the Quakers were scrimmaging in secret behind the gates with the Yale lock. Brownell, Bogue and Chambers, who have been nursing injuries, did not get into the rough play.

Coach Wilson said last night that they would scrimmage today and tomorrow, and that they would be in shape for Saturday. That dynamites whatever hopes the Tigers had of those three adorning the sidelines. While these men have not scrimmaged for a week, they have been running through signals every night.

Their little vacation did not seriously affect the Quakers. There will be only two more scrimmages at Hadley field.

Out at Whittier all is excitement. Football is holding its own against the world's series. The town folks are all for the Quakers. They will not concede the Tigers a show. There is nothing that stirs the Quakers like the hope of victory. Saturday will be a municipal holiday in Whittier.

MORE SPEED AT U.S.C.

The Trojans, also, laid off on the scrimmages yesterday and devoted their time to signal practice. Coach Glaze was after them with shouts, forcing the men into faster play. He, too, has become a maniac for speed. The slow falling into positions on Saturday almost drove him wild.

The shift plays went off with dispatch. There was no loitering. The Trojans followed the ball like bloodhounds on the scent.

U.S.C. is going to wreck havoc before the season is over. They outweigh every other varsity by pounds and pounds. The men are fast—exceptionally fast for their weight. If Coach Glaze can get them going as they can go, something very terrible is apt to happen.

The big Trojan scrimmage of the week comes tomorrow, when "Nap" d'Aule, who made a showing against the Tigers, will pit his clubmen against U.S.C.

THE ONLOOKERS.

At the Whittier-Occidental battle will be every member of the U.S.C. team. Manager Watkins very thoughtfully left that date open. Coach Glaze figures that both the Tigers and Quakers will have to open up and that the Trojans will know a thing about them.

The interest each varsity is taking in the others is astounding. Both Coach Pipal and Coach Stanton left their varsities to play on their own hook, while they watched the U.S.C.-Redlands game of Saturday. Trojans were watching the Huns and Tigers play. All Whittier was at Occidental Saturday.

PHILADELPHIA FANS EXCITED.

THREW HATS IN AIR WHEN THE ATHLETICS PULLED AHEAD.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—Such enthusiasm as the Athletics' supporters previously had not had occasion to manifest during the present championship series gave way today to a profound silence when the final flash showed the Braves the victors for the third successive time. When Murphy and Schang dashed across the plate in the tenth inning, giving the Mackmen a two-run lead, a mighty shout went up from the thousands of fans who were watching the progress of the game as displayed on electric boards in many parts of the city. Hats were thrown in the air and the chorus, which lasted for fully five minutes could be heard for several blocks. Efforts of the police to preserve order were futile.

Even when Gowdy slammed the ball for a home run in Boston's half of the tenth the crowds did not become disheartened, but when the Braves again tied the score confidence in the Mackmen seemed to waver. When the final flash came expressions that "It seems to be nearly all over," could be heard from every side.

Three to one was being offered here tonight that Boston would win the series, with few takers. There were several bets made, however, on tomorrow's game at even money and ten to eight in favor of Boston.

ROLLER SKATERS TO RACE TOMORROW

BROADWAY RINK PLANS SERIES OF ELIMINATION CONTESTS FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

In order to determine the roller skating championship of Southern California, a series of elimination races are scheduled to start tomorrow evening under the auspices of the Southern California Roller Skaters' Association. The races will take place at the Broadway Rink. Forty entrants have already signed up for the affair.

Elimination contests will be held on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of each week until the four best roller skaters have been picked. These will contest with each other in a grand finale at a later date for the championship of the Southland. A contest committee of five, of which Jesse L. Walton is chairman, has the affair in charge.

GEORGE SUTTON STILL WINNING.

OLDTIMER TAKES GAME FROM YOUNG JAKE SCHAFFER IN CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—George Sutton defeated "Young Jake Schaffer, 400 to 341, in the open championship Billiard Players' League contest in this city tonight at 14.1 balkline. Sutton made high runs of 48, 48 and 50, while Schaffer's highest runs were 33, 38 and 43. The winner's average was 14, 22-27.

OLSON DIES FROM FOOTBALL INJURY.

MILWAUKEE PLAYER SUCCUMBS TO CONCUSSION OF BRAIN FROM SUNDAY'S GAME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 12.—Milwaukee's first football fatality for the 1914 season occurred today, when Carroll Olson, aged 20, died at a local hospital from concussion of the brain, the result of injuries received in a game on Sunday.

RACE DRIVERS SHIPWRECKED.

The four drivers constituting Don Lee's Paige and Cadillac racing crews barely escaped being shipwrecked on the Colorado River.

T. J. Beaudet, Harry Ham, Louis Nikrent and Bill Bramlette are inspecting the course of the Phoenix race. While crossing on the ferry at Needles the engine on the boat gave out and the ferry drifted down stream with its cargo. It struck the center pier of the railroad bridge and almost dumped the drivers and car into the water. Drifting on, they stuck on a sand bar.

While in midstream the engine was overhauled, but still it wouldn't run. Help was finally secured, but they did not reach shore until they had gotten out and pushed the ferry.

This all comes under the head of Phoenix race training.

All Corrugated Hose Is Not
BOWERS CRACKPROOF HOSE

Don't Put Money in Imitations

Other factories have made a corrugated surface hose at a lower price for poorer quality. Inside (the part you cannot see) wherein lies the real strength of Crackproof—inside where all the real wear and tear come, the imitations are just as weak, as genuine Crackproof is strong.

There is Only One Genuine Crackproof Hose

It is made by the Bowers Rubber Works and every foot of it is marked in raised letters Bowers Crackproof.

The wonderful strength of this No-Leak, No-Break, No-Crack, No-Kink Hose lies in the process by which it is made. It is actually composed of five strong separate casings welded into one. Every foot of it tested to stand a pressure of more than 500 pounds per square inch. Always tight. Will stand the hardest kind of usage and with ordinary care will last three times as long as ordinary hose.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Last night was "movie night" at the Morosco Theater. As a special feature of "Let's Get Married," Charles Chaplin, Charles Murray and Roscoe Arbuckle, Keystoners, appeared in a funny specialty, showing how the movies are made. They nearly wrecked the stage, and sent the house into gales of laughter.

Harry Lauder will arrive in Los Angeles on Friday morning, and will make a few visits with his famous Kiltie band before going to the theater.

Miss Isabelle Lowe, playing "June," in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," at the Mason, has an interesting ancestry. She is from an old Maryland family, being the grand-daughter of E. Lewis Lowe, ex-Governor of Maryland, whose wife was Miss Esther Polk, niece of ex-President Polk. Mary Anderson, the great actress, is her third cousin, and Mrs. Frank De Sales Jenkins, with homes in France and Switzerland, a leader in foreign society and said to be the most beautiful American woman in the French colony, is her aunt.

Miss Lowe will spend her vacation next summer with Mrs. Jenkins, at the latter's chateau in France.

Miss Lowe is to appear in a film version of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," after her stage version is finished, which will be in January. In February Miss Lowe is to go to New York in a new play about an immigrant girl, written especially for her by Eugene Walter.

Jess Dandy of the Morosco Gaiety Company studied medicine for two years. Then his dad lost his money, and the habit of eating going right on, the doctor-that-was-to-have-been had to go to work.

But one reckons he cures and kills about as many people laughing as he would dosing, so there's no harm done!

Manager Fish, at the Empress, has received those gold medals, to be given out tonight following the diving contest. He has them locked up in the safe along with his diamond Elk pin and the promise of Marcus Loew to send some good acts out this way.

Antoinette Kopetzy, the actress who was the bright particular star in "The Chocolate Soldier," has come to Pasadena to make her home, and has moved into a handsome bungalow at No. 2471 Santa Rosa avenue. In private life she is Mrs. Dobson.

Albert Watson, previously manager of the Republic Theater, who went north several weeks ago to assume an important position in the Levey executive offices, has returned to his original position here.

Vaudeville actors are inquiring whether the new ship registry act applies to oil stocks. Many of the Pantages bunch bought stock in Calgary Oil companies recently, and now are afraid that the Kaiser will not recognize their validity. Hence the rush for American registry and neutrality.

You've absolutely got to repeat yourself at "Cabiria," in order to take in all the detail of its beauty and interest.

As an example of doing it by main strength that "Trey o' Hearts" series has the man with the violin shipwrecked.

As a result of a wild ride on a motorcycle down a ninety-foot embankment along the Camp Baldy road, George Larkin is going about with his ribs in a sling, while Miss Madison is nursing a sprained wrist and a torn ligament in her forearm.

Wilfred Lucas and his Gold Seal Company are camped in San Gabriel Canyon, where they are staging the greater part of the exteriors in the fourteenth installment of the "Trey o' Hearts."

Miss Mae Busch, star of the "Beauties," at the Orpheum, tells an odd little story concerning her prophetic powers. One day when quite a kid, she was visiting some one at the Alhambra Theater, in New York. The idea that she wanted to become an actress was just beginning to dawn upon her. Looking about the dressing-room, she exclaimed: "This is the dressing-room I'm going to have when I become a star!"

Sure enough, within three years she risen to take Lillian Lorraine's place in "Over the River," at the Alhambra, and when assigned her dressing-room, she looked about, and discovered it to be the very one she had visited so long ago!

STRUNK OUT OF SERIES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 12.—Strunk, center fielder for the Philadelphia club, will be out of the game for the rest of the series, it was learned tonight. When the Philadelphia players returned from Fenway Park they found Strunk had one hand heavily bandaged on account of an abscess which had been forming for several days. His loss will be felt particularly by the Athletics because up to today he was the only one of the American Leaguers hitting true to form.

The Philadelphia players tonight said they were still hopeful that they would even up the series. It seemed to be the general opinion among them that the Braves were playing at the very top of their game, while the Athletics were far below their usual playing ability. Baker, in particular, pointed out his slump in batting. He declared he could not understand why he should strike out twice in succession.

BIRD REFUGE AT SANTA BARBARA.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 12.—A bird refuge, embracing the marsh lands near Carpinteria, has been established by the owners of the land, A. Goux, J. R. Fithian, George Owen Knapp and Stewart Edward White. In taking this step they explain that they do not seek by removing the lands from public shooting grounds to turn them into a private shooting place, saying that they themselves will not violate the refuge. They point out that such a retreat, where wild birds may be safe from the shotgun, will tend to add to the number of birds and thereby save them from utter extinction.

EARL HAMILTON MAY BE THROUGH.

STAR HEAVER OF BROWNS HURT BADLY WHEN AUTO SPILLED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 11.—Earl Hamilton, pitcher for the St. Louis Americans, may never be able to play baseball again, as the result of injuries sustained when his automobile was wrecked on Eads bridge Friday. Five women in the machine with him were seriously injured. Hamilton is suffering from a broken collarbone, two broken ribs and a fracture of the left arm and probable internal injuries.

AMATEURS TO PLAY DECIDING GAME.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Oct. 11.—The final game for the amateur baseball championship will be played next Sunday in Chicago, the local champions and the Butler Bros. team of Chicago breaking even today in a double-header. The first game was easy for the visitors by 11 to 1. When the second game was called in the eighth inning on account of darkness, the locals were ahead by a 4-to-1 score.

RIVERS TAKES AN EASY WIN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MEMPHIS, Oct. 12.—Joe Rivers, the Mexican, gained an easy eight-round decision over Frankie Russell of New Orleans here tonight. The fight ended about as it started, with Rivers doing all of the fighting and Russell doing all of the running.

Russell made his only showing in the sixth round, when he staggered the Mexican twice with rights flush to the jaw. The blows came near the end of the round and Rivers had a little advantage in the early part of this round.

Russell appeared in the best of condition, but with little inclination to mix it with the the Mexican, while Rivers tried hard the entire round to make it a knockout. He staggered Russell a number of times with rights and lefts to the jaw, but Russell sought safety by clinching. When Russell chose to stand and swap with the Mexican he generally held his own, but he didn't "choose" many times.

Sudden.

CARDS MAKE A QUICK SHIFT.

Brown Switches Backfield Around.

Fullback Andrews at Second Five.

Deke Gard in Three-quarter Line.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 11.—What is the significance of the shift in the Cardinal backfield? Is Coach Brown departing from the All-Black system of perfecting the team and turning to the mere coaching of the individual player or is he simply preparing for emergency?

This shift, the first of any consequence this season, tried out yesterday in the middle of the second half, has been the cause of no little comment among the fans.

THE CHANGES.

The changes were these: Reeves was taken out of the left-wing berth and Lachmund shifted from second five to fill his place. "Deke" Gard stepped into Lachmund's position and Ogden, the regular breakaway substitute, took "Deke's" place in the scrum.

Charlie Austin was sent from first five to the sidelines and Andrews left the line of last defense to fill his berth. "Ric" Templeton went in at full.

At wing, Lachmund is back in the position he held throughout his high school days. He did good work yesterday in the place, but it is doubtful if he can, in the short time before the big game, become as efficient in the new place as in the position he has held for a season.

FRANK REEVES.

Frank Reeves is said by some to be the weakest member of the Cardinal backfield machine. To remedy this weakness may be one of Coach Brown's ideas in making the change. However, Reeves plays a line-smashing game, is almost invaluable on the defense and it is to be doubted if one month can produce the teamwork that his elimination would upset.

But how to fill Lachmund's place at second five is the difficult proposition. The squad, outside of the regular team, does not contain another player as fast and shifty as the sophomore. Phil Patterson, who has heretofore been his understudy, is laid up with a bad leg and it is doubtful if a month will cure it. As Lachmund cannot always be counted on to stay throughout an entire game Coach Brown has naturally begun to cast around for a man to fill Pretty's shoes.

SOME SUB.

His decision has evidently rested on Gard, the fastest man in the scrum. However, Gard lacks the swerve necessary to qualify him among the present backs. The fans have noticed that Gard was trying to learn the swerve, but thought little of it until now. If he can get it, Coach Brown has developed one more back.

There is no danger of either Charlie Austin or Andrews losing their places at first five and at full, but the switching of Andrews to the first five place and sending Austin out is merely taken as preparation for emergency. Charlie has no understudy and should he be injured in the big game it would be well to have some one trained for his place. The same applies to the full-back position.

VERY COOL.

"Ric" Templeton is a cool, little player in the line of last defense. He gets away long accurate kicks to touch, but he still lacks in tackling ability. Clarence Neuner, the freshman, is hardly class enough yet for the place. Maybe Bert West of Santa Ana could show something there. He has no competition for the berth on the second varsity and every Sunday sees him in the place for the Barbarian Club of San Francisco.

The contest between the varsity and the Olympic Club yesterday was the most terrific the fans have witnessed on the field this season. Some of them termed it a battle of the Titans. It surely impressed the onlookers as such. Both sides showed more Rugby science than ever, but the feature of the game was the determination of both contestants. In spite of the wonderful speed and line-smashing tactics, there were few injuries and clean sport reigned.

...members at a political programme.

Orange County Convention.

...At the convention of the Orange ...County Federation of Woman's Clubs
...an all-day session was held, with an ...attendance of about 120, fourteen
...clubs of the county being represented.
...Twenty delegates, twelve presidents
...and two vice-presidents answered roll
...call.

...The meeting was called to order by ...Mrs. Ida Dutton of Anaheim, presi-
...dent of the county federation. Next
...was a violin solo by Ronald Collis, ac-
...companied by Miss Harriet Dowling.
...Mrs. F. M. West, president of the ...Hostess Club, delivered the address of ...welcome. Mrs. Harry Dyer of Ana-
...heim responded.

...Mrs. H. A. Lawton of Santa Ana,
...president of the district federation,
...delivered an address on civil service
...reform.

...An assessment of 20 cents per capita
...was levied for the purpose of raising
...funds for the entertainment of the ...district federation to be held in Santa
...Ana in November.

...Mrs. Lawton reported that she had ...interviewed Supervisor Schumacher
...and that he had informed her that ...there was no money for maternity
...cottage work at present, but that the ...use of a room in the County Hospital
...may be had for maternity work for ...those who need assistance.

...A sumptuous luncheon was served
...in the banquet-room at noon.

...The following officers were elected
...for the coming year: Mrs. H. W. Dyer,
...Anaheim, president; Mrs. P. S. Topia,
...Santa Ana, vice-president; Mrs. Car-
...rie E. Hennion, Garden Grove, record-
...ing secretary; Mrs. Donaldson, Fuller-
...ton, corresponding secretary; Mrs.
...Frank Morse, Placentia, treasurer;
...Mrs. Thompson, Huntington Beach,
...auditor.

...Katherine Phillips Edson of Los An...geles gave a talk on the proposed ...amendments to be voted on next ...month, speaking principally on the ...red-light abatement act.

...Mrs. W. W. Wilson of Newport out-
...lined plans for the women's work at
...the exposition at San Diego next year.

Woman's City Club.

...The Monday meeting was devoted ...to the discussion of amendment No.
...7, local taxation exemption. The ...speakers were Judge Robert Hubbard
...and Ed W. Hopkins, County Assessor.
...During the rest of the month the ...meetings will be open and free to all
...women.

Wednesday Morning Club.

...Several new members were wel...comed at the opening meeting of the ...Wednesday Morning Club, and the ...year bids fair to go with a swing.
...Next Wednesday the sections begin ...their work. However, the Dickens
...section will not hold its meeting until ...Thursday.

Los Angeles U.D.C.

...Los Angeles Chapter, U.D.C., held
...the first meeting of the club year at ...the home of Mrs. George T. Hackley,
...No. 2904 Sunset place. Mrs. T. J.
...Latham of Memphis, vice-president
...general of the U.D.C., and Mrs. Burris
...of Denver, Colo., addressed the meet...ing. Miss Johnston, a talented pianist
...of Texas, gave a piano selection. A ...spirited debate, "Resolved, that the ...Los Angeles Chapter Limit Its Mem...bership to One Hundred and Ten,"
...was won by the negative, which was ...upheld by Mrs. Grantland S. Long and
...Mrs. Bayliss F. Shepherd. The judges
...were Mrs. T. J. Latham, Mrs. John C.
...McCoy and Mrs. C. H. Hance.

...The annual card party will be given
...at the Bryson apartments on Novem...ber 25. The hostesses are Mrs. Frank
...Sherwood Wise, Mrs. Edward T.
...Sherer and Mrs. I. F. Peters.

...The next meeting of the chapter
...will be October 27, at the home of ...Mrs. C. G. Stanton, No. 445 Andrews
...boulevard. Mrs. J. C. McCoy is as...sisting Mrs. Stanton as chairman of ...programme. Mrs. Harrison Purdon
...has charge of the programme for the ...November meeting.

Monrovia Woman's Club.

...The twenty-third year of the Mon-
...rovia Woman's Club was most aus-
...piciously started, when over 200
...members and their guests gathered at
...the clubhouse for the opening recep...tion. The dignified auditorium of the ...clubhouse was transformed into a
...conservatory by the generous use of ...masses of English ivy, climbing ger-
...aniums, dozens of fern baskets and
...great clusters of roses, zinnias and
...other flowers. The stage was a solid
...mass of greenery and bloom.

...Mrs. George O. Monroe, who com...menced her second year as the head
...of the Woman's Club, made a short
...but happy address of greeting to the ...members, in which she said that as ...the first meeting holds interest largely
...as a reunion gathering, the com...mittee and hostesses had seen fit to
...omit the regular programme and al...low members and guests to enjoy
...the afternoon in greeting one an-

FREMSTAD DATE IS CHANGED.

FOREIGN MUSICIANS ARE NOT CAUGHT IN THE WAR NET.

...The date of the first Philharmonic
...concert and appearance of Olive
...Fremstad in recital at Trinity has been ...changed from Tuesday evening, Octo...ber 20, to Wednesday night, October
...21. This was done in order to ac...commodate a struggling music club in
...Fresno which had secured Fremstad
...and had sold their tickets, only to
...be unable to have an unfinished opera-
...house ready in time. They could se-
...cure a hall for the 19th, but Mme.
...Fremstad will not sing two consecu...tive evenings, and, rather than have
...Fresno lose her opportunity, the Los ...Angeles date is changed to Wednes-
...day night. Those who had seats al-
...ready purchased can use them on ...Wednesday evening. The same beau-
...tiful programme will be presented in ...its entirety, as advertised. The single-
...seat sale for Fremstad opens Thurs-
...day morning, October 15.

...There is now no question about any
...of the Philharmonic artists reaching
...America. Arrigo Serato, the Italian
...violinist, is already on the way; John
...McCormack and family have reached
...New York; Ossip Gabrilowitsch and ...his wife, Clara Clemens, sail October

...leave Rotterdam on the 21st; Josef
...Lhevinne, the pianist, has received his
...passports from the German officials;
...Efrem Zimbalist and Alma Gluck are ...already in New York; Tina Lerner,
...Rudolf Gans, Evan Williams and Olive
...Fremstad have arrived, and Mrs. Fritz
...Kreisler writes from Baden, a suburb
...of Vienna, that Fritz Kreisler, the vio-
...linist, is there suffering in the hos...pital from a wound in the limb, but
...his arms, hands, fingers and eyes are

A Message From President Wilson

In a Letter to John T. Waldorf of San Francisco, he Urges the Voters of California to Elect James D. Phelan United States Senator.

PRESIDENT WILSON

JAMES D. PHELAN

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

September 11, 1914.

My dear Mr. Waldorf:

I was most gratified to hear of the nomination of former Mayor James D. Phelan for United States Senator. He has been in close touch with the administration in Washington, and has heartily supported the policies which have been inaugurated for the benefit of the people,—policies which, I am pleased to be informed, have met with very general approval.

The work has been well begun, and it is manifestly important for its successful continuance and prosecution that the administration should not be refused support in the Senate and House at the forthcoming election.

Therefore, I appeal not only to Democrats, but to all independent citizens to rally to the support of the men who have expressed a willingness to sustain the administration and carry on the work designed for the benefit of all. It is not so much mere party success that concerns the average citizen as sound and efficient government, and a party can best deserve credit by giving the best service to the country.

Sincerely yours,

Woodrow Wilson

James D. Phelan—

Three times Mayor of San Francisco.

Prevented renewal of franchises of old Geary street railway, San Francisco, thus making present successful municipal line possible.

Appointed first woman who ever held an important public position in San Francisco.

Served as regent of the University of California.

Commissioner to secure re-enactment of the Geary Asiatic Exclusion Law.

Commissioner for Hetch Hetchy legislation before Congress to secure a mountain water supply for the cities around San Francisco Bay.

Commissioner to Europe by appointment of President Wilson to support the United States Government's invitation to foreign countries to participate in the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Secured appropriation of $350,000 for United States building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Declined ambassadorship to one of the great European nations, preferring service at home.

Led in the fight for a new charter for San Francisco, which insured home rule, civil service reform, responsible government and municipal railroads.

Raised standard of pay for laborers in the city employ.

Head of the San Francisco Relief Committee in the disaster of 1906. Appointed by the President custodian of the relief fund aggregating $10,000,000.

Worked and spoke before the Legislature for the enactment of an anti-alien land ownership law.

Experienced, capable and untrammelled, he would have but one client in Washington, the people of his native State.

Too-impatient Defendant is Arrested Again.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 12.—Will L. Te Walt of No. 710 Sacramento street has a herd of ten Toggenburg milk goats which he values so that he will allow no one else to care for them or to milk them, even for a day.

They are his pets and have grown very fond of him. When he learned that he would have to make a business trip to his former home in Ansmilla, Miss., he was in a dilemma—for awhile. He did not know what to do with his blue-blooded "kids." And had he not cared so much for them he would have found them a few "white elephants" on his hands. But because of his fondness for them he soon found a way out of his trouble. They are making the trip with him. He had them shipped by express and paid $100 for their "tickets" one way.

He got permission to ride in the car with them, whenever he wished, so that everything possible could be done to make them comfortable and so that he could milk them three times a day. And while they are "touring" a part of the South, many an infant on the same train will no doubt enjoy its first real banquet.

While in Mississippi these Crown City goats will ramble in a field of clover which Mr. Te Walt has rented for them near where he and Mrs. Te Walt will live.

In the bunch of southern "visitors" are several goats for which Mr. Te Walt paid $500 each. He came to Pasadena from Mississippi a year ago and bought them, expecting to raise Toggenburgs as a pastimt. He will bring them back with him when he returns in about two months.

CHURCH MEETING.

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the Los Angeles Association of Congregational Churches, which is being held in the Crown City, opened yesterday afternoon with a large attendance.

Dr. Washington Gladden, one of the most distinguished ministers of the church, who addressed the assembly last night, charmed his hearers. He recently delivered a series of lectures at Pomona College, Claremont.

The first session was opened yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with a scripture reading and a prayer by Rev. Chester Ferris. After the convention was formally organized, Rev. Ray E. Carter spoke on "Building a New Church." Representatives from all the churches read reports.

At this evening's services Dr. Gladden will speak on the subject, "The Call of the New Light."

The convention will close tonight.

IMPATIENT DEFENDANT.

J. B. Quimby, the man who walked out of Judge Dunham's court a week ago because he grew tired of waiting for his case to be called, has been arrested again by Constable Austin, who had a merry chase on Marengo avenue to catch his quarry.

Quimby was to have been tried on a failure to provide charge, but several cases coming up before his, he simply walked away right from under the very noses of the constable and the judge.

He says he kept on going until he reached Banning, where he would still be had it not been that he needed a change of clothing and returning for them he was arrested.

He will be tried this morning on the charge of failing to provide for his four little children. In order that he may not get tired and attempt to stray away again, his case will probably be the first disposed of.

POSTOFFICE BUSY.

The largest parcel post shipment on record in the Crown City was received here yesterday. The biggest half of the workroom was crowded with parcels, which were stacked high one upon the other. The office was closed in the afternoon in observance of Columbus Day.

VICTORVILLE APPLES BEST.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VICTORVILLE, Oct. 12.—A telegram was received today from E. H. Corwin, who had charge of the Victor Valley exhibit at the great Apple Show at San Francisco, which closed last night, that the Victor Valley apples had taken first prize and two second prizes. Every apple growing section of the State was represented by its best products. More than 200,000 persons viewed the exhibits. This is the second time that Victor Valley has won the blue ribbon.

This exhibit was sent by the Victor Valley Chamber of Commerce, one of the principal contributors being the Appleton Land and Water Company.

The development of this territory into the best apple section of the West will add millions of dollars to the commerce of Los Angeles.

THIEVES RAID LAUNCH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Oct. 12.—Despite the fact that the local police patrol has broken up organized brigandage which existed for years unchallenged, sneak thieves acquainted with the situation entered the launch Crescent sometime after 2 p.m. Sunday and stole three brass carburetors, eight feet of iron pipe and three feet of small brass pipe. As the thieves worked in apparent security, Sergt. Smith of the local detective force believes that they are "insiders." The total loss was not considerable.

THREE LOST ON MOUNTAINSIDE.

Parties Organized to Hunt; Rangers Enlisted.

City Official in Party Now Days Overdue.

School Children will Help Tidy up City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 12.—Parties are being organized here tonight to explore the south side of Cucamonga Mountain in search of City Engineer A. P. Campbell, Avery Edwin Field, photographer, and Miss Ada Singleton, a stenographer in the employ of the city.

They were members of a party of eleven, some of them members of the Sierra Club, which left the city Saturday afternoon to scale Cucamonga, entering Lytle Creek Canyon and climbing by way of the south fork of the stream.

All but four members of the party reached home last night, finishing the descent after nightfall. The discomforts of the return trip in the dark were increased by the lack of water.

P. T. Carter, who left the entire party at noon yesterday at a point east of the summit, returned this afternoon after a strenuous experience in following a supposed short-cut trail, with the hope of reaching Camp Baldy.

The last seen of the missing members of the party was at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, on the north side of the summit. Since the men are experienced climbers, it is feared some accident may have befallen one or more of the party or that they have lost their way and are without water.

Mountain rangers have been reached by telephone and asked to aid in the search. Late tonight Mayor Ford organized a searching party composed of employees of the engineering, electric light and water departments. Four automobil loads of men will leave at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning for Cucamonga. They will be met by Forest Ranger Alen, who will conduct the search.

TO BRIGHTEN UP.

In lieu of a lack of funds to do all that it is desirable the city should do in the way of brushing up streets and boulevards before the 1915 crowds begin to arrive, the Board of Park Commissioners this morning adopted the unique plan of soliciting the co-operation of the school children and the general public.

To give Magnolia avenue needed color it was decided to plant in the parking, under the central row of pepper trees, a row of red geraniums for a distance of nearly four miles. Citizens are asked to furnish the plants and the school children to appoint some day for the planting, preparation for which will be made by the park board.

The board called for bids for the erection of a men's comfort station in Fairmount Park. The improvement, it is estimated, will cost about $3500.

AUTO WINS RACE AGAINST DEATH.

BEARS BLEEDING MAN SAFELY TO HOSPITAL; CHILD DIES OF BURNS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 12.—G. L. Harrison barely won a race with death last night. Had the accident of which he was a victim occurred before the days of the automobile, he would be dead.

Harrison lives at San Juan Capistrano, twenty-five miles south of Santa Ana. He was attempting to fix a metal trap when his knife slipped and his left forearm was deeply gashed. The spurt of blood told him instantly that an artery had been cut.

The man's arm was quickly bound, but though the bandage was drawn as tight as was possible, there was a heavy loss of blood. He was put into an automobile and the race to Santa Ana for medical aid began.

The man reached the Santa Ana Hospital in a fainting condition. While he is extremely weak today, his physician, Dr. C. D. Ball, is confident he will live.

DIES OF BURNS.

Ben Hur Flores, 3-year-old son of L. C. Flores of North Sycamore street, died today as the result of being scalded yesterday. The child reached up to a table on which there was a pan of boiling water, and pulled the pan upon himself.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Newman Haggett, a sugar factory employee, was whirled around a shaft today when his clothing was caught in it. Though severely bruised, he escaped without having any bones broken.

THREE COTTON CROPS?

Imperial Land Produces Two and May Bring Forth Another Before Season Ends.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALEXICO, Oct. 13.—On June 17 the Ivey brothers, operating near Calexico, produced the earliest bale of cotton ever ginned in the United States. The bale was turned out of the gin on that day ready for the market. The seed ginned from this cotton was saved and immediately planted with the prediction that the second bale from this seed would be ready for ginning by October 10. True to the predictions, pickers started several days ago on the cotton grown from this seed and in a day or two will haul the cotton to the gin.

In view of the fact that three months of the year have not yet expired, and two crops have been ginned up to this time, with the possibility of another crop before the season is over, it is doubtful if any other section of the world could produce similar results. The bale that was ginned on June 17 is now standing on one of the street corners of Calexico and the second bale from the same seed will soon be placed side by side with it, and to say the least, a dignified question mark will take third place.

MAIL BY CARRIER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL CENTRO, Oct. 12.—Beginning today, after considerable efforts on the part of Postmaster Collins of this county, it is announced that city mail carriers will deliver mail in El Centro. There will be three carriers for the present. El Centro is the first city in the valley to have mail carriers, but it is likely that at least two others will follow suit in the near future, as the volume of postoffice business is now practically up to the required standard.

MISFORTUNES LURK ON ROAD.

Auto with Four Wrecked in Avoiding Train.

Lad is Terribly Injured by a Motorcycle.

Grocer Suffers Seriously in Collision.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, Oct. 12.—An automobile accident in which four persons miraculously escaped without serious injury or death, occurred late this afternoon at the Southern Pacific Railroad crossing on South Marguerita street.

J. A. Adair of Glendora, accompanied by his wife, Miss Morris of Pomona, and W. J. Thompson of Duarte, in a seven-passenger car, drove toward the railroad track unmindful of the approach of the Southern Pacific train on its way to San Bernardino, until the engine was fairly upon them.

Realizing his danger and retaining his presence of mind, Mr. Adair succeeded in escaping impact with the engine by a hair's breadth, and found himself squarely in front of a car driven by F. R. Bekins of Los Angeles. Both drivers made superhuman efforts to avoid a crash. Mr. Adair's machine in turning out ripped the rear wheel from Mr. Bekin's car and turned completely over. The women were thrown clear of the automobile, but Mr. Thompson was securely pinned underneath. With the assistance of those uninjured, Mr. Thompson was extricated and found to be unhurt except for a few minor bruises.

The entire party was taken into the city where they quickly recovered except for a shaking up, and their automobile when finally righted found to be in condition to continue the journey, which was decided upon by the plucky bunch.

SERIOUSLY HURT.

LAD IS RUN DOWN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 12.—Struck down by a motorcycle on Mission street, as he was leaving the El Centro school this noon, Charles Warden, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Warden, No. 507 Fair Oaks avenue, is lying unconscious in the Pasadena Hospital.

G. W. Stillwell of the Central apartments, Los Angeles, who was riding the motorcycle, says the boy started across the street without looking, and it was impossible for him to stop or get around him.

The boy, who was unconscious, was taken to a local physician's office by E. O. Wickizer, who was passing in his automobile. Mrs. Warden was notified and after an examination by the doctor, directed that the boy be sent to the hospital. Young Warden is suffering from concussion of the brain, a possible fracture, and internal complications are feared.

BEACH PIONEER CROSSES DIVIDE.

WAS EARLY RESIDENT, ACTIVE IN PUBLIC LIFE OF SANTA MONICA.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 12.—Stephen Carpenter, one of the pioneers who helped found this city, died this afternoon at the home on Fifth street of his daughter, Mrs. A. D. Hawes.

Mr. Carpenter was born in Highgate, Vt., and was 80 years old. His father was a soldier in the War of 1812, and his grandfather, on his mother's side, fought during the Revolution. He came to this State in 1863, and his home in this city was started in 1875. In 1882 he retired from his trade of millwright, and for years his home stood on the site of the present City Hall. For nine years he served on the school board and for several years was chairman.

His wife died here ten years ago.

The first wedding ceremony performed in Santa Monica was that of his daughter. Besides this daughter, there is a grandson left, Stephen A. Garey, and two grandchildren.

Deceased was a member of the Sant Monica Pioneers and a Mason. He was also identified with the Odd Fellows Lodge. Both these lodges will conduct the funeral services, which will be Wednesday morning at the Breese & Todd parlors. Rev. J. O. Jennings, a retired Presbyterian clergyman, will officiate. He was for many years a friend of Mr. Carpenter. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

EL SEGUNDO MAN BEATEN, ROBBED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 12.—Frank Sculley of El Segundo was found unconscious and severely beaten up this evening on the banks of Linnie canal. He was taken to the police emergency hospital and later told the police that he had been robbed. Herman Bolan, also from El Segundo, was arrested by Officer Spranking near Fredericks Station and is held for investigation in connection with the robbery of Sculley. When searched, Bolan had but a small sum of money.

COLD SUPPERS.

The Short Line train, composed of three cars, that left the Hill Street Station at 5:05 o'clock, at that time more than half an hour late, was delayed for several hours on the road west of Vineyard tonight and as a result many a housewife was anxious for her husband. Many of the delayed passengers went across the plowed field and hailed autoists who gladly carried them on into Venice and Ocean Park.

The car was held up on account of a disabled trolley, the pole catching in the wire and tearing down about 500 feet. The trolley was in bad shape when the train pulled into the Hill street depot, and was only temporarily repaired for the beach run.

Several persons hanging onto the guard rails narrowly missed instant death when the wire dangled from the tops of the cars.

CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. Mary Conner and daughter, Miss Daisy of No. 247 Horizon avenue, entertained the Bartlett-Logan Thimble Club recently at their home. Thirty-six were present.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT.

MACHINE HITS AUTO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Oct. 12.—Lloyd Clark of the grocery firm of Curtis & Clark lies at his home, No. 381 Kenoak drive, seriously injured, as the result of a collision with an automobile driven by Burr Peck of the Southern California Edison Company.

Mr. Clark was riding a motorcycle and in turning out to avoid a buggy, misjudged the course of the oncoming automobile. The two vehicles crashed and Mr. Clark was thrown over the hood of the machine to the pavement.

He suffered a broken leg, badly-battered hips and shoulder and deep cuts on his face and body. He will not recover for many weeks.

AUTOMOBILE CRASH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ORANGE, Oct. 12.—Two automobiles clashed today on East Chapman street. William Faley was passing Lester Tubbs when the two machines came together. Mr. Tubbs says Mr. Faley cut back to the right too soon after getting almost past. Both machines were damaged. Two wheels of Mr. Faley's car were torn off.

Coffee Causes Stomach Trouble and Old Age

Physician Says It Interferes with Digestion and Hastens Death by Hardening Arteries.

Among other physiological effects of coffee drinking it is found that this beverage with its drug, caffeine, is one of the causes of premature old age, according to Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of the Battle Creek Sanitarium. He says:

"The evil effects of coffee on all persons of whatever age may be briefly summed up as follows:

"First, the tannic acid in coffee interferes with digestion.

"Second, the caffeine of coffee is a nerve poison.

"Third, the effects produced are similar to those of alcohol. When long used, the result is damage to the poison destroying glands, particularly the thyroid gland, liver and the kidneys, as a result hardening of the arteries and premature old age. All medical authorities forbid the use of caffeine or coffee to persons whose arteries are hardened or who have high blood pressure. This condition is always present in elderly people.

"Coffee is particularly bad for young children, because the thyroid gland and other poison-destroying glands are not yet well developed. Any intelligent parent would not permit a child to use coffee."

NOTE—Among invalids and those recovering from disease and surgical operation coffee drinking is almost invariably forbidden. On the contrary the pure-food drink INSTANT POSTUM finds extensive use in hospitals and sanitariums the country over. This delicious beverage is taking the place of coffee in thousands of American homes where health is valued. "There's a Reason."

WHO'S CONSUL?

Carranza Appointee at San Diego Won't Recognize Wilson's Choice Heard of New Capital.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 11.—[illegible] dispatches from San Antonio that R. G. Denegre is to be appointed at San Diego, Juan A. Muro, present Consul, appointee of Carranza, says he has not been notified of any change. Muro says he will not recognize any appointee unless authorized by the Carranza government and that reported new appointments are Villa statesmen.

The governmental seat of [illegible] California is to be moved from Ensenada to Mexicali at once, according to Gov. Alives, the appointee of Villa, but Consul Muro has not been notified of this either.

The Flying Squadron of [illegible] arrived here today and will open campaign for a dry State. Meetings were held this afternoon and this morning. The speakers in the Flying Squadron include Dr. Charles Sheldon of Topeka, Kan.; Bishop F. Sheridan, general secretary of the Epworth League of America; A. Poling and Rev. Charles Wilson.

The United Industries, a labor organization, today opened headquarters here to open the campaign for State prohibition.

JAPANESE AFTE IMPERIAL CO

BUYER TELLS WHY CA PRODUCT IS PREFERR TEXAS CROP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BRAWLEY, Oct. 12.—[illegible] telegraphic reports received here that Japan is about to make large purchases in the Imperial Valley, a Japanese cotton buyer representing the Southern Pacific company, with headquarters at Houston, Tex., was in the valley last week looking over the valley cotton crop and assisting up the general situation in the interest of Japan cotton buyers.

Mr. Otani expressed himself as believing that Japan would be able to pay as much for long staple cotton as for the Texas product, the difference in transportation and freight rate from Galveston to Japan is only $5 cents per 100 as against 90 bales, which this county has already shipped to Japan through the Panama Canal. He says that the Panama Canal and A.R.R. is completed it will be to the trouble in securing the cotton crop to Japan at a saving of 50 cents per 100. He further stated that it would be to Japan's interest to have the Imperial valley cotton would be shipped to Japan without going through the Panama Canal and thus save the time of transportation that must attach to the shipment of cotton made in Texas.

PREDICTS SUCCESS OF COTTON FUND.

LOAN OF MILLIONS WILD BE FULLY SUBSCRIBED AT ONCE, ACCORDING TO SLOAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—A prediction that the $150,000,000 cotton loan fund, recently approved by the Federal administration and the Federal Reserve Board, would be completely subscribed and ready for use by the end of this week, was made here today by J. N. Sloan, a member of the committee which accompanied Festus J. Wade, author of the plan, to Washington last week.

This statement was made at a conference between officers of the Business Men's League and merchants, manufacturers and railroad men, held with the view of discussing means of increasing the use of cotton. The conference was called at the request of R. D. Bowen of Paris, Tex., chairman of the committee for greater consumption of the Southern States Cotton Association.

COAST FACING TUNA FAMINE.

POSSIBLE EXTINCTION LEADS TO FEDERAL AID.

Government Fish Boat Ordered Here to Study Methods of Propagation to Prevent Disappearance of Delicacy from These Waters. Year's Output Two Million Dollars.

With his announcement that the canned tuna pack of Southern California for the season 1914 will amount to 300,000 cases worth $2,000,000, the output of eleven packing plants divided among San Diego, Long Beach and Wilmington, comes the startling information from W. V. Ambrose, president of the Southern California Fish Company, that the tuna fish is gradually beginning to disappear from these waters. Attention will have to be given to its propagation at once, he says, if the canners are to obtain sufficient fish with which to operate their plants.

Mr. Ambrose has been in communication for some time with Dr. Hugo Smith, chief of the government Bureau of Fisheries at Washington, D. C., with regard to the proper steps that should be taken to protect the tuna against total extinction by providing means for its propagation. Dr. Smith has advised that the methods which the Bureau of Fisheries will pursue will require two or three years' study of the nature and habits of this fish to ascertain the location of its spawning grounds and what are its largest places of congregation.

With the object of commencing its investigation of the tuna this season, the bureau has ordered the government salmon boat, the Albatross, now in Alaskan waters studying the salmon, to steam into Southern California waters as soon as possible which, it is expected, will be early in November. The Albatross will make preliminary observations of the tuna in the vicinity of San Pedro, Santa Catalina and San Diego and then probably proceed down the west coast of Mexico to investigate the bays and coves in which it is thought the fish spawn.

The report of the Bureau of Fisheries is looked forward to with great interest by the Southern California canners because the industry which is threatened has assumed considerable proportion, now representing an investment of $500,000 exclusive of the value of the numerous independent fishing fleets that supply the fish. It is confidently believed that the efforts of the government's fish experts will result in the salvation of this valuable commercial fish, which is caught only on this coast and at few other places in the world, excepting the Island of Sardinia in the Mediterranean Sea.

An especial reason for the concern of the Southern California canners as to the successful propagation of the tuna in larger numbers is because of the constantly-increasing demand for this marine delicacy, declares B. N. Coffman, manager of the Southern California Tuna Canners' Association. Conservative estimates based on the requests received for more tuna than could be supplied leads the association to believe that double of the present pack could be disposed of if the fish could be secured. Tuna is selling at the same price as salmon in both the eastern and western markets and the tuna bids fair to become equally popular with the salmon on the tables of American families.

Three Towns Involved in Move for Free Tolls—South Pasadena News Notes.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 12.—B. D. Furlow, E. O. Wickiser and H. E. Andrews have been appointed a committee to co-operate with the Home Trade Association in investigating the proposition of free telephone tolls between South Pasadena, Alhambra and San Gabriel. The individual members of the committee expressed themselves as willing to take the proposition before the State Railroad Commission if the telephone company and the committee cannot agree on terms.

MODEL SCHOOL.

Architect Norman F. Marsh, No. 911 Fair Oaks avenue, has been authorised to draw plans for a group of model school buildings, to be erected on the Panama-Pacific Exposition grounds at San Francisco. The group will include a domestic science, a manual training and a rural school building.

PAVING PROBLEM.

Paving Fremont avenue from Huntington drive to Columbia street will be the next problem before the City Trustees, as a number of property owners have asked the Chamber of Commerce to take the matter up in their behalf. Before petitions are circulated the sentiment of the property owners will be ascertained.

ORANGE SHIPMENTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLAREMONT, Oct. 12.—Frank L. Palmer, manager of what was until recently the largest navel orange grove in the world, reports that from 229 acres of navel trees, they have shipped this past season 246 carloads of oranges. From one block of fifty acres alone, more than 45,000 boxes were shipped.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY CERTAIN NEXT NOVEMBER.

Unbiased Reports from Every State in the Coast Group Show Republican Senatorial and Congressional Candidates will be Successful with but Two Exceptions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 12.—A sweeping Republican victory in the Congressional elections in the Pacific Coast States is indicated by a series of reports which the Chronicle has gathered from unbiased observers in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Nevada and Arizona, who were instructed to state the political situation as it is, without leaning to any man or party.

From all the accounts sent in by these correspondents it appears that in every Congressional district in these States, with but two exceptions, Republican candidates are either conceded victory or are leading in the race. Of the two exceptions, the fight in the Fifth District of Washington is described as close, while Arizona seems likely to re-elect Representative Hayden, Democrat.

MOOSERS ELIMINATED.

It further appears that the "Progressives" are nowhere cutting any figure in the Congressional elections except in one or two instances, where their candidates are, without chance of winning themselves, merely complicating the fight between the Republican and Democratic nominees. Progressiveism, where it existed in these States, has faded away, and districts which were once strongholds of the radicals have now returned to their normal Republicanism.

In Washington the "Progressive" feud seems to have been almost completely healed; Idaho shows signs of returning to the Republican fold. Nevada has no "Progressive" candidates for either Senator or Representative. In Oregon the "Progressive" candidates are weak, and in Arizona they are not considered factors.

In the senatorial contests the struggles are considered much closer, the fight in each case being between Republicans and Democrats, "Progressive" candidates, where they are running, not being given much chance. In Arizona, however, the return of Senator Mark Smith, Democrat, is thought certain, and in Washington Senator Wesley L. Jones, Republican, is considered the probable winner.

WASHINGTON.

In Washington, the Republicans claim that the entire Senatorial and Congressional ticket will be returned. Senator Jones is opposed by Judge W. W. Black of Everett, and Ole Hanson, "Progressive," of Seattle. Black is not strong. Hansen is said to have the support of the national administration, and if he wins will owe his victory to its efforts.

For Governor, W. E. Humphrey; Lin H. Hadley, Albert Johnson and W. L. La Follette, all Republicans and all incumbents except Hadley, lead their opponents in the First, Second, Third and Fourth districts, respectively. In the Fifth District Harry Rosenhaupt, Republican, has a fight on his hands with C. C. Dill, Democrat, and Thomas F. Corkery, "Progressive," who has some prestige as father of the "Mothers' Pension" Bill.

OREGON.

United States Senator George E. Chamberlain, Democrat, seems to have a close fight on in Oregon to prevent his toga from going to Robert A. Booth, Republican. Both sides profess the utmost confidence. Booth counts on the normal Republican majority in Oregon and on the charge that the Democrats have plunged the country into hard times. Chamberlain banks on his strong personal following and his unbroken string of political victories in Oregon, extending over twelve years.

In the First and Second Oregon Congressional districts, W. C. Hawley and N. J. Sinnott, the Republican incumbents, are conceded re-elected. In the Third District, C. N. McArthur, the Republican nominee, is considered a likely winner, though Republicans do not claim that he will have as certain a majority as Hawley and Sinnott. McArthur has to beat Congressman A. W. Lafferty, Progressive, running as an independent. McArthur beat Lafferty in the primary, and his supporters declare he will win more decisively in the election.

IDAHO.

In Idaho the fight for the toga between Senator James H. Brady, Republican, and former Gov. James H. Hawley, Democrat, is not only close, but is complicated by a wet and dry fight, and by a Progressive candidate, Pau Clagstone. If the fight develops along wet and dry lines, Hawley may win, as he will get the full Democratic vote as well as the solid wet vote. Brady and Clagstone may divide the dry vote. Both are pledged to prohibition.

Representative Addison T. Smith and Robert M. McCracken, both Republicans, are expected to win Idaho's two seats in Congress, though McCracken's Democratic opponent, James Forney, is formidable as the only candidate from Northern Idaho, which is clamoring for representation.

NEVADA.

With national questions eliminated from the Nevada Congressional campaign, the struggle between Senator Newlands, the Democratic nominee for re-election, and Samuel Platt, Republican, has become a personal fight. Newlands points to his achievements in the last twelve years, Platt charges him with being a Senator for California rather than for Nevada. The outcome cannot be predicted, though developments of the past few days favor Platt.

For Representative, Congressman E. E. Roberts, Republican, is expected to beat the Democratic candidate, Leonard Fowler.

ARIZONA.

Proposed State-wide prohibition, indorsed by the Progressives, is complicating the Senatorial fight in Arizona, where Eugene Chafin is running as an independent against Senator Mark Smith, Democrat. However, Smith's return to the Senate is considered certain, as it is not believed that the combined Prohibition-Progressive vote is strong enough to overcome either of the old parties. Carl Hayden, Democrat, is thought to be certain to be re-elected for Congress.

COMMERCIAL.

Receipts of new pack dried figs have been growing from day to day, with the result that the market is showing a few changes in prices. The domestic figs promise to have the American market pretty well to themselves this year, owing to the impossibility of receiving heavy shipments from the Arabian growing districts. There will be some figs imported, without a doubt, but these will be a trifle later than usual in reaching here, and may come too late even for the holiday trade. Consequently prices have changed for the higher levels. Foreign stock is expected to bring 20 cents at the opening. Local stock, loose in boxes, is held at 9 cents on the white, and 6½ cents on the black. Whites in cartons are selling at $2.00 for 50 6-ounce boxes. Calmyrnas in 10-pound layers are quoted at $1.25.

Another advance in the dried-fruit market is that which has just taken place in raisins. Selected 16-ounce package raisins are held at 8 cents; same size seeded, 8¼; 3-crown loose, 50s, 6¼. Other dried fruits are weak. Prunes, apricots, currants and several other varieties have dropped from ½ to 1 cent a pound, owing largely to the uncertainty of imports and exports, and the very light demand on the part of buyers, who are taking just what is essentially necessary for their demand.

There was no change in the market of staples, and the marketing was a trifle quiet. Receipts of eggs were 241 cases. Butter arrivals totaled 43,880 pounds, and cheese receipts were 7500 pounds. The San Francisco markets were closed in celebration of Discovery Day, which was not observed here in any way. Potato arrivals were 6010 sacks. Onion receipts were heavy, and onions are obtainable as low as 80 cents a cwt., but the quotations generally given range from 90 to 1.00. New beans are plentiful, and the market weak. Sweet potato receipts were 368 sacks.

Apple arrivals were 29,837 boxes, and the storage of red apples is going on at a good rate at this time.

California League.

TO MAKE OVER CITIES' CODES.

Notable Reforms in Laws of Municipalities Asked.

Center Chiefly in Those on Public Improvements.

Would Revise Assessment and Condemnation Acts.

The League of California Municipalities, which began its annual session at Monterey yesterday and will continue until Friday evening, is to be appealed to by Los Angeles municipal officials to join in a campaign for desired changes in legislation governing cities, particularly street improvement-work laws.

President Handley of the Board of Public Works left yesterday for Monterey, where he will urge the league to take up numerous changes deemed desirable for the more efficient operation of public-improvement proceedings.

In the first place, Mr. Handley will recommend that provision be made in the State laws so that two or more separate improvements, not contiguous, may be included in one proceeding, and that property within an assessment district may be omitted from the assessment in cases where the proposed improvement is a detriment instead of a benefit to the property.

Another change that will be urged is to provide that railroads or street railways may be compelled to pave their portions of the streets where they hold franchises, even though the tracks have not been constructed.

It is also proposed to provide that alternative propositions may be considered in bidding on street work, so that various kinds of paving, guttering, etc., may be offered by contractors instead of their being held down to one set specification for materials. Mr. Handley and the local Board of Public Works hope to see the State laws so amended that the city would be able to carry on public-improvement work by force account and assess the costs to the adjacent properties.

A strong plea will also be made for the support of the league on the proposed excess condemnation provisions. This system has been found to work to great advantage in several large German cities, where the sale of the excess lands condemned have more than paid for the public improvements.

Another plan to be proposed for the indorsement of the league is that of providing that, where there are cuts or fills in public work, the City Engineer shall estimate the damages on all properties, thus protecting the property owners who neglect, under present conditions, to file their claims for damages within a certain time limit, often through no fault of their own, but who are thereby prohibited from obtaining damages.

An appeal will also be made to the league to give its support to the campaign for the Oakland draft of the proposed constitutional amendment providing a way for city-county consolidation. City Attorney Stephens will present this subject, and it is possible that Councilman Conwell and President Whiffen of the City Council may go to Monterey to join in this work before the league sessions close.

THE GOAT COMES, TOO.

Chamber of Commerce Excursion Back from Triumphal Northern Tour with San Francisco's Sponsor.

Bringing back San Francisco's goat, which George W. Lichtenberger claims he apprehended on a main business street of the northern city in a dense fog, the Chamber of Commerce "glad-hand special" rolled into the Arcade Station yesterday morning on schedule.

"A triumphal tour," said President Cole of the chamber in speaking of the trip.

As the train pulled in, Wiley's Long Beach Municipal Band played "I Love You, California," and the self-appointed reception committee of chamber members and business men nearly tore the smoke-stained cobwebs off the roof of the old Arcade with their cheers.

Leaving here last Wednesday, the "glad-handers" made a score of stops in the San Joaquin Valley, were guests of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce on an automobile tour of that city, lunched with officials of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company in the California building at the big show preparatory to inspecting the grounds, and visited the National Apple Show.

On the trip home over the Southern Pacific Coast line an unpremediated stop was made at San Jose, in response to the demands of the commercial bodies of that city that they be given "at least ten minutes of the Southlanders' time."

ANOTHER COTTON BALL.

Dixie Club Members Encouraged to Renewed Efforts to Aid Imperial Valley Movement.

Los Angeles women who are from that other South are making a special and renewed effort to help Imperial Valley with its cotton problem. Members of the Dixie Club are planning a second cotton ball to be given some time in the next two weeks when all the girls are to wear dress goods exclusively of cotton and at which the bale of cotton movement will be boosted.

Among the Los Angeles women who are interested in the plan are Mrs. Charles Crecliat, Mrs. Robert Yeager, Mrs. Ross Hutchason, Mrs. Marie Russell, Mrs. Tracy Chatfield Becker, Mrs. Leon French, Mrs. Edrie Mohr, Mrs. Ella Swickard, Miss Grace Culbert, Miss Stella Kalimeyer, Miss Ruby Allen and Miss Bertha Gilbert. There is a big cotton mill at Oakland and the women hope to bring this fact more generally before the Los Angeles public to the end that more Los Angeles people will demand goods made from Imperial cotton and manufactured in California. The Oakland mill has a pay roll of $30,000 a month and the women feel that this ought to be duplicated in this city.

BOND ISSUES CARRY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HOLTVILLE, Oct. 12.—The city of Holtville voted Saturday on the issuing of $30,000 bonds for sewerage. The bond issue carried, only 19 out of 272 votes being cast against it. Bonds for $2000 for the proposed Alamo River bridge also carried by 241 to 24.

End of Johnson.

two years ago, would not the same rule be true this time, when he was elected? For the returns show that he carried the precincts strong in the residential district. The answer is that Grant was a truculent tool of Holy Hi and the thinking people took a wallop at the Governor through Grant. The whole county "Progressive" organization of the "Progressives" in San Francisco dropped everything else and tried to help Grant hold his job. I was in San Francisco when the recall election was being held and looked in at "Progressive" headquarters. The whole force was out for Grant. The organization realized the moral effect upon their own campaign, in case he was recalled.

San Francisco is a hive of politics. It would not be surprising to see Capt. Fredericks carry the city by a big plurality over Johnson. But strangely enough, the people out of the actual work of doing politics are more engrossed over the liquor question than over anything else. In that city, where there are ten times the number of saloons that Los Angeles has, the main topic is "wet or dry" and "how is the south going to vote?"

THE "DRY" QUESTION.

The average San Franciscan believes that a "dry" vote is a direct slap at the 1915 fair, for is not San Francisco preparing to have a wide-open city next year? They are appealing to the rest of the State to help instead of hinder. Yet when the people of the State are in the midst of deciding a great economic question, under the guise of politics, San Francisco is rolling right along with preparations for more dance halls at nominal fee along the Barbary Coast, a more liberal police commissioner has taken the place of a "long hair" and the chances are that even if the State is voted dry in November, the San Francisco of old will boom right along to its grand finale on New Year's Eve stimulating a consumption as it has never been stimulated before.

Out through the valleys across the bay and in the great valley of the Sacramento, the mute appeal of the vineyard for succor is seen on every hand. In the center of a pretty vineyard near Walnut Creek is a sign: "Do you want to destroy me?" and along another road a vineyard sign commands: "Let me live!"

In San Francisco the billboards appeal to the women to save California from the assumed destruction due to a Prohibition vote. Out in the valleys, the vineyards, the greatest asset of the "wets," are striking arguments against a "dry" State.

There is a great deal of sentiment, not only in San Francisco, but all over Northern California, for prohibition. And it is silent. Men and women that one would naturally expect to be "wet" will like as not vote dry. In San Francisco a dozen men, any one of whom will take a drink without being forced at the point of a gun, told me that they resented the undesirable element that rides on their street cars and infests respectable neighborhoods, and would vote dry to rid the community of these people.

In Sacramento county a number of cities are already dry. A majority of the people having voted Woodland dry, one of those who supported the anti-saloon move, and a man of considerable influence, told me he would not vote the whole State "dry" because he thought State-wide prohibition is going beyond the saloon question and becoming an invasion of personal privilege. He believes the State ought to have places where its thirsty citizens can get a drink and while he is against the saloon he does not think it right to tell a neighboring city what to do. The matter of grapes didn't touch him, because he believes the argument is weak.

THE OUTLOOK.

Taken in a general way, the sentiment against the "wets" is not surprising for the reason that the Prohibitionists have been at work for a long time and the defensive campaign—for they have placed themselves on the defensive—conducted by the "wets" is yet short-lived. The educational work that is going on may put a different aspect on the situation, but prominent men in many parts of the State I have talked with have said it will not surprise them to see California go dry. But this is early October and lots of things can happen before November 3.

When Capt. Fredericks comes southward toward the end of the month he will bring with him the assurances of general support. In San Francisco it is freely stated that he will come down to the Tehachepi with 75,000 votes the best of it. That is putting it pretty strong. If he has an even break to the tips of the Tehachepi Mountains he will be elected for the southern counties, having nearly one-third of the vote of the State, will give him a plurality of 50,000 votes.

His home county, the battleground, will be carried by him with 20,000 votes to spare.

SAN DIEGO IMPRESSES.

Los Angeles Officials Study Harbor Conditions and Sound Boost for the Coming Exposition.

Frederick T. Woodman, president of the Harbor Commission, and Clarence H. Matson, traffic manager for the Los Angeles harbor, returned yesterday from San Diego, where they studied harbor conditions.

"We were much impressed with the preparations made for the San Diego Exposition," said Mr. Matson. "The setting is magnificent and the buildings are works of art. The work is advanced to the stage where the announced opening day is assured."

He says that a spirit of friendliness and co-operation prevails.

"We were more impressed than ever before with the advantages of the Los Angeles harbor, after looking over the latter city," he continued. "San Diego will have to dredge and do development work the same as this city has been carrying on. It is now doing a considerable amount of this work and making good progress."

THAW AFTER ADVICE HERE.

Notorious Easterner who Killed Stanford White Over Evelyn Nesbit Seeks Free Legal Opinion.

Harry K. Thaw of Pittsburgh, formerly of Matteawan, N. Y., has written Deputy District Attorney McComas of this city enclosing a copy of the decision rendered by Judge Aldrich of the Federal Court, District of New Hampshire on June 24, last granting Thaw his liberty on bail. In his letter to Deputy McComas, Thaw pens: "I shall appreciate any opinion you care to express."

In his letter Thaw fiercely assails Ex-Dist.-Atty. Jerome, who prosecuted him for the murder of Stanford White and fought to have him returned to the Mattewan insane asylum.

Deputy McComas says he will comply with the request.

Dysentery is a dangerous disease, but can be cured. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has been successfully used in nine epidemics of dysentery.—[Advertisement.

At the Theaters.

meller-drammer order, all right, with the heavy villain and the sorrowing heroine who never seems to have a day off from her troubles, the rough diamond hero, and all the rest; but the little sketch is carried off with a lot to go, and the parts are well played by Rex Adams, George Sorrell, Wilbur Martin, Harry Lester and Ethel Adamson.

The darky man of Quinlan and Richards, in "The Quack Dentist," is a joy forever; and the dogs and monkeys in the animal act, trained by Dave Wood in the way they should go, are diverting critters.

Hippodrome.

Despite the war and the world series, the Hippodrome yesterday played to capacity houses.

The trained seals fight for headline honors on the bill, and if the Braves and Athletics could juggle the ball the way the seals do, there would never be any errors in the national game.

The Lameys offer a regular circus act with feats of tumbling, casting and grotesque comedy.

The little Murphy has a voice like Dick Jose, with his weight in inverse ratio. Russell and Ione grace the bill, too, with some rapid-fire banjo playing and singing which goes.

Abram and Johns get a rousing hand with "The Right to Happiness." Parson and Parson, two clever Dutch kiddies, open the show with songs and dances, and Maley and Mack, one of the winners of the competition bill, are the seventh act.

Republic.

A brand new vaudeville bill opened at the Republic Theater yesterday, in conjunction with the seven-reel feature film showing Annette Kellerman in "Neptune's Daughter."

Du Bell and Van have an act entitled "Grand Opera in Ragtime," in which they please. The blackface member of the act brings down the house.

"The Chinese Nugget" features William Pearson and company, in Chinese impersonation and comedy.

Dixie Southern, as a character comedienne; Fred Roberts in songs, saying and saxaphone solos; Fernandez and May in an eccentric musical act, and the two Fostellians, Roman ring artists, furnish the acrobatic features of the bill.

The Kellerman picture is shown from 11 to 3 p.m., 4 to 6 p.m., 6 to 8 p.m., and 9 to 11 p.m. The vaudeville runs from 3 to 4 and from 8 to 9 p.m.

Clune's Auditorium.

Indian Wars and Buffalo Bill are the attractions at Clune's Auditorium this week, where they are making a big hit.

Forty miles from a railroad in South Dakota, there gathered a few months ago some of the most famous scouts and generals known to western history. Hour after hour during the daylight they were in the saddle, while following their commands there came the sound of cavalry, and the vision of Indians riding furiously.

Those men of fame were there to reproduce history. And history was reproduced, in the clicking of the motion picture camera.

Clune's Broadway.

Francis X. Bushman smiles on the matinee girl from the screen at Clune's Broadway this week in "Blood Will Tell," a stirring film drama, with Mr. Bushman at his best.

Miss Louise Santschi, yodler, made her bow yesterday, and the Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Signor Pietro Mazzini, continues to please Broadway audiences this week.

Later in the week the two-reel Vitagraph special "Rose and a Thorn" will be featured. A George Ade comedy fable is also to be shown.

Tally's Broadway.

Bertha Kalich is this week attracting large crowds to Tally's Broadway Theater in her greatest success, "Marta of the Lowlands."

Mme. Kalich needs no words to convey emotion; she is past mistress of the art of pantomime and eloquent gesture, and her genius makes the story of Marta of absorbing interest. The film drama is wonderfully well staged, too, not only as regards picture detail, but in regard to continuity of interest. This in itself is an art which few directors understand, apparently, but which the director of Marta certainly did.

The music is in entire accord with the production.

Symphony Theater.

This week Mary Pickford is appearing at the Symphony Theater in one of her latest successes, "A Good Little Devil." The programme this week is under the direction of T. L. Tally, which insures excellency in character of productions.

The programme will be changed on Thursday.

The Woodley.

"The Man of the Hour," the play which made a fortune apiece for Author George Broadhurst and Producer William A. Brady, and which made Douglas Fairbanks and Robert Warwick famous on Broadway, made its film debut at the Woodley Monday to a big house.

In his original role is Robert Warwick, and the joint star is Belle Adair, one of the handsomest and most talented of the Brady stars.

Mozart.

"Sport and Travel in Central Africa," a thrilling jungle story, in five parts, is the week's feature at the Mozart Theater, and is holding the interest of the audiences at each performance. The many perilous adventures of Capt. Machin and his party, in the wilds of Africa, furnish plenty of thrills. Numerous combats between the wild animals and hunters add distinct interest to the picture, and hold the spectator in thrilled suspense.

The pictures are of rare educational value.

Miller's.

"Hearts of Oak," the delightful rural drama by James A. Hearne, has been beautifully produced as a picture play, and is being shown this week at Miller's Theater. The excellent cast of artists do vast credit to the author, and the director has utilized the exact locations on the Maine coast in the original play for his film dramatization.

Ralph Stuart and Violet Horner play the leading roles.

ELK AND BISON.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, Oct. 12.—Park commissioners of Tulare county have been advised that within the next few days there will be delivered here the first lot of elk, which are to be sent by the California Academy of Science and kept in a paddock at Mooney Grove, the county park. An offer has recently been received from the officials of Golden Gate Park in San Francisco of a small herd of bison, and it is probable that quarters for the reception of these animals will be provided as well.

PLAN NEW ROUTE AT WEST BASIN.

STEEL DRAWBRIDGE TO SPAN HARBOR HIGHWAY.

Harbor and Chamber of Commerce Officials Inspect Proposed Improvement and Deem it Feasible—Reduces Distance More Than a Mile—Petition for Funds.

Chopping off about 12,000 feet from the route between Mormon Island channel wharf and Municipal Dock No. 1 is the purpose of a plan for a new highway in the harbor district. President Woodman of the Harbor Commission and members of the Wilmington and San Pedro Chambers of Commerce made an inspection of the proposed highway route yesterday. After a close study of the details of the proposed plan, the former believes that it is feasible and is justified as a part of the harbor development scheme.

The highway at present runs around the West Basin — the distance between Wilmington and San Pedro being three and a half miles. The new route would directly cross the West Basin by means of a steel drawbridge, cutting down the distance to 6000 feet. Its estimated cost is $225,000.

The San Pedro Chamber of Commerce will soon file with the Harbor Commission a petition asking that a portion of the harbor bond funds set aside for the development of the San Pedro section of the harbor be used for the construction of this short-line highway.

Upon receipt of this petition the Harbor Commission will ask the City Attorney for an opinion whether or not the commission has the power to use a portion of the harbor funds in this manner. The roadway proposed will be thirty feet wide with a paved surface constructed of materials to carry heavy auto truck traffic.

Don't Be Misled if You Have Tuberculosis

No specific has been discovered for Tuberculosis, but Eckman's Alterative has been successful in many cases Read of this case:

393 Seventh Ave., New York.

"Gentlemen: Five years ago last August I was taken to St. Francis' Hospital to be treated for bronchitis and congested lungs. After several weeks' treatment I was advised by the doctor to go to a convalescent sanitarium, but could not be admitted because the doctor at the hospital, after a thorough examination, declared my case Tubercular, and gave me a certificate to that effect. I showed the certificate to Father Stark, and he advised me to take Eckman's Alterative. I took it faithfully, and soon found myself free from night sweats and fever. I have not taken the Alterative now for two years, and can truthfully say I am well. I feel better and am stronger than before my sickness."

FREE BOOK ON DRINK HABIT

A well-known New Yorker, having been addicted to drink habit for sixteen years, and finding that it was putting him in the human scrap-heap, like so many thousands are ruined, found a means of quick and lasting riddance which he tells about in a book that he has published.

This book contains information of vital interest to drinkers, their wives and others who have tried in vain to conquer the habit by persuasion, pledges or medicines. It is not a temperate lecture, but an easy-reading narrative, well illustrated. The author, Edward J. Woods, 214 H. Station E, New York City, will send it free, in plain wrapper, postpaid, to any one answering this advertisement.
